Cawn't Bathe in Lake, What? Yes, But He Did

Benjamin Artz, 26-year-old artist, here from England by month, and Special Officer Chewings, who guards Hollywood Lake, became formally acquainted yesterday.

Artz went swimming in the lake. "I say, my man, you cawn't do that," said Special Officer Chewings.

"But I say—they do it in England, old toppie—what what," said the swimmer.

Special Officer Chewings quoted city ordinances with great brandishers and with a lot of "whereas" and "be it ordained" in it. It was overwhelming. Artz crawled out and dressed and went down to Hollywood police station with Special Officer Chewings.

His trial is set for today and he is out on $10 bail. He lives at the North McCadden Place, he told police.

Y.W.C.A. CONVENES TODAY AT ASILOMAR

Delegates from all Young Women's Christian Association branches in California will meet at Asilomar today to attend a three-day conference. Los Angeles will be represented by Miss Grace L. Coyle, general secretary; Miss Mary Bartel of the business girls' and industrial service department; Mrs. Elmore of the Twelfth-street branch, and Miss Ella Stevers, director of health education. Before departing for the conference, Miss Osborn announced the following have been elected officers for the year: Mrs. E. A. Doheran, president; Mrs. W. B. Matthews, first vice-president; Mr. John Rigdon Moore, second vice-president; Mrs. George W. Stimson, recording secretary; Miss Jessie C. Skewes, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Charles R. Smurr, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Sheppard, treasurer; Miss Daisy Moll, assistant treasurer, and Miss Mary W. Knapp, auditor.

WOMAN BIDS ADIEU TO GIRL AND SHOOTS SELF

Kissing her 12-year-old daughter good-by, Mrs. Dorothy Gardner, 4640 De Longpre avenue, last night went into her bedroom, closed the door and fired a shot through her left temple that is expected to prove fatal, according to police. Detective-Lieutenant Jaggers of the Hollywood station was told that the woman had been twice divorced and that she was contemplating marrying again. No motive was given and no note or message was left. She was taken to the Hollywood Hospital.

Will Rogers Remarks:

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am the first committee during this administration to turn in a report. I reported my findings of London to Prime Minister Borah today, and we decided it was cheaper to fight than confer. We had lunch with our genial Vice-President. The Cherokee and the Kaw sit down together, and for the first time the Cherokee didn't pay. He also fed Senators Watson, Couzens and Pat Harrison. We had Pat for argumentative purposes. Saw Miss Alice and got all the dope. In fact, saw everybody, and you know they looked great to me. You want to see some of these other legislative bodies and it makes you appreciate our boys. You know they are the nicest fellows in the world to meet. I sometimes really wonder if they realize the harm they do.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Soviet Papers in Mexico Seized

Federal Officials Assign Responsibility for Act to Local Authorities

Minister Allowed to Sail After Being Detained at Vera Cruz

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10. (AP)—Secret-service agents last night raided the soviet legation here, made a thorough search of all of the papers of Alexander Makar, departing Russian Minister, questioned the servants and arrested Juan Gongalez, a house servant.

The commercial attache's office was not touched. Legation employees said that various papers, including many personal calling-cards, were seized. They said the agents displayed credentials but did not show any written order for the search.

Makar today sent a telegram to Mexico City correspondents declaring that he had been arrested and held for three hours at Vera

PRESIDENT'S LINE BUSY

Hoover Catches Huge Sailfish

Seven-Footer of Forty-five Pounds Causes Battle Half-Hour Long

Executive Party Off Florida Keys Lives on Houseboat During Excursion

LONG KEY (Fla.) Feb. 10. (AP)—A huge sailfish, seven feet long, and weighing forty-five pounds, stood to President Hoover's credit in this little fishing camp tonight as a result of his first day of deep-sea fishing off the shores of the Florida keys.

Justice Stone, one of his fishing companions, reported that he had hooked a sailfish, which he believed to be larger than the President's, but that a shark had taken it off his line before he could land it.

There were some dissenting opinions in the camp particularly concerning that part of the story regarding the hungry shark.

Other members of the party who fished, including Lawrence Richey, one of the President's secretaries; Dr. Vernon Kellogg, and Mark Sullivan, newspaper man and writer, failed to get a strike. The haul for the whole camp totaled five sailfish, in addition to the President's, and two barracudas.

HALF-HOUR'S WORK

Mr. Hoover's statement made some months ago that all men were alike in the eyes of fish was somewhat belied by the fact that the biggest fish to be taken off the key today picked out the Presidential hook. The strike came soon after the angling began and the fish gave the Chief Executive a half-hour of extremely vigorous work before being landed.

Members of the party aboard the small boat from which Mr. Hoover was fishing said the President was dripping wet across the shoulders before he got his quarry aboard. At any rate he was satisfied for the day as he went aboard the houseboat Saunterer and did not leave again for the fishing ground.

The Chief Executive and his party arrived in Long Key before daylight after an uneventful trip from Washington. As soon as it was light Mr. Hoover and Mrs. Hoover left their private car which had been set off at the station and went aboard the Saunterer, the commodious houseboat of Jeremiah Millbank.

Mr. Hoover has chartered the craft for the week he plans to be here.

A small group of fishermen, mostly from New York, Philadelphia and Boston, gave the party a quiet but warm welcome. Upon reaching the houseboat, tied up only about 100 yards from the railroad station, Mr. Hoover paused for a few minutes for the photographers, urging them to "get along and let's get this over as I have more important things to do."

BREAKFAST ON BOAT

The immediate matter of importance turned out to be breakfast. The President, Mrs. Hoover, Justice Stone and Mrs. Stone, Mark Sullivan and Mrs. Sullivan and Dr. Vernon Kellogg ate on the Saunterer. Richey and Mrs. Richey, Dr. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, who also is a fisherman of note, and the White House attaches who came along, had breakfast aboard the Department of Commerce boat, The Kilkenny.

After breakfast Mr. Hoover donned a pair of white flannel trousers and a blue coat in which he did his fishing. While he was eating breakfast his trunk full of fishing tackle had been put aboard.

Today was the thirty-first wedding anniversary of the President and Mrs. Hoover but they made no formal observance of the day. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover never make a practice of celebrating birthdays or anniversaries, it was learned.

HUGE RUM RINGS CHARGED IN FEDERAL INDICTMENTS

Fleischmann Company Accused and 155 Individuals and Many Other Concerns Named in True Bills

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Feb. 10. (AP)—The Fleischmann Yeast Company and the Corn Products Refining Company, two nationally known manufacturing concerns, are charged with responsibility for production of large quantities of illicit sugar alcohol in indictments returned by the Federal grand jury here, it was learned today.

In twenty suppressed indictments, which asserted conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law, the grand jury has charged the two companies with furnishing large shipments of yeast and corn sugar to illicit distillers in the southern part of the State.

Dist.-Atty. Provine announced.

Far-reaching prosecution of other corn products and yeast companies in the Midwest, which are said to have conspired to violate dry laws by the sale of raw materials to distillers, was predicted by the District Attorney, who indicated that other suppressed indictments naming Iowa and Indiana corporations also have been returned.

"For the past few weeks we have heard the cry to get the higher-ups," Provine said. "This is our answer. When we are through with this case we will have a precedent for the treatment of concerns which are charged with supplying materials for the manufacture of alcohol."

In addition to the two corporations, sixteen asserted still operators of Benld and other towns in Southern Illinois were named in the conspiracy indictments. Authorities refused to reveal the names of these until arrests are made.

NATION-WIDE PLOT CHARGED IN INDICTMENTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—One hundred and fifty-five persons and thirty-one companies in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and numerous other cities were indicted by a Federal grand jury today on charges of violating the national prohibition law by means of a conspiracy, the operations of which extended from coast to coast.

The indictment set forth 287 overt acts in violation of the dry laws and gave as the basis for the conspiracy, the illegal diversion of more than 1,000,000 gallons of government alcohol during the last seven years.

Other cities involved in the ramifications of the accused alcohol syndicate, described as the most extensively operated conspiracy yet uncovered by the government, are Cleveland, St. Louis, Philadelphia, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Detroit, North Bergen and Newark, N. J.

All the concerns indicted either are now or once were in business requiring the use of alcohol in the manufacture of toilet articles, perfumes, medicines and similar products to which the government gave permits for withdrawing the alcohol. It is charged that much of the alcohol was diverted and redistilled for beverage purposes, and that several of the concerns operated merely as a blind or "coverhouse" for the syndicate.

Virtually all the 155 persons named in the indictment are connected in one way or another with the various concerns. The principal defendant, according to U. S. Dist.-Atty. Johnson is Anastossoff Srebren, an expert chemist, who discovered a process for treating government alcohol to make it suitable for beverage purposes.

Among the concerns reported named in the indictment are the Standard Laboratories, St. Louis; the Nipola Company, St. Paul, and the following concerns in New York: The Allied Drug and Chemical Company, Lourbert Cie, Inc., E. M. Lanning Company, Norda Essential Oil Company, C. H. Selick, Inc., Dee Drug Company and the Maiden Lane Drug Company.

The twenty-two other concerns are located in Chicago.

The conspiracy charged in the indictment is one of the most widespread of any the government has developed since prohibition. The method pursued by the conspiracy, government agents said, was comparatively simple. The alcohol was obtained from the government ostensibly for use in the manufacture of perfumes, toilet articles, medicinal remedies and similar products. The alcohol then passed through a chemical process which agents assert removed the denaturants.

Ten plants used in redistilling the government alcohol were seized.

Among the individuals indicted,

VAIL RANCHO LOSES SUIT

San Diego Water Case Decided

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) Rancho Santa Margarita by a decision of Superior Judge Jennings today won the right to 76 per cent of all the water of the Santa Margarita River.

To the Vail properties, defendants in the action which took twenty-nine months of trial work, goes only the remaining 24 per cent of the water, together with the flow of the Murietta Creek and a number of other tributaries, which, however, will add but little water to the defendant's share.

Gauges and meters were ordered installed by Judge Jennings at various points along the river and at all of the pumping plants on the Vail properties with which to measure the water taken above the Santa Margarita lands.

In the sweeping decision Judge Jennings held with the Santa Margarita interests in almost all of the major contentions and ruled against most of the theories of the Vail attorneys.

Judge Jennings took all day to announce his decision in the case, beginning at 10 a.m. and continuing until 4:30 this afternoon. Counsel for the Santa Margarita interests must now present findings based on the judge's decision within ten days and the defense lawyers will have five more days in which to suggest changes to be ruled upon by the court.

The lengthy decision held that the Vail ranches must hold to their own waters heds and also failed to agree with the Vail attorneys that a water plane beneath the Vail ranch supported the Santa Margarita River.

MEAD THEORY DENIED

A continuous water plane formed by what became known during the lengthy trial as the "Mead drop block theory," was disallowed by Judge Jennings. The Vail attorneys took many days of the court proceedings attempting to establish this theory, according to the transcripts.

The water rights of intervenors who appeared during the court action remain, under Judge Jennings's decision, the same as before. However, it was pointed out today that the amount of water concerned in the intervenor's claims is very small.

Judge Jennings began his lengthy decision by sweeping aside all "special defense" of the Vail property interests when he held that "silent acquiescence" on the part of the Santa Margarita ranch while the Vail interests invested some $150,000 in expanding pumping plants north of the county line, did not impair whatever legal claim the Santa Margarita Rancho might

FOOLPROOF PLANE DOES ALL STUNTS

But it Won't Tip Over or Go Into Spin, Germans at Demonstration Find Out

BERLIN, Feb. 10. (AP)—A "foolproof" plane which refuses to tip over or go into a tail spin was demonstrated before a large group of aeronautical experts and newspaper men at the Templehofer airport today.

The test was made by Herr Von Koeppen, director of the flying section of the German Aeronautical Testing Institute. Although Von Koeppen tried every conceivable stunt, the machine refused to tip over or tail spin either at full speed or with the motor retarded.

The plane which was developed by the Focke-Wulf Company and is known as "Habicht A-28" is a regular five-passenger machine with a special wing construction. It looks much like an ordinary plane and the wing differences are apparent only to experts.

Antarctica Base Hears Whaler Gets Word from Missing Explorer

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—The New York American in a copyrighted dispatch from the steamship Melville, Sir Hubert Wilkins's base at Deception Island, Antarctica, will say tomorrow that a whaling ship has sent a radio message announcing that it has heard from Sir Hubert.

The radio operator aboard the Melville has been unable to get in direct touch with the Scoresby, the ship on which Sir Hubert sailed two weeks ago from Deception Island to find a runway for further aerial exploration.

Two Men Killed and Dozen Cars Hit by Tractor

HOUSTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Two men were killed and a dozen automobiles damaged here today when a tractor ran wild.

A. McCarthy, who was driving the tractor, lost his balance and fell under the machine.

Wade Gatewood, walking along the street, tried to jump on the tractor and stop it, but he, too, lost his balance and fell, the tractor passing over his body.

The tractor, operated by the city, was being taken from one job to another.

BROCKTON (Mass.) Feb. 11. (AP) Four persons lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the City Farm early today. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition. The institution housed thirty-five inmates.

Honeymoon Pair Killed and Four Injured in Plane

MARDEN, KENT (Eng.) Feb. 10. (AP)—An English honeymoon couple were killed and four other persons were injured when a Goliath plane, bound from Paris to London, dived down to the emergency landing field here and burst into flames this afternoon.

A. Hodges, a naval school master 28 years of age, and his bride, 21, were killed in the wreck. They were married only last Wednesday.

Hugh Curson of Hull, Eng., and French Pilot Nevot, and two French mechanics, Albeaux and Lesollier, were injured. All of them were expected to recover.

Train Wreck Scheme Hinted

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Railroad and State authorities today are investigating an apparent attempt to wreck Southern Pacific Passenger Train No. 313, yesterday. The locomotive crew narrowly escaped death when the engine left loosened rails, but remained upright.

The chief dispatcher here said fourteen spikes had been pulled from the rails.

Parents Teach Striking Pupils

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Parents of fifty-seven pupils at the Burbank Junior High School today improvised class rooms in the Galewood Congregational Church and took over the responsibilities of teaching their own children rather than have them transferred to a distant school.

The move followed a march upon the Lovett school from which the children had been transferred. Parents said they would take over the former class rooms of their children by force if necessary but police repulsed the strikers.

Lost Fishermen Believed Dead

MARSHFIELD (Or.) Feb. 10. (AP) Hope for the lives of two fishermen, Capt. Louis Pederson and Andrew Foyam, who disappeared from the Coos Bay fishing boat Dawn on Thursday off Bandon, was abandoned today with the finding of two buoy kegs and life preservers from the vessel at South Bay, south of Bandon.

BYRD CAMP STACKS UP EQUIPMENT

Strong Winds May Delay City of New York Arrival Until Thursday

BY RUSSELL OWEN

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Boxes and bags are going out of the houses at the Byrd expedition camp here today in a stream. As fast as possible everything is being sledged to the other side of the bay so that there will be no delay in loading. The wind is blowing from the south today and it is a little below zero. Although the ice is not going out of the bay much has broken out on the western side so there is hope that a cove may be formed there between the bay ice and the barrier side of the bay in which the ship can lie protected from the easterly storms.

That would aid greatly in loading for at this time of year it is often necessary for a ship to pull away from the ice and cruise up and down until the swell permits tying up to the ice again. That would complicate loading.

The strong southerly winds and small packs around which the ship has to sail are delaying the New York somewhat, and it does not seem probable now that she will get here before Thursday. But when she does heave in sight everything to go aboard will be on the other side of the bay waiting for her and loading will not take long.

FACTIONS IN STRIKE END THEIR ROW

Two Riots and Killing in New York Dressmakers' Strife Mark Day

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) The most turbulent day of the dressmakers' strike which began with two riots involving left and right wing workers and an assault on an open-shop manufacturer who died from a fractured skull, ended this evening with a peaceful settlement of the dispute between the union and the "inside shop" manufacturers.

The union will delay settlement with the independents and will carry on the strike against the open-shop manufacturers who have resisted demands for union recognition.

Twenty-three arrests were made by the police as an aftermath of the mass picketing demonstration which they estimated involved 15,000 men and women.

The riots, in which knives were wielded and sawed-off billiard cues swung down on the heads of combatants, were asserted by the police to have been instigated by massed attacks by left-wing and Communist elements against the paraders, members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union. The incident which resulted in the death of Jacob Rothenberg, an open-shop dress manufacturer, grew out of a riot in front of a Broadway building. Rothenberg, a member of Anna Scheer-Rothenberg, Inc., suffered a fractured skull when he fell to the sidewalk after being struck on the jaw. Irving Ashkanas, a chauffeur, was locked up charged with homicide.

CHICAGO VICE LORDS FREE

Gang Leaders Still Elude Arrest in Determined Law and Order Drive on Crime

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Police cells tonight housed sixty persons of doubtful character of the 917 arrested by police over the week-end in answer to public demand to curb crime.

Of the total 569 were released because of no criminal record, 288 were arraigned in twelve municipal courts and 286 released or taxed small fines on minor charges, twenty-two were held on continuances for action of the grand jury on charges of carrying concealed weapons, and the sixty still in the cells are being held without charges for further investigation. No gang leaders were arrested.

The police plan to arrest and re-arrest hoodlums until they decide Chicago police are too pestiferous to make residence here desirable—and tonight the "rearrests" were awaited.

"Unless the drive is continued day by day, week by week and month by month, it will do Chicago no permanent good," said Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Col. Randolph is the head of a new secret vigilance committee, which is expected to voice the public wrath against the criminal enemy.

What the committee will do about the situation is to be known when it makes its first report to the Association of Commerce on the 24th inst. Whatever the action it decides upon will be backed by the vast wealth and influence of Chicago's legitimate business, Col. Randolph said.

Acting Chief Justice McGoerty of the Criminal Court, told the grand jury, which is to hear the charges against the gun-toters, to assist prosecutors "fearlessly to the end that the fair name of Chicago will be restored."

State's Attorney Swanson instructed his assistants to use an almost forgotten statute in the prosecution of several of the men caught with guns. The statute provides a pen-

EMPLOYMENT ROW IN SENATE

Dispute Marks Rejection of Free-Brick Move

Assaults on Administration Met by Denials

Tie Vote Defeats Effort for Tariff Elimination

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Senate today declined by a tie vote to return building brick to the free list, during a session on the tariff bill which was marked by charges and denials that the Republican administration is failing to meet unemployment and general business problems.

The vote on brick, the most important of the day, came on a proposal of Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, to eliminate the proposed tariff of $1.25 a thousand on plain and $1.50 on glazed brick. A tie, 36 to 36, resulted, and the amendment was rejected. Barkley served notice he will demand a separate vote later.

Eleven Republicans and twenty-five Democrats voted for free bricks, while thirty-two Republicans and four Democrats favored a duty.

UNEMPLOYMENT QUESTION

Unemployment conditions were brought to the fore for the second time within a week when Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, arguing for protection for the brick industry, asserted more workers will be thrown out of employment in the Hudson River district if a tariff is denied the brick producers.

Previously, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, had asserted that business is "lagging" and in a state of uncertainty as to orders in view of the long tariff debate. He urged speedy action and was joined in this plea by leaders on all other factions.

Seizing on the point raised by Copeland, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, asserted the Democratic party has a "very excellence chance to win the next election, if it uses care and does not go to extremes during the consideration of the pending bill and will take advantage of the general discontent in this country that is prevailing in all quarters."

WALSH'S EXPECTATIONS

Walsh said he expects this discontent to be reflected in the special Congressional election in Massachusetts tomorrow.

"That situation," he said, "grows out of the fact that there is a feeling that the administration here has not taken cognizance of the conditions that exist in this country; that it has not shown sympathy with the unemployment problem and the business depression problem and has not taken the leadership that it ought to take in seeking at least to express sympathy and understanding, if not actually obtaining some remedial legislation."

Replying, Senator Gillett, Republican, Massachusetts, said it was a "gross misstatement" to say the administration has done nothing regarding unemployment.

"I think the effort of the President to bring the business men of the country together and try to prevent the distress and unemployment which was threatened," he asserted, "is one of the greatest constructive acts toward employment and to prevent further distress that has ever been taken by any President."

MEXICANS SEIZE SOVIET PAPERS

Cruz during which time the diplomatic seals on his trunks were broken and many papers taken out. He said he was energetically protesting against "this unspeakable violation of diplomatic rights and this incredible assault by official persons against me as a diplomat."

Foreign Minister Estrada tonight said he had ordered the papers and documents seized in Makar's luggage at Vera Cruz returned to him. No obstacles had been placed in the way of M. Makar's sailing for home today, he said.

Pointing out that the Russian Legation here no longer enjoys official status, he said the raid yesterday was the affair of the police and the Department of the Interior.

PUT UP TO POLICE

Secretary of the Interior Portes Gil said that the detention of M. Makar at Vera Cruz and the search of his baggage were entirely due to unauthorized action by the local police. The Federal authorities had had no part in it.

He refused to comment on the legation raid, other than to say that the Department of the Interior had nothing to do with it.

MAKAR SAILS FOR EUROPE ABOARD FRENCH LINER

VERA CRUZ (Mex.) Feb. 10. (AP) Alexander Makar, Russian Minister to Mexico until the recent break in diplomatic relations between the two countries, sailed for Europe aboard the French liner La Bordelaise this evening. No effort was made to interfere with his departure.

The ex-Minister attacked the police for "violation of diplomatic rights," charging that they had held him and his wife for three hours yesterday and after breaking diplomatic seals on his trunks had taken out papers.

Farmer Slays Three and Self

COVINGTON (Ga.) Feb. 10. (AP) Roger Smith, 40-year-old farmer, shot and killed his three children and then himself at his home today. His wife was in a barn milking.

The slain children, 3, 7 and 9 years of age, were Smith's by a former marriage. Mrs. Smith's two children by a former marriage were not molested.

FOREIGN TOURISTS GAIN

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 10. (AP)—W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, announced today that 4,508,808 foreign automobiles carried tourists into Canada during 1929. This was an increase of 863,353 cars over 1928.

PACELLI SUCCEEDS GASPARRI

New Secretary of State in Vatican Takes Up Duties as Veteran Steps Out

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10. (AP)—Cardinal Pacelli today formally took over the office of Secretary of State for the Vatican state. He was received by Pope Pius early this morning and immediately thereafter commenced his functions, relieving Cardinal Gasparri.

Shortly after assuming office Cardinal Pacelli greeted the retiring Secretary of State, under whose tenure the Lateran treaties, establishing the peace of the Holy See and the Italian state, were consummated.

Cardinal Gasparri's retirement came on the eve of the first anniversary of the signing of the Lateran accord. Just as the signing of the Lateran accord marked a tremendous step forward in the relations of the Holy See and the quirinal so the past year has seemed to clear up many of the misunderstandings between the two governments, a situation largely credited to the outgoing Cardinal.

Cardinal Pacelli until recently has been Papal Nuncio at Berlin. While there he made a notable record for himself as a diplomat. He returned to Rome recently to be made a cardinal and remained to learn something of the office of which Cardinal Gasparri wished to be relieved because of increasing age and poor health.

LARGE NEW YORK HOSTELRY RAIDED

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—As the result of a raid tonight by more than a score of Federal prohibition agents upon the Hotel Manger, Maj. Maurice Campbell, prohibition administrator for the New York district, announced he will seek to have the entire hotel padlocked.

Thirteen persons were arrested in the raid on the hotel, which is situated at Fiftieth street and Seventh avenue, and is one of New York's largest. Maj. Campbell said warrants for the arrest of nine other persons will be obtained.

SEVERAL INDICTED IN DIVERSION CASE

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10. (AP)—Three former Federal prohibition agents, four employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad, an unidentified man, three officers of the Glenwood Industrial Distilling Company and the company itself were indicted by a Federal grand jury today.

The men were named in connection with the diversion of 115,000 gallons of ethyl alcohol, valued at $1,000,000, which is said to have gotten into bootleg channels during the last two years by means of a cent a gallon bribe.

DAY WILL RUN AGAIN FOR CONGRESS SEAT

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—A third attempt to win the Republican nomination for Congressman-at-large will be made in the April primary by Stephen A. Day, son of William R. Day, former associate justice of the Supreme Court and Secretary of State in President McKinley's Cabinet. In 1920 Day ran second in Cook county, including Chicago, to the late William E. Mason.

have to riparian rights to the river bearing its name.

Two great Southern California ranches fighting for almost all of the waters of the Santa Margarita River, one of the few, if not the only, river in San Diego county of perennial flow, brought about this court action which developed into one of the longest-contest litigations in American court records. In other respects also record after record surrounding court litigation fell by the wayside as this case, which means millions of dollars to the winner, dragged through its astonishing course.

In the action the Rancho Santa Margarita, a California corporation, appeared as the plaintiff with the Vail company in the role of defendant. Husaker, Britt — Cosgrove, Los Angeles attorneys, represented the plaintiff, while Stephens & Stephens, Haas & Dunnigan and O'Melveny, Milliken & Tuller, also of Los Angeles, together with Wright & McKee and Ward, Ward & Ward of this city appeared for the defendants.

Court records show that the complaint was filed and summons issued on August 22, 1924. Arguments on motions, temporary injunctions, amended pleadings, answers and other like matters were disposed of and on October 18, 1926, the case got under way before Judge Jennings of the Superior Court in San Diego. It continued thereafter until February 28, 1929.

A check-up on the court proceedings shows that 444 court days were used without interruption, except the yearly vacation periods of the trial judge and the nonjudicial days provided for by law, to present the evidence in the case and to hear argument of counsel.

ARMY OF WITNESSES

Fifty days were taken to introduce the plaintiff's evidence and testimony and the defendant required 180 days to present his side of the various issues. Forty-four days were given over to argument, ten at the commencement of the case and the balance at the end. Walter Haas, who handled almost all the court work for the defendant talked for fifteen full days, E. W. Britt for the plaintiff spoke in argument for a little more than two days and T. B. Cosgrove completed the case for the Rancho Santa Margarita with twelve days of argument.

In all 195 witnesses were called, sixty-four for the plaintiff and 125 by the Vail company. Then six witnesses were questioned on behalf of the intervenors, of whom there were several. Exhibits totaling 2201 were introduced with 760 coming from the plaintiff and 1375 from the defendant, while the intervenors put sixty-six into the records.

F. C. Finkle, consulting and hydraulic engineer, appearing for the plaintiff, was on the witness stand under cross-examination for forty-four days. This cross-examination is only one of the many records established by the remarkable case. Mr. Haas did the examining. This cross-examination took only six days less to complete than the entire plaintiff's case.

A grand total of 55,171 pages of transcript were used to transcribe the testimony. The reporting was done by Fred H. Robinson, veteran Southern California court reporter. He was assisted by Fred A. Shapley and others and the reporter's fee amounted to $51,096.80. The transcript for the entire case was bound into 444 thick volumes.

COURSE OF RIVER

The Santa Margarita River, over the flow of which this amazing court battle was fought, rises on the easterly and northeasterly slopes of the Agua Tibia range of mountains, Palomar being the highest peak. The various tributaries constituting the head waters coming mostly from San Diego county, but some from Riverside county, and flow about twenty miles before entering the lands of either of the parties involved in this action. Maps show the stream flowing about twenty miles across the Vail holdings, then for about ten miles down the Temecula Gorge and then into the Rancho Santa Margarita.

The evidence was that, when not artificially interfered with, the normal summer flow of the stream is in excess of 500 miner's inches. In periods of normal flood flow the discharge is from 15,000 to 25,000 second feet and in periods of extraordinary rainfall the run-off is in excess of 60,000 second feet. The mouth of the river is on the plaintiff's property, about ten miles north of Oceanside, San Diego county.

The Santa Margarita Rancho asserted in its action that for the past half century the ranch had been supplied from approximately May 1 to October 31 from the normal and customary flow of the stream. The water was used on the lands riparian to the river for irrigation, pasturing of cattle, the supplying of reservoir storage and truck gardening. The Vail Company, the plaintiff alleged, installed numerous diversions and an extensive irrigation system and during 1923 proceeded to divert the entire surface flow of the stream. The suit was then instituted with the plaintiff claiming 81½ per cent of the water and the defendants claiming 65 per cent. Records show that in the original pleadings the Rancho Santa Margarita claimed six-sevenths of the water and the Vails five-sevenths.

The Vail company contested the claims of the plaintiff by declaring and introducing testimony to show that their property was underlaid by a continuous water plane in contact with the surface streams and supporting the same. If proven this would make all of the Vail lands riparian to the Temecula Creek, as the Santa Margarita River is now near its head waters.

Much testimony, based upon a staggering amount of field work during the course of which more than sixty wells of varying depths up to 600 feet, were sunk on both ranches, was introduced into the records by Roy G. Mead, defense geologist, and Willis S. Jones and A. L. Sonderegger, hydrologists, all tending to establish as a fact what became known during the trial as the "Mead Drop Block Theory" of a continuous underlaid water plane.

With its investigation in charge of C. F. Tolman, professor of geology at Stanford University and Mr. Finkle, the opposing side attacked and denied the "Mead Drop Block Theory," and over this question arose the bitterest battle of the trial.

PROBLEMS FOR EXPERTS

Some of the causes for the protracted trial, it developed, were the extensive tracts of land involved with neither property fully developed and therefore crops susceptible of growth under irrigation requiring extensive investigation and study of climatology, soil types and analyses.

During the case the irrigable acreage, the crops susceptible of irrigation and cultivation, the duty of water for these crops and the length of the growing season, the principal things involved in the apportionment of water, had to be settled as to each ranch and most of these questions had to be decided by experts after personal investigation of many weeks because of the lack of development of the various tracts of lands under discussion.

Experts testifying for the Vail company declared that, bounded by four major earthquake faults, a continuous underground water plane in contact with surface streams underlies their property. The drop block or underground water plane was formed, the experts contended, thousands of years ago when as a result of the earthquake faults the entire section of land involved dropped many feet. It was to test this theory that the many wells were sunk both by the experts for the Vail company and by the plaintiffs. Every expert for the Rancho Santa Margarita contested the Mead theory.

HISTORIC RANCHES

The two ranches involved are among the largest in Southern California. The Rancho Santa Margarita consists of two Mexican grants, the Santa Margarita y Las Flores of 133,440.78 acres and the Mission Viejo which consists of 80,000. The first grant was made by the Mexican government to Pio Pico, once Mexican Governor of California. Gov. Pico's successor in interest was Don Juan Forster from whom the property was purchased in 1882 by James L. Flood, Sr., and Richard O'Neill. The price was $350,000.

This property, the record books show, has a frontage of twenty-two miles on the Pacific Ocean extending approximately from Oceanside to the city of San Clemente and runs from the ocean into the interior from twenty to twenty-five miles. It was originally, and still is, extensively used as a cattle ranch although 40,000 acres are riparian to the stream and approximately 25,000 acres are irrigable. The present value of the rancch has never been fixed.

The Vail holdings consist of four Mexican grants. They are the Pauba Grant, Temecula Grant, Little Temecula Grant and the Santa Rosa Grant. The four parcels, all lying in Riverside county, amount to close to 100,000 acres. The land came into the possession of the present owners between 1904 and 1917 and is given over principally to stock raising.

In the valley of the Santa Margarita River, known on the Vail holdings as the Temecula River or creek, huge acreages have been given over to alfalfa and truck farming. The river flows through the Vail ranch for approximately twenty miles.

The cost of this staggering litigation to the contesting parties has not been made public, but it has been estimated several times at approximately $1,000,000. Attorneys Britt and Cosgrove, who handled all of the court work for the plaintiff, and Attorneys Haas and John Ward, who conducted the case for the defendant, all assert the benefit to the winner will many times more than cover the costs.

As a part of the crime drive, Police Commissioner William Russell transferred three police captains and made several minor changes in the department.

On the heels of the week-end drive one man was shot and a woman cashier was robbed of $2100 today. The wounded man is Dr. Hilbert Kreeger, a dentist. He was shot in the wrist during an exchange with two men who jumped on the running-board of his automobile and attempted to rob him.

The woman cashier, Miss Emily Cohen, 22 years of age, was seized by two men at noon in view of crowds at an elevated station. They snatched her purse and fled.

MESSAGE SAVES DOG CASTAWAY

Traveler on Train Beholds Plight of Canine and Wires Rescuer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP) A telegram from Richmond, Va., brought about the rescue of a dog from a block of ice floating in the Potomac River here.

J. F. Richmond saw the dog on the tiny frozen island as he crossed the river on a train bound for Richmond. The memory of the animal and its plight stayed with him until he reached the Virginia city and he telegraphed to a brother who headed a rescue party.

SENATOR NORRIS SCORES HUGHES

Chief Justice Nomination Confirmation Blocked

Former Judge Accused of Favoring Monopolies

Support, However, Indicates Favorable Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Opposition to the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes to be Chief Justice was expressed in the Senate today by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and a vote on confirmation went over until tomorrow after he had read a lengthy statement setting forth his objections.

Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolinia, blocked the vote on confirmation. He later explained that he wanted first to receive a certificate from the physicians of William Howard Taft as to the condition of the former Chief Justice, whom he has urged be reappointed.

SUPPORT HEAVY

Overwhelming support for Hughes, however, was believed to be indicated in the solid line-up of Democrats on the Judiciary Committee earlier today for a favorable report on the nomination. That committee voted 10-to-2 to report the nomination to the Senate, with Chairman Norris and Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, opposing. Six Republicans and four Democrats on the committee voted for the report.

Senator Watson, Indiana, the Republican leader, sought immediate action when Senator Norris officially advised the Senate of the action late in the day. Senator Blease demanded it go over until tomorrow.

BROKER PROTESTS

Senator Norris based his objections to Hughes, whose ability he acknowledged, on the fact that he had left the Supreme Court to run for President, and was now returning to that bench; and because he felt Mr. Hughes "looks through glasses contaminated by the influence of monopoly as it seeks to get favors by means which are denied to the commons."

The Judiciary Committee listened today to a letter of protest on Hughes written by Henry L. Doherty, New York oil broker, and head of the Cities Service Company, but his request for an investigation went unheeded. Doherty spoke of the employment of Hughes by the directors of the Petroleum Institute. He also spoke of a political scheme whereby he said President Hoover's supporters were moving to elect the son of Mr. Hughes as Governor of New York.

BOLL WORM FUND RAISED BY ARIZONA

Business Men Underwrite $500,000 Guaranty Needed to Obtain Federal Aid

PHOENIX, Feb. 10. (AP)—Cotton boll worm eradication in the Salt River Valley was virtually assured this afternoon, when Arizona industries banded together to guarantee that the State's half of funds advanced by the government for compensation this year will be repaid.

Completion of the guaranty will release immediately government funds of more than $3,000,000 for the eradication of pink boll worm from the valley. Of this sum $587,500 will be expended during the next three months in the fight against the pest. Congress last week appropriated this sum to clean up the infested areas in the East Salt River Valley, to be handled and paid for by the government.

Those closely in touch with the situation predict that approximately 1500 men will be employed in the eradication work.

After valley industrial firms and agricultural organizations had pledged $170,000 of the $500,000 guaranty necessary before government funds for compensation will become available, representatives of railroads and mining companies of the State announced they would underwrite the remainder.

Negro and White Fiancee Denied License to Wed

SPOKANE, Feb. 10. (AP)—Antonio Biggs, negro, and Cecil Robinson, white girl, were denied a marriage license today at the County Auditor's office.

While there is no law in Washington forbidding such a marriage, Acting County Auditor Glover said the County Auditor "has the right to ascertain whether the mentality of applicants for marriage licenses is sound, and I can but question the acts of a white woman that will marry a negro."

Biggs said it was an outrage and he will be married in another county.

Bail Refused in Dope Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeal today denied freedom on bail to Antone (Black Tony) Paramgini and William Levin pending determination of their appeal from conviction in Federal District Court on charges of narcotic-law violations.

The court indicated action on the appeal will be taken during the present session.

BANKS WILL BE PUT UNDER LENS

House Quiz Voted for Branch and Chain Institutions

Witnesses and Files to be Called at Hearing

Bitter Charges Hurled at Morgan Company

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—A sweeping Congressional investigation of branch and chain banking, to be undertaken by the House Banking Committee, was ordered today by the House. The committee will meet next week to map out its program for the inquiry.

The investigation, already approved by the administration, will seek to ascertain whether chain and branch banks encroach on small individual banks. The Banking Committee so far has been unable to obtain information necessary to formulate legislation to govern branch and chain banking because certain bankers requested to appear have declined to furnish it. Under the resolution adopted by the House, the committee has authority to summon witnesses and files.

In his speech on the floor, Chairman McFadden of the committee charged the Federal Reserve System is being used by the J. P. Morgan & Co. in organizing the International Bank of Settlements despite an official announcement by Secretary Stimson of the State Department that neither the reserve system nor the New York Federal Reserve Bank would be formally represented on the board of the new institution.

A band of "special under-cover investigators" working out of Washington, has for the past week, been striving to gain entry and, evidence in such smart and aristocratic clubs as the Racquet and Tennis, Union, Metropolitan and Brook, it was learned tonight.

NAVAL PARLEY FORGES AHEAD

MacDonald Reports Progress "on All Fronts"

Plenary Session Today Will Deal With Submarines

America and Britain Seek Ban on Subsea Craft

LONDON, Feb. 10. (AP)—While preparing to attack submarine warfare at tomorrow's plenary session, the five-power naval conference today continued "to make progress on all fronts," as Ramsay MacDonald put it. The British Prime Minister thus paraphrased a familiar communique of World War days in his declaration to the House of Commons on the state of London disarmament negotiations.

He referred for one thing to the progress on an important phase of conference work which for years has been a stumbling block to disarmament. It was practically completed today with a compromise of global and category tonnage theories worked out by a committee of experts and ready to be turned over to the chief delegates, who expect to receive it at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

LINE-UP ON ISSUE

The question of submarines is overshadowing all others on the eve of the plenary session wherein Great Britain and the United States will declare for abolition of under-water craft. Italy probably will support their argument in principle against France and Japan.

The realization of French and Japanese opposition in the conference, where all decisions must be unanimous, renders tomorrow's efforts for abolition merely academic debate. Great Britain and the United States will center their efforts on a resolution to "humanize" submarine warfare, and Britain, with MacDonald as first spokesman, will have the opening shot in the discussion.

The American delegates are standing pat on their demand for 135,000 tons of aircraft carriers, as opposed to the British proposal that tonnage be limited to 100,000 for the United States and Great Britain.

The United States possesses 66,000 tons now. Her position is that aircraft carriers are in the experimental stages and that an additional tonnage of only 34,000 will not be sufficient to get the full value out of the experiment.

Another small cloud has appeared in the blue skies of the Anglo-American conference situation with confirmation of the report that the United States proposes to request the right to build a battleship of the British Rodney type—33,900 tons—in order to make Anglo-American parity a reality.

PROBLEM FOR EXPERTS

British naval circles have received the suggestion with anything but enthusiasm. Officially the British delegation claims no knowledge of it, but accepting confirmation from American quarters a British spokesman said tonight that the American and British delegations understood each other's problems far too well to permit the American proposal to cloud the good relations which exist in London.

The proposal has given rise to one of those technical arguments about parity in which naval experts can prove a case for either side. The American contention is that instead of scrapping three old capital ships, four should be scrapped and one modern capital ship constructed, this to embody the latest construction features and thus give the United States fifteen battleships. That is the same number Great Britain would have after scrapping five ships.

The American thesis is that the new ship is necessary to make parity in this class of warships a reality, but it is understood that the American proposal is more for the right to build a new capital ship than for any actual intention of laying it down.

Oakland Graft Charges Hurled

OAKLAND, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) A story characterized by Dist.-Atty. Warren of Alameda county as "the most amazing tale of graft and corruption ever related to a grand jury," was detailed today by Ernest Q. Norman, admitted former Oakland "fixer" and grafter, brought from Las Vegas, Nev., to testify in the Alameda county paving-scandal investigation.

Norman, admitting he had fixed paving contracts, slot-machine concessions and rum-selling plots, freely used the names of Oakland city officials and Alameda county deputy sheriffs, and accused them of accepting and soliciting graft in many lines of underworld endeavor.

LUNACY ACTION FACING FASTER

Ohio Prisoner Continues to Refuse Food

Severe Measures to be Used to Make Him Eat

Hunger Strike Protest on Mashing Fine

WARREN (O.) Feb. 10. (NANA) While the hunger strike of Richard Stewart has been the chief subject of public interest in this section of Ohio for the last three weeks, it became secondary tonight after the announcement of Sheriff Risher that if his prisoner doesn't start eating within the next twenty-four hours "severe action will be taken."

The Sheriff gave no intimation of just what he means by severe action, but it is thought that a lunacy affidavit will be filed in the probate court unless Stewart breaks his fast.

Twenty-six days ago tonight Richard Stewart, a rug merchant, began a hunger strike in the City Jail. Since then he has lost an average of one pound a day. His eyes are sunken and his face is sallow. He has refused a shave and now has a heavy beard which does not add to his personal appearance.

A physical examination, however, made a few days ago by Coroner Henshaw disclosed nothing wrong with the man. His pulse is normal and he has no fever. But, according to the Coroner, Stewart is not as physically fit as he was when he first entered the jail.

"Stewart's fast is becoming annoying," the Sheriff says. "I do not want to be held responsible for the result if he don't eat soon."

Stewart began his fast on January 16, after he was fined $200 and costs by Police Judge C. B. Perry on a charge of molesting a woman in his rug store. The merchant refused to pay the fine and after being kept in the City Jail for a short time he was sent to the County Jail, where he now is and where accommodations for prisoners are better.

"I was framed into the sentence," the rug merchant continues to tell Sheriff Risher. "Police Judge Perry should never have fined me. I'm going to fast until the judge is punished for this inhuman act."

MEXICAN QUOTA PERIL INDICATED

Southwestern Crop Change Declared Inevitable

Growers Would be Driven to Cereal Raising

Chairman Legge Testifies at House Hearing

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—If southwestern growers cannot get sufficient Mexican labor to make their fruit and vegetable industries profitable they will disastrously turn again to cereals, one of the crops on which the Federal Farm Board is bending every effort to reduce acreage due to vast overproduction, Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board told the House Committee on Immigration today when he appeared before that body in opposition to pending restrictive immigration legislation, and in support of a nation-wide agricultural labor survey by an unbiased fact-finding commission.

The admittance of seasonable labor under permit, Mr. Legge suggested, is a possible solution to the problem.

"Many fruit and vegetable growers in the Southwest have from time to time expressed to different members of the Farm Board their concern over how they are to meet the labor problem if a low immigration quota is applied to Mexico.

The kind of labor required is never very attractive because stooping, bending and working on the knees is involved in cultivating the kind of crops which these people raise. In this area it is particularly difficult because of the extreme heat during much of the growing season. In some sections, particularly in the Imperial Valley, this condition is so intensive that the average American-born labor simply cannot stand the work which has to be done."

COTTON SITUATION

Challenged by one of the committee members on this statement, Chairman Legge said that, while there undoubtedly is unemployment in and around Los Angeles, he had been told that it is impossible to get "stoop labor" from this class of the unemployed.

Representative Box, co-author of the pending legislation to cut Mexican immigration to about 2000 annually, immediately raised the cotton question, asking how the Farm Board hopes to cut down the cotton acreage if they encourage an inflow of Mexicans to work on proposed new cotton acreage. He charged that Mexicans work for large landowners to the detriment of the small farmer.

Overproduction of cotton is worse than wheat, Mr. Legge admitted, but said that his main interest is centered on the fruit and vegetable growers. Mr. Legge told the committee he felt Mr. Box is overemphasizing conditions in West Texas where machine picking is customary. Mr. Box replied that he had been there recently and had seen "just drove after drove of Mexicans."

COTTON COMPETITION

"If they could not get labor for the cotton fields it would not be a calamity from our point of view," Mr. Legge said, referring to the drive of the Farm Board to reduce overproduction of this commodity.

Foreign competition, he told the committee, has increased more than 4,000,000 bales annually, while the United States stood still on production and United States cotton is steadily decreasing in quality.

Mr. Legge said that the solution to overproduction in cotton would be by concerted action of the growers, not by such legislation as is pending before the committee.

"Soviet Russia," he told the committee, "does not allow, under heavy penalty, its cotton farmers to plant their own seed. The government furnishes a superior seed and the quality of Russian cotton has steadily improved. But I do not recommend such action on the part of this country. What can be used in one place cannot always be used in another."

SITUATIONS COMPARED

"Perhaps the most nearly comparable situation to the present agricultural labor conditions in the Southwest," Mr. Legge concluded, "is the position of the employers of foundry labor when the immigration restrictions from Europe were first put in effect. This was another class of labor to which the American-born boy did not take kindly. In most sections of the country the foundry labor was very largely foreign born. The employers of foundry labor have worked this out in part by substitution of mechanical equipment, and perhaps to a greater extent by substitutions of forgings, stampings and press work in the making of parts for which castings formerly were used.

"In the case of these agricultural employers, however, so far very little has been accomplished in the replacing of 'stoop' labor by any mechanical process. The weeding and thinning of root crops is something on which very little, if anything, has been, or, so far as I can see, can be, accomplished through mechanical equipment. Therefore, for this class of production the grower is still dependent almost wholly on hand labor, which he must obtain from some source."

DOMESTIC LABOR

Mr. Legge also stated that he thought it would be possible to buy up many foundries for the price of the real estate, as hundreds had been forced out of business by the adoption of stamping processes and lack of foreign labor.

Following Mr. Legge, J. H. Patten, Washington representative of the Immigration Restriction League and South Carolina cotton interests, filed a report from his organization favoring the passage of the Johnson-Box-Bacon bill to restrict immigration from the countries in the Western Hemisphere. He told the committee that he was sure 100,000 men in South Carolina could be mobilized today for field work at $1 a day wage.

LAMONT FINDS BUSINESS GOOD

Industry at Normal Level, Survey Discloses

January and February Low Periods Not Unusual

Unemployment Less Than Generally Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Approximately normal level in the production and distribution of commodities in the United States for this season was announced today by Secretary Lamont after a study of business survey data received at the Department of Commerce.

He asserted also a conviction that the unemployment situation is more favorable than might have been expected in view of the stock market slump last fall.

"It is to be remembered that January and February represent rather low point periods in the calendar schedule of American business," Secretary Lamont said.

"They are stock-taking periods for most large corporations and are not the months in which enterprises are usually extended.

"However, we are having pretty good reports from constructions and from productions generally, and there is ground for assuming that this is about the normal year.

"One of the difficulties in the way of general realization of that fact is that our statistics as to business now coming out have to be compared with 1929 conditions and it is obvious that 1929 presented the picture of abnormally stimulated industry in almost every line."

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper figure eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful figure.

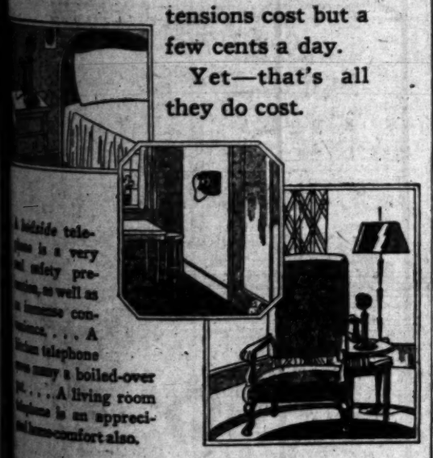
If husbands spent their days in the home . . . all homes would have Extension Telephones

IT WOULD be a good thing for husbands to stay home and do the housework for a week—just to see how many steps the woman of the house must take.

Very early they would call the business office of the telephone company and say "Come and install extension telephones!"

They would do this even before they found that extensions cost but a few cents a day.

Yet—that's all they do cost.



A bedside telephone is a very real safety precaution, as well as a immense convenience. . . . A kitchen telephone may save a boiled-over pot. . . . A living room telephone is an appreciated home-comfort also.

He's building his bones and teeth now
—and he needs special help

THE time to help baby build good bones and teeth is during the first months of his life," physicians are agreed. He must have special protection though he is breast-fed. Otherwise he may have the finely-shaped head you want him to have, the full rounded legs, and sound, unspoiled teeth that will not decay.

Nature provides this protection for baby in two ways. In mother's milk and cod-liver oil! Baby's mother would keep baby safe, if he could get enough sun on his bare body. But sun is not possible on account of cloudy days, fog and smoke. Ordinary window glass filters out the rays that protect.

The use of Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil—then, is urged as the sure protection.

The country's leading specialists advise the use of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They prefer it because they know they can depend on its high vitamin content.

Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is very rich in Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" which helps to build good bones and teeth, and also in Vitamin A which promotes normal growth and increases resistance to infections.

When you choose Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil, you are using a vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil. Be sure to insist on Squibb's. At all reliable drug stores. Plain and Mint-flavored.

SENATE HEARS ECHO OF RIOTS

Filipinos Broach Subject in Independence Pleas

Watsonville Youths to Face Superior Court Trial

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The problem of racial cleavage, long avoided by those discussing the Philippine independence question before the Senate Territories Committee hearings on the King bill for immediate independence, was frankly broached today by Felipe Mabilangan, student witness, and Dr. Hilario Camino Moncado, president of the Filipino Federation of America.

Mabilangan argued that Americans would have to admit the Filipino to social equality, and therefore should not insist upon maintenance of the present unsatisfactory political relation.

CITES COAST RIOTS

Dr. Moncado said his organization represents a total of 22,000 Filipinos in Hawaii and on the Pacific Coast, where 65,000 Filipinos reside.

"Most of them now in the United States came to educate themselves," he said, "but they found they were looked upon with antagonism by American laborers."

He declared that the recent Watsonville (Cal.) riots in which one Filipino was killed were a bitter example of the trend to exclude the Filipino from this country. Independence, he asserted, will be the only fair way to keep Filipinos from coming here, as they come here now under the rights of peoples living beneath the American flag.

OTHER WITNESSES

Other witnesses heard today were D. F. Webster, vice-president of the Pacific Commercial Company, which distributes American goods in the island, and who favors thirty years more of American rule before placing the islands on a progressive tariff autonomy basis; J. S. McDaniel of the Cordage Institute of New York, who said the American cordage industry will be ruined unless tariff barriers are erected against an independent Philippines, and J. H. Pardee, president of the Philippine Railway and Manila Electric Company.

Pardee's recommendation was for increased political autonomy in the islands, without alternation of the relationship which allows free trade between the Philippines and the United States.

WATSONVILLE BOYS HELD FOR RIOT TRIAL

WATSONVILLE, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Eight Watsonville young men accused of rioting during the recent Filipino disorders were ordered held to the Superior Court tonight by Justice Rowback. Although he refused to reduce bail from $1000 each, he expressed the hope the higher court will be lenient with the defendants. Those who must face trial are Robert Smith, Ramon Davis, George Barnes, Theodore Spangler, George Sias, Charles Morrison, Fred Majors and Edward Fry.

The action came after a heated court session in which A. Q. Lomba, defense attorney, accused Dist.-Atty. Warth of Monterey county of "passing over unnoticed half a dozen cases of Filipinos contributing to the delinquency of minor white girls" and "picking on these youths, who are guilty of nothing more than a boyish prank."

The youths are accused of threatening Filipinos with a gun after breaking into a bunk house by force on the Andrew Storm ranch. After the asserted raid, the body of a Filipino lettuce picker was found dead from a bullet wound.

Inquiry Voted on Florida Fund

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The House today passed a resolution authorizing a subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee to make a personal investigation in Florida of past and pending expenditures of funds in the Florida Mediterranean fruit-fly eradication campaign.

Outside of the fact that Chairman Wood, leading opponent of President Hoover's recommendation that $15,000,000 be appropriated to continue the eradication program will personally head the subcommittee on its Florida jaunt, the membership of that body has not yet been determined.

Life Net Leap Missed by Girl

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—While a crowd estimated at 5000 looked on Margaret Paine, 25 years of age, one of about 200 employes of seven different firms trapped on the upper floors of a burning building near the Loop, leaped from the eighth story and was probably fatally injured late today when she struck the edge of a life net and fell into the street. All the others escaped without serious injury.

The fire, which caused damage estimated at $50,000, was in the Gunther Building at 1018 South Wabash avenue, just south of the Loop.

INQUIRY ON DRY REGIME DEMANDED

Senator Wheeler Asks for It as Drys and Wets Line Up for Hearing Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—While preparations were going ahead for the first Congressional hearing on proposals for modification and for repeal of the prohibition law, Senator Wheeler of Montana introduced a resolution today for a thoroughgoing investigation of enforcement.

The House Judiciary Committee Wednesday begins what is expected to be a protracted airing of the dry-wet controversy. The outlook is for the appearance of numerous prominent persons to testify, with prohibition opponents being heard first. The first witnesses were named today.

Wheeler, who voted dry in Montana ten years ago, declared in the Senate there "a complete breakdown of prohibition enforcement." He was challenged by Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, with a reply that the dry law has been a "gratifying and tremendous success." The Texan sponsored the Eighteenth Amendment.

The Wheeler resolution, after this brief outburst, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

PHYSICIAN DIES FROM PSITTACOSIS

Dr. Stokes of Baltimore Health Bureau Victim of Parrot Fever

BALTIMORE, Feb. 10. (AP)—Dr. William Royal Stokes, director of the city health department's bureau of bacteriology, died here tonight of psittacosis or parrot fever.

Dr. Stokes was stricken with the disease a fortnight ago. He was taken to a Baltimore hospital and last week his condition became serious. A serum made from the blood of a recovered patient of the disease was twice administered and for a time his physicians were hopeful he would recover.

He took an active part in the work of his department fighting the disease, which made its first appearance in Baltimore early in January. During his investigations he handled many infected birds and it was assumed he received his infection from one of them.

Wheat Surplus Move Launched

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Guaranteeing funds of the United States government against any loss that may be incurred the Farm Board is ready tonight for the first attempt to remove a crop surplus—that of wheat—from the market.

A credit of $10,000,000 for initial operations was set aside and the board showed that, if a quorum is present tomorrow, it will approve the new grain stabilization corporation set up today at Dover, Del. It will authorize whatever action may be necessary to relieve pressure on the wheat market.

Arizona Woman May be Hanged

PHOENIX, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Arizona Republican tomorrow will say that it has learned from reliable sources that the State Board of Pardons and Paroles will refuse to recommend the commutation of the death penalty given Mrs. Eva Dugan for the murder of A. J. Mathis, aged Tucson rancher. She is scheduled to hang at the State prison the 21st inst.

Should the sentence be carried out Mrs. Dugan will be the first woman to receive the extreme penalty in Arizona.

Dirigible Service Over Pacific Described

Intensive Study in Progress to Perfect Project

Flights Will be Extended to Orient Later

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Commander J. C. Hunsaker, airship designer, in an address before the Ohio Society of New York at its monthly meeting in the Hotel Pennsylvania tonight, outlined plans of the newly organized Pacific Zeppelin Transport Company to operate an air passenger and freight service over the Pacific Ocean.

Commander Hunsaker said the first dirigible to be put into service will make one round trip weekly between Honolulu and California. To Honolulu the voyage will take thirty-six hours. The return will be made in forty-eight hours. The ship will be able to carry about eighty passengers and 20,000 pounds of mail and express.

GOOD TRAINING GROUND

"The California-Hawaii route should prove both an ideal training ground of initial operations, and should develop enough traffic to render such operations reasonably profitable," the commander said. "On the basis of experience with one airship and two terminals, an extension to Manila and the Orient could be considered with some degree of confidence."

He said that intensive study is in progress to expedite the opening of the service.

Edward P. Farley, of the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, and former chairman of the United States Shipping Board, told the society that he and experts, with whom he had discussed air transportation, agreed that there was little future for the airplane over long stretches of water.

MAIL WILL PAY COSTS

"The airship offers an answer to the demand for closer connection between our business centers in this country and our representatives in the Far East," he said.

He said expense involved in the building and operating of airships of sufficient size to operate safely and regularly across the Pacific, was too great to be met from passenger and express revenues, but a regular service between the west coast and the Philippines, with perhaps further stops at Shanghai or Hongkong, Yokohama or some other Japanese point, could be maintained with mail contracts.

Taft Improves; So Does Appetite

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Continuing to display the fighting spirit against his present illness that has marked his past career, William Howard Taft was reported tonight to have gained in strength during the day.

Friends of the former Chief Justice, recalling his once large appetite, regard as optimistic the reports from his home that he is once more eating other than liquid foods.

National President Outlines Growth of Business

Seattle Speaker Stresses Possibility of Mergers

YOSEMITE, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—The seventh annual conference of the California State Association of Building Owners and Managers opened a two-day session at the Ahwahnee Hotel here today. The meeting was called to order by President A. B. Christensen of San Francisco.

Paul Robertson, president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, was the first speaker. He spoke on the work of the national association, and outlined its growth from a voluntary gathering of fifty managers, twenty-two years ago, to the present one, international in its scope and representing office building investments to the extent of $7,000,000,000.

SERVICES ENUMERATED

He enumerated the services of this organization provided for the members and set forth some of the probable services that owners will have to provide in the office structures of tomorrow.

The speaker declared that while the building-manager is a member of a profession the ownership of an office building is a business and one of the great tasks of the national association today is to impress this fact upon lethargic owners.

George C. Wheeler of Seattle, talked on the management of secondary buildings. He spoke of the upkeep and maintenance of office buildings and looking toward the ideal of lifting the secondary building to the primary class. Building managers and owners of the country are more interested in this problem today than ever before, he said. This interest has been accentuated by the recent survey conference called by President Hoover in Washington in which the national organization was asked to carry on this year an intensive plan of modernization.

MERGERS DISCUSSED

The next speaker was Col. A. H. Beebe of Seattle. His subject was "Possibilities in Business Property Mergers."

"Land ownership alone remains in the individualistic class among businesses of today that are going through process of merging and amalgamating. The time rapidly is approaching when the struggle for the maintenance of solvency will force mergers in business properties. When two or more blocks of business property are united in one ownership and management, the destiny of that property can be definitely controlled. Business districts are shifting today, established values are being swept away because of the lack of unity of action which is the result of the multiplicity of small holdings in our metropolitan centers," he said.

Speakers for this afternoon were Louis T. Lark and Al Rennie of Los Angeles, and A. S. Garrison of San Francisco. Ross L. Mack of San Francisco, was chairman.

RADIO-AMATEUR NET SPREADING

Army-Civilian Hook-up With Philippines Successful

Further Extension to China Likely in Near Future

Senator Capper to be Heard Over Don Lee Station

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 10:30 a.m., presents Dr. Frank McCoy.

World wide news at 12:30, 4:50 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Extension to the Philippines of the army-amateur radio network has proven very successful, and in the near future it is anticipated that the outposts will be advanced to Tien-tsin, thus enabling War Department headquarters at Washington to communicate with China through a line of amateur stations stretching across the United States and the Pacific Ocean.

All stations in the Philippines cooperating with the Army have been placed in one island net, it not being possible to provide separate areas, as in the United States. Approximately half of all the amateurs in the islands have joined the network.

SYSTEM HERE OF VALUE

The army-amateur system in the United States has proved of inestimable value, the amateur network many times in the past few years having been the sole means of communication between isolated areas and the rest of the country in times of emergency, such as flood and hurricane. Late in September of last year, Florida was visited by a storm which threatened to be as bad as that of two years previous, when a large part of the State suffered severe damage and was cut off from the rest of the world for many days, except for the communication lines maintained by amateurs. Warned of the approaching storm, the amateurs and the Army control stations were on the alert, and temporary schedules were immediately established and maintained with amateur stations throughout the threatened area.

WHERE TO TURN

KHJ at 8:15 o'clock this morning will present Senator Capper, who will speak on "If the World Had Purchasing Power." He will compare the high purchasing power of the average American with the lower purchasing power of the rest of the world. At 11:30 a.m. the American School of the Air will call its classes together to hear a drama built about the life of Sir Walter Raleigh, while at 1:30 p.m. an elaborate musical program by the United States Army band will be heard from Washington under the direction of, William J. Stannard. At 6 tonight Paul Whiteman will have both Hollywood and Broadway contribute hits. William S. Hart, rendering "Alaska," and the Brox sisters in variety song numbers will represent Hollywood, while two numbers from current musical hits, "Strike Up the Band" and "Sons O' Guns," will be Broadway's contribution. At 7 tonight Joe and Vi—poor Jo has been playing poker, losing money—etc.

FRENCH PROGRAM

At 5:30 tonight KECA will present the Brahms Quartette, consisting of Lari Bands and Nadine Cox, sopranos, and Nancy Hitch and Elinor Marker, contraltos, in a program dedicated to provincial France. At 6:30 p.m., the first half of the famous song-writing team of Rodgers and Hart will be guest artists. The program will be composed or Rodgers's melodies.

On KNX at 7 o'clock tonight, Dr. Mars Baumgardt, well-known astronomer and scientist will be heard. At 8 p.m. Tom will drag his mule Hercules in for a lot of fun. From 9 to 9:30 tonight the KNX trio and David Percy, baritone, will be heard in "Abandon," "The Lark," "Cantabile" and other delightful selections.

KFWB's program director defies the world to produce a more varied array of entertainment than that which this station is to offer tonight, from Emma Kimmel, soprano, at 7 o'clock, to the Edward Murphy Players at 7:30, thence to a bridge game at 8:30, a world of plantation melodies at 9, and a prizefight at the Olympic Auditorium at 9:30.

KFI at 7:30 tonight will bring radio, vaudeville and the navy together on the decks of a man-o'-war. Vaudeville and radio artists will combine with Navy talent in a program dedicated to the United States Navy.

Jeffries Case Trial Date Will be Set Monday

Elmer B. Jeffries, head of the Jeffries Automatic Service Company, venders of automatic sandwich machines, and three associates, appeared yesterday in the court of United States District Judge James and upon a statement by Asst. U. S. Atty. Redwine the case was continued until next Monday to be set for trial.

The charges against Jeffries once were dismissed on demurrer, but the decision was vacated by United States District Judge Pollock, and Jeffries ordered to join the other three in the defense. The others are George M. Pettit, Herbert G. Danforth and Dwight L. Seymour.

It is charged that the four defrauded about 11,000 persons out of thousands of dollars in promoting the Jeffries Automatic Service Company.

GROUP CHOSEN FOR DEDICATION

U.C.L.A. to Have Speakers of International Note

Five Leading Thinkers Given Their Invitations

Ceremonies Will Take Place on March 27 and 28

Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, director, yesterday announced names of five of the speakers who have been invited to deliver addresses during the dedicatory exercises at University of California at Los Angeles March 27 and 28, next. They are Prof. Adam Blythe Webster, University of St. Andrews, Scotland; Dr. Arthur H. Compton, University of Chicago; Dr. John Dewey, Columbia University; Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Dr. John Arthur Thomson, University of Aberdeen, Scotland.

Details of the dedication program arranged by a committee of members of the faculty, headed by Dr. E. R. Herrick, probably will be outlined today at a meeting of the regents of the university to be held at Westwood.

NOTABLE GROUP

Prof. Webster is Berry professor of English literature at the University of St. Andrews at St. Andrews, which chair he has held since 1920. He is the author of several books.

Dr. Compton is a physicist, having been professor of physics at the University of Chicago since 1923. He holds the Rumford gold medal, awarded by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1927, and the Nobel prize for physics, awarded by the Swedish Academy of Sciences in 1927. He is the author of several volumes of monographs, as well as a number of articles on scientific subjects.

Dr. Dewey holds the chair of professor of philosophy at Columbia, having been there since 1904. He is said to be America's leading philosopher and is the author of a number of books on education.

FOUNDATION HEAD

Dr. Vincent has been president of the Rockefeller Foundation, in New York, since 1917. He was formerly president of the University of Minnesota, which position he resigned to become head of the Rockefeller Foundation. He is the author of a number of volumes on education as well as a member of a number of scientific organizations.

Dr. Thomson has been regius professor of natural history at Aberdeen University since 1899. He is a widely known author of biological books, having published more than two dozen. Among his volumes are "Darwinism and Human Life," published in 1910; "Secrets of Animal Life," 1912; "What is Man?" 1923, and "Modern Science," 1929.

WARNERS WILL FILM RICE PLAY

Chevalier Signs Again; Cast in Four Lasky Films; Halperins Planning Sequel to "Party Girl;" Ian Keith Plays Columbia Lead

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

It was just bound to happen. I mean that Elmer Rice's colorful "See Naples and Die" should reach the screen.

Warner Brothers are announcing, through Darryl Zanuck, that they intend making it one of the big spectacles of the year, with music especially written for it, probably by Oscar Hammerstein.

One of Broadway's favorites, Irene Delroy, who is well known in New York as a musical-comedy star, and who has also appeared in London, has been signed for the leading feminine role, and will come west shortly.

But wait. That isn't all the news, either. "See Naples and Die" is to be made an all-Technicolor feature, according to the new Technicolor process lately perfected, and promises to be a gorgeous eyeful as well as a splendid musical.

Michael Curtiz, who has produced many Warner pictures, will direct the new effort, work to be started within a month. Joe Jackson, responsible for some of the Warners' best stories, will write the adaptation.

CHEVALIER WILL REMAIN WITH LASKY

That brilliant and most popular Paramount star, Maurice Chevalier, whom everybody is acclaiming as probably the most popular singing male star of the year, is not going to stray from the Paramount fold.

MAURICE CHEVALIER

Chevalier has just signed a new long-term contract with that organization, according to the announcement yesterday of Jesse L. Lasky, who, it will be remembered, has the credit for first discerning that Chevalier would make a hit on the screen.

Under the terms of his new contract, Chevalier will star in at least four new vehicles in the next two years. His next, "Too Much Luck," is soon to be filmed at the Long Island studios.

"Chevalier is one of the great figures of the screen today," said Lasky. "When 'Innocents of Paris' was released, the public immediately recognized the man's great charm and appeal. Now with 'The Love Parade' to his credit, he is more popular than ever."

Louise Fazenda Cast

That accomplished and popular comedienne, Louise Fazenda, is finding herself busy two or three pictures deep, these days.

Yesterday Miss Fazenda was signed for the leading feminine comedy role in the Warner Brothers production of "Viennese Nights," we learn.

Miss Fazenda, as everybody knows, fills a unique niche in pictures. Nobody is like her, and nobody can do just the work she does, her comedy gifts and methods being strictly her own.

Halperins Plan Sequel

Although we of the West haven't yet had a chance to see "Party Girl," reports from New York indicate that it has been a success there, and the Halperin feature is due here, probably at the Biltmore, within a month or two.

JUDITH BARRIE

In the meantime those enterprising young producers, the Halperin brothers, are preparing to strike while the iron is hot. In other words, they are to produce a sequel to the picture.

Judith Barrie, the pretty young actress who scored so heavily in "Party Girl," is to have her first starring role in the new film.

While no contracts are yet signed, it is quite likely that H. B. Warner will be chosen for the leading male role, a part which will require the most skillful of actors.

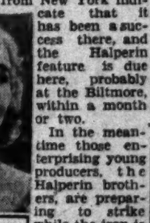
Victor Halperin, who steered "Party Girl" to success, is to direct the new picture.

The feature will be made at the Metropolitan studios, and work on it is to commence within the next month or six weeks.

Miss Barrie is a beautiful and accomplished young blond actress, who is scheduled to star in a number of Halperin productions. She is a skilled musician and singer, and she has had some stage experience.

Ian Keith With Columbia

After an absence of six months, during which he played a successful theatrical tour, Ian Keith returned to Hollywood a week ago and has already plucked two screen plums for himself with more in the offing.



Ian Keith

He has been signed by Columbia Pictures for the starring role in the English comedy-drama, "The King of Diamonds," in which Aileen Pringle will play the feminine lead and Claude King the heavy. This picture went into production yesterday.

As heretofore announced in this column, Keith has also signed with Pathe to play the male lead opposite Gloria Swanson in "What a Widow."

While absent from Hollywood, Keith played one engagement in New York and appeared in a repertoire of four plays in Kansas City and Des Moines.

Louise Dresser Departs

For a year now Louise Dresser has been promising herself a vacation in New York. And yesterday she was on her way to making her promise good. Miss Dresser departed Sunday night, accompanied by her husband, Jack Gardner, for New York.

LOUISE DRESSER

Gardner, who is casting director at the Fox studios, was called east to confer with Winfield Sheehan, and Miss Dresser decided it was a good chance to give herself the long-promised vacation.

Natalie Moorhead In It

That charming young actress, Natalie Moodhead, has just been signed by R.-K.-O. for a leading role in "Cooking Her Goose," we learned yesterday.

Miss Moorhead was brought west by United Artists, and appeared in one or two pictures for that concern. Since then she has played important roles for First National and other film concerns.

Two for Grey Story

Otto Brower and Edwin Knopf have been assigned to codirect the talking production of Zane Grey's "The Border Legion," according to announcement made yesterday by B. P. Schulberg.

The selection of this team for the important directorial assignment is the result of the outstanding work they accomplished on "The Light of Western Stars," it is said.

Una Merkel Among Us

Una Merkel, the New York actress who was signed by United Artists to play the role of Ann Rutledge in D. W. Griffith's picture, "Abraham Lincoln," arrived from New York yesterday.

Von Eltz with M.-G.-M.

No less engaging an actor than Theodore Von Etz has been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play one of the principal male roles in Norma Shearer's current starring vehicle, "The Divorcee," we learned yesterday.

Von Eltz, who has just finished a featured part in "The Furies," also played in the recent productions of "The Awful Truth" and "The Very Idea."

MAYOR'S FOE RENEWS FIGHT

Attack on Legality of Porter's Election Carried to Supreme Court on Appeal by Merrick

"Wherefore, said plaintiff and contestant prays that a day may be set for hearing of this complaint . . . and that at such hearing the said election of said defendant . . . to the office of Mayor of the City of Los Angeles be annulled and set aside—"

In these words H. H. Merrick, Los Angeles elector, yesterday carried his fight against the election of Mayor Porter to the Supreme Court, charging that the city executive violated State laws in statements as to election expenses.

The appeal is from a decision of Superior Judge Hahn granting a motion by Attorneys Scott, Bush and Hindman, Clark & Davis requesting dismissal of action for want of jurisdiction.

Attorneys Guerin and Delorey of Los Angeles and Swaffield & Swaffield of Long Beach, representing Merrick, charge in their brief that the June 4, 1929, election expenses given by Mayor Porter as $1579 in reality totaled $50,000.

The appeal also attacks the statement made by Mayor Porter as to expenses attendant upon his nomination at the primary election of May 7, 1929. Mayor Porter in a statement copied into the brief said the expenses of this campaign were $23,828.85.

It is charged that the statement "is willfully false and untrue."

ART OF NIPPON ACTORS VIVID

Performances of Japanese Plays Unique

Sword Drama and Oriental Dances Feature

Quality Evinced in Costumes and Direction

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

They come from the Dotonbori Theater in Osaka. They give their dramas in their native Nipponese. They are actors to the heart, such actors, indeed, that even with the scant aid of a brief outline of the plot, you can tell almost what every word and gesture means.

I am speaking of the company of Japanese players headed by Tokujiro Tsutsui, which initiated its American tour last evening at the Figueroa Playhouse. The troupe is being presented under the auspices of the Japanese Theater Association, and is to have a New York premiere under the sponsorship of the eastern city's Theater Guild. The aggregation is a remarkable one, and presents a dramatic and colorful series of productions that are unique.

Of course, we are not unfamiliar with the Japanese play. There was a company that visited a few seasons ago that drew the attention of the searchers for unusual artistic events. That troupe, too, presented the Ken-Geki, or sword plays, which are the feature of the performances offered by Mr. Tsutsui and his organization. Their work is undoubtedly still remembered by those who saw it. Particularly thrilling were the feats of action and acrobatics that the actors performed while they were engaged in their fights upon the stage.

The new company is unquestionably different. There seems little question but that it is of a much higher class. Manner of presentation and costuming, and to a degree settings go to show this. Especially do they triumph in the pictorial quality of the lighter divertisement. This was plentifully evidenced in the way that they gave the final offering of dance and song, a rare whimsy called "The Spring Festival," in which a pair of lions and a duo of butterflies coquetted grotesquely with each other in a sort of oriental terpsichorean frolic.

STRANGE MENAGERIE

This final imaginative excursion, which occurred close to the midnight hour, was in many ways the most interesting entertainment of the evening. Nothing just like it had ever been seen here before, and the whimsy of the two lion impersonators, the butterflies, the Spirit of the Lion, and the Spirits of the Lion Cubs was a wholly enticing thing. Magnificent was the flowing white wig and the garb worn by Mr. Tsutsui as the Spirit of the Lion, and exceedingly attractive was the cherry blossom setting against which the performers appeared.

During an evening the company presents two plays, and this divertissement in the form of a ballet. The opening piece was in the nature of a fantasy. One sword fight and a brief one, coyly interrupted by a geisha, alone is included. The story is concerned with a sculptor who secures a mirror of a courtesan during the duel between the two samurai, and who uses it to bring to life a statue he has modeled. There is a fanciful symbolism to the mirror. It is supposed to represent the soul of woman and, therefore, to vivify even her sculptured semblance.

This creation did not perhaps hold the popular interest of the later ones; it was inclined to drag a little in the long dance episode where the lady acquired animation. Considerable technical display is required of the two main characters as the statue has to imitate everything that the sculptor does as long as the mirror is in his possession. When he tenders it to her, she acquires more independence.

THRILLING MELODRAMA

The most dramatic thrill was afforded by the second play, "The Shadow Man." This resembled more closely the Ken-Geki sword dramas heretofore seen. It revealed not only vivid action at times, but also yielded a startlingly realistic performance by the hero of its plot, Kiyoshi Mimasu assumed this role, and his tribulation at the slaughter of his father in the opening scene was an emotional tour de force.

The plot of "The Shadow Man" is melodramatic, but singularly powerful, and the climax of sword play, while it fell short of the battle on the stairs fought by the earlier Ken-Geki troupe, was dynamic enough. The death of the title character, a roving swordsman, who trained the hero for battle because of friendship for his father, and then finally gave his life for him, constituted an exceptional climax. This play and the closing dance creation will undoubtedly prove popular.

In the employment of its players the company is very much of the repertoire order. The actor who played the hero in "The Shadow Man" did nothing but bark like a dog in the opening play. Mr. Tsutsui spoke scarce a score of lines during the evening, yet his force as an interpreter was felt throughout.

Others who achieved special interest included Koryo Yamada, Hajime Mori, Miss Momoyo Chigusa, Miss Tsuyako Misono, Tokuji Tsuji and Isaaku Izumi, to name but a few. Michio Ito assisted in the adapting and directing of the plays for the American stage.

BURLESQUE COLORFUL

Colorful songs, dances and settings prevail in the current bill of burlesque at the Follies Theater, where Comedians Marr and Ward are appearing in a laugh festival. Wanda Devon and Francis Parks, soubrettes, continue to score in their numbers. Lillian Murray, Jane Hazelton and William Lilling have all been placed to a good advantage in the show and offer individual specialties that are novel as well as diverting. The work of the chorus is attractive in this week's bill.

"SCANDALS" AT BURBANK

"Broadway Scandals," the current burlesque attraction at the Burbank Theater, is a lively bill. It is filled with comedy, specialties, dance ensembles, peppy music and novelties. The chorus works in unison and is arrayed in colorful costumes. Evelyn Myers, in the featured soubrette role, gives a good account of herself. June Rhoads pleases her admirers with a new and novel dance creation.

"Nut Farm" Coming to Town

Shirley Mason
Screen favorite, will essay a prominent role in the new stage farce starting at the Vine Street Theater Sunday night.

SCREEN STAR TO APPEAR

One of the year's most-discussed screen personalities is said to be Winifred Westover, who plays the title role in "Lummox," opening at the United Artists' Theater tomorrow. The star will be seen in person also once in the afternoon and again in the evening of the opening day.

Miss Westover withdrew from picture work at the height of her career eight years ago, but when she heard of the intended production of "Lummox," she competed with more than 100 other actresses for the role. Convincing Herbert Brenon, the director, that she was fitted for the role, the part fell to her, and she went on a diet of fattening foods for a period of six weeks to attain the weight required.

Miss Westover is said to be an accomplished musician and likes all kinds of athletics. In "Lummox," she heads a cast including Ben Lyon, William Collier, Jr.; Edna Murphy, Myrtle Stedman and Dorothy Janis.

ARLEN STARS IN STORY OF RACE TRACK

"Burning Up" Booked for Paramount Theater; Mary Brian in Stellar Role

"Burning Up," Richard Arlen's first starring picture, starts at the Paramount Theater Thursday, following the current hit, "The Love Parade." Mary Brian has the leading feminine role.

Arlen first came into screen prominence as the aviator-hero of "Wings." In this current melodrama of the race track, he is again seen in that same type of role. Arlen is cast as a daredevil driver, both of motorcycles and autos.

The action with which the picture is endowed is due to the imaginative direction of Edward Sutherland. Others in the cast include Francis MacDonald, Sam Hardy, Charles Sellon and Tully Marshall. The story is by William Slavens McNutt and Grover Jones.

Paul Whiteman Scheduled for Midnight Show

Paul Whiteman and his band will be one of the major attractions at Saturday's midnight show at Loew's State. The noted maestro of jazz, who with his band will be at the theater all week, starting Thursday, has also consented to appear at the special late performance.

The preview committee of the Los Angeles Public Library has given its indorsement of the screen attraction starting Thursday, "The Mysterious Island," after witnessing a special showing of the production, it is said. "The Cockeyed World," current attraction, closes tomorrow night.

Farce of Stock Market Coming to Boulevard

"Clancy Caught Short," the first talking comedy of the stock market, opens at the Boulevard Theater Thursday, with an all-star cast headed by Charlie Murray and Lucien Littlefield.

The recent stock-market crash serves as the story theme and tells of two plumbers who accidently make a few hundred dollars in the market and immediately trade their tools for the ticker tape, their overalls for tailor clothes and their East Side flat for a Riverside Drive apartment.

Chinese Plans Holiday Show

With appropriate celebration on the stage tomorrow, Grauman's Chinese Theater, showing "The Rogue Song," starring Lawrence Tibbett, will observe the national holiday.

"The Rogue Song" is nearing the end of the fourth week of its successful run. From all indications it bids fair to hang up an all-time record for the theater, it is said.

In addition to this M.-G.-M. picture Grauman's Chinese offers Abe Lyman and his band of entertainers in a stage offering.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

"THE NEW MOON" is doing such excellent business at the Majestic and Louis Macloon and Lillian Albertson are so busy receiving plaudits for the work of their "discovery," Miss Josephine Houston, the prima donna, that they won't have time to stage another production in Los Angeles before May 1, they said yesterday.

This means that "Bitter Sweet," the Noel Coward operetta, to which they own the rights, will probably not see presentation locally until late spring or early summer.

Several interesting stories are being told about Miss Houston. One, pretty well authenticated, is that a motion-picture company, which refused her a bit part in a production just before "The New Moon," is now bidding at the rate of $2500 a week for her services.

Miss Houston was chosen on the strength of voice and personality from 200 singing candidates, in one of the general tryouts which Miss Albertson and Macloon invariably hold before staging a new show. She was given a year's contract.

English Drama Here

Just by way of doing something different, Lucille La Verne is going to appear in an English drama, "To What Red Hell," by Percy Robinson, at the Vine-street Theater for one performance only, the afternoon of the 21st inst.

The Robinson play has just concluded a long run at the Wyndom Theater in London where, it seems, Miss La Verne saw it two years ago. Sarah Algood, the Irish actress, played the leading character role there.

In the cast of the local presentation will be Sheldon Lewis, Grace Treon and William Eugene. William E. Smith, producer at the Vine-street, is sponsoring the performance, having secured the American rights to the play from Al H. Woods.

Revue for Biltmore

A revue called "Gone Hollywood" will be next at the Biltmore Theater. Yesterday came an announcement from Roger Gray, its author, that the production would be presented locally beginning the 24th inst.

The producers declare it has been constructed from several of Gray's sketches and plays which have been produced at the Lambs Club, New York. One of these, a burlesque Japanese operetta, was given at the Metropolitan Operahouse, New York, during a club frolic.

Cocoanut Grove to Fete Players

Nancy Welford, Al St. John, Marie Wells, Laurel Nemeth, Ernest Wood, Wilbur Evans and other members of the "Bambina" company at the Mayan Theater, will be guests of honor in the Cocoanut Grove at the Hotel Ambassador tonight.

In keeping with the spirit of the occasion, Johnny Hamp and his Kentucky Serenaders will offer a special program of dance music from the "Bambina" operetta, as well as popular selections and request numbers.

ARLEN STARS IN STORY OF RACE TRACK

"Seven Keys to Baldpate" Marks Debut of Star in New Medium

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," Richard Dix's first talking film for Radio Pictures, will start at the Orpheum Theater on the 19th inst., according to an announcement. Adapted from George M. Cohan's stage play, which, in turn, was based on the novel by Earl Derr Biggers, "Seven Keys to Baldpate" has enjoyed a wide success.

A versatile cast of stage and screen players supports Dix, including Miriam Seegar, Crauford Kent, Nella Walker, Joseph Allen, Margaret Livingston, Lucien Littlefield, DeWitt Jennings, Joseph Herbert, Alan Roscoe, Carleton Macy, Harvey Clark and Edith Yorke.

The current bill, which is headed by "No, No, Nanette," includes a number of other interesting features, including "Happy Golf," a sports novelty reel; "The Organ Speaks," musical novelty featuring Bob Hamilton; "Summer," a musical cartoon, and a Pathe sound news subject.

GLAB SLAYING SOLUTION NEAR

Police Forecast Clearing Up of Mystery Soon

Gun's Location Anticipated; McIntyre Talks

Wife of Slain ex-Druggist Linked to Pistol

Solution of the mystery murder of John I. Glab, shot to death in the driveway of his Ventura Boulevard home in 1928, within the next twenty-four hours was forecast yesterday by police, following two startling developments in the reopened investigation.

A revolver of similar caliber to the one which fired the fatal shot into the body of the ex-druggist, has been traced and is expected to be in the hands of his detectives today, Captain of Detectives Cato declared. Since the reopening of the investigation the police have contended that the finding of the death weapon will solve the mystery and probably result in the arrest of two persons on charges of murder.

McINTIRE TALKS

The weapon which Capt. Cato stated he hoped to identify as the one used in the slaying is a 32-20-caliber revolver which figured in a fight involving Mrs. Hazel Glab, widow of the murdered man, and Herbert Frazelle, 49 years of age, in front of Frazelle's apartment at 1348 Ingraham street, December 26, 1928. According to the records of the case, Glab was shot with a .32-caliber pistol.

The other developments, declared by Capt. Cato to be significant, was the request of W. B. McIntire, ex-policeman, to converse with Detective Lieutenants Sanderson and Jones in his cell at the County Jail where he is being held in connection with the death of a woman in a recent traffic accident.

While Capt. Cato admitted the information divulged by McIntire might aid greatly in the final solution of the mystery, he declined to reveal the nature of it.

NO PROSECUTION

Recalling the fight on Ingraham street, police records show that Officers Toledo and Curtis found Mrs. Glab, Frazelle and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Oden of 3220 Hamilton Way grouped about Oden's automobile in front of Frazelle's apartment. Frazelle, they said, was bleeding from lacerations of the head.

Oden, according to the report, stated that the altercation between Mrs. Glab and Frazelle began in the latter's apartment. He stated that he had taken the revolver from Mrs. Glab. The weapon was turned over to the officers.

Frazelle was not seriously hurt, and refused to prosecute Mrs. Glab.

But the revolver said to have figured in this scene remained in the hands of police, according to Capt. Cato.

HELD FOR QUIZ

McIntire is the ex-Los Angeles police officer who was held with Mrs. Glab for many days during the preliminary investigation of the murder. He was asserted to have been a close acquaintance of Mrs. Glab both prior to and after the date of the slaying. In 1927 Mrs. Glab and McIntire were involved in a shooting in the latter's Hollywood apartment in which the ex-officer received a flesh wound in the leg, police records show.

In view of the concentration of the inquiry upon the revolver used in the Ingraham street brawl Capt. Cato declared no effort will be made to search the cesspool at the Glab residence on Ventura Boulevard for the death weapon.

OTHERS QUESTIONED

While the detailed tracing of the history of this gun was being continued Capt. Cato stated that he expected again to question Russell D. Franks, another ex-policeman, taken into custody Saturday as a material witness on information asserted to have been divulged by George T. Davis, an inmate of the County Jail on a burglary charge.

Others already questioned are Frank's wife, Miss Ruby Burroughs, arrested with McIntire in connection with the traffic death, McIntire, and three so-called informants, a man and two women, whose identities are kept secret.

The police are being assisted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordon and Capt. Bright, head of the Sheriff's office homicide detail.

COMPANY OFFICIAL GETS ADVANCED POST

Announcement of the election of E. H. McGinnis, secretary of the Union Hardware and Metal Company, 411 East First street, as general manager of the organization, was made yesterday by the board of directors following their annual meeting last Saturday. McGinnis has been connected with the $7,500,000 wholesale hardware and metal company for the past thirty years. He is the brother of Felix H. McGinnis, vice-president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, is widely known to hardware men throughout the United States, and comes of a pioneer Southern California family, both he and his mother having been born in Los Angeles. The company's board of directors is composed of E. O. McLaughlin, E. H. McLaughlin, J. E. Brooke, J. D. Rutledge and H. J. Schoder.

The Record of the Last Ten Years

THE RECORD of the last ten years in business real estate in Los Angeles is perhaps without parallel in all the world.

The map at the right is based upon a survey conducted by the Los Angeles Examiner, with the cooperation of the Title Guarantee & Trust Company. To date, 500 business corners in various sections of the city, have been analyzed. The gains in assessed valuation range from 51 per cent to more than 25,000 per cent. In no single instance has one of these 500 corners failed to show a substantial increase in value during the last decade.

What Will the Next Ten Years Bring?

STUDENTS of business real estate believe that the developments of the next ten years and the decade to follow will be as great as those of the last decade, if not greater.

Los Angeles is established on a sounder basis than it was ten years ago. Industrially, commercially, it has attained a place where its own momentum will carry it on. It requires no boom, desires no boom, to create steadily increasing real estate values.

Are You Prepared to Share in These Profits?

TEN YEARS AGO, many average investors were convinced that substantial profits would be made in Los Angeles business real estate during the ensuing decade.

But the average investor could not place his finger on the map of Los Angeles and say, "Here is my great opportunity." It could not be done then; it cannot be done by him with certainty today.

There were those, however, in that day, guided by experience and unbiased competent advice, with sufficient capital to enable them to say: "Here, and Here, and Here, 'real profits' will be made in the next ten years . . . and I shall invest in selected locations in each of these sections and no matter which development comes first in the ensuing years, I shall be in its path."

The average investor, because of his limited capital, did not have that opportunity. Operating as an individual, he has no better opportunity today. In fact, because the initial investment required to command favorable business sites is higher, the opportunity of the individual investor is even less.

But the picture has changed. The average investor no longer need operate individually. Machinery has been developed whereby he can pool his resources with those of hundreds or thousands of other investors. And all these average investors, operating collectively, under skilled direction, become a power which commands every advantage heretofore reserved for the important independent operator or the well-financed syndicate.

If such an opportunity appeals to you . . . if you would like to share in the potential profits that may be realized during the next twenty years from not just one favorably located business site, but from many . . . then the announcement at the right was written for you.

WHAT THE BUSINESS MAP OF LOS ANGELES SHOWS

THE ANALYSES upon which this information is based have been compiled by The Los Angeles Examiner, in cooperation with the Title Guarantee & Trust Company. In analyzing 500 widely separated business corners, not a single instance has been found where an investment made in these business properties in 1919 would not have paid a profit over the ten-year period.

Announcing... a $5,000,000 BUSINESS REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT TRUST

THE Otto G. Wildey Co., Ltd., (successors to Edwards and Wildey Co.) announces the organization of a $5,000,000 Real Estate Investment Trust which offers unusual advantages to the average investor.

AMONG THESE ADVANTAGES ARE:

1. Ample finances—with all the opportunities capital commands.

2. The competent management of Otto G. Wildey Co., Ltd., whose experience covers 26 years of Los Angeles real estate operations, during which the organization which this corporation succeeds has returned profits ranging from 271% to 1371% to participants in its syndicate activities.

3. The fact that the operations of this Investment Trust will be restricted to the purchase and sale of Business Real Estate, in which present values are most firmly established and potential values may most accurately be forecast.

4. The fact that the Declaration of Trust enforces adequate diversification by providing that not more than 15% of the authorized Trust Funds shall be invested in any single piece of property.

5. The fact that the $5,000,000 authorized capital is divided into 50,000 Units of Beneficial Interest, of which 10,000 units are currently available at $100 per unit, thus enabling the modest investor to share in this opportunity.

6. The further fact that one or more Units may be reserved upon a down payment of 10%, with the balance payable in nine equal installments, without interest . . . thus enabling the subscriber to make these Units part of a systematic monthly savings-investment plan.

7. The fact that only 10% of the net profits may be reserved to cover the cost of operating the Trust, and after establishing proper reserves and replacement to capital, plus the fees of the Trustee, net earnings must be distributed to the subscribers. Profits cannot be reinvested.

8. The fact that the life of the Trust definitely terminates twenty years from date, at which time all holdings will be liquidated under the supervision of the Metropolitan Trust Company, and the entire net proceeds will be divided among the subscribers.

An Invitation to Investigate

This Real Estate Investment Trust presents many other advantages that will appeal to the experienced, conservative investor. The trust is surrounded with unusual safeguards which make it most attractive to the inexperienced investor who is only beginning to build up an investment program.

We invite the most critical investigation, and to make investigation easy we shall be glad to mail a copy of a comprehensive survey of the business real estate situation in Los Angeles, in which President Otto G. Wildey sums up the experience of twenty-six successful years. "An Approach to Business Real Estate" presents facts and figures not previously available in such compact, convenient form. A copy will be mailed without obligation upon receipt of the coupon below. Or you may 'phone or call at the offices of the Fiscal Agent.

"ANGEL" OF CHURCH HEARD

Woman Says She Gave $25,000 to Mrs. Blackburn; "Vision" of Mary Baker Eddy Mentioned

A statement that she "donated" $25,000 in cash to "the work" of May Otis Blackburn, organizer of "The Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven," yesterday enlivened the testimony of Mrs. Mary Stewart, defense witness at Mrs. Blackburn's trial for grand theft in Superior Judge Fricke's court.

Shortly after reciting her cash considerations, Mrs. Stewart also told of turning the deed of her Santa Monica home, worth $45,000, over to another member of Mrs. Blackburn's church.

Up to date at the trial, various witnesses have recounted giving Mrs. Blackburn or her agents approximately $100,000 in cash. Clifford Dabney, complaining witness, said he gave $45,000.

Mrs. Stewart testified that her donations covered a period of four years. She is still a member of the church and her "concord," as selected by Mrs. Blackburn, is "The Ointment of God," she declared.

In defense of Mrs. Blackburn, Mrs. Stewart denied that the woman religious leader ever said that she (Mrs. Blackburn,) had the power of locating gold mines or other natural resources or that Mrs. Blackburn had sought to poison her son-in-law, as was testified by a prosecution witness.

Another witness yesterday was Mrs. Albert Schroyer, "The Parting of the Ways," who testified that she and her husband, Albert Schroyer, lived halfway up the hill at the Blackburn headquarters in the Santa Susanna Hills. Their house, Mrs. Schroyer said, was known as "The Gate," and her husband as "The Keeper of the Gate."

Margaret Shutt, whose concord was "Green Pastures," was the third witness of the day. She recited a long list of "visions" that she said Dabney professed to have had while he was a member of the Blackburn flock. Dabney, Mrs. Shutt testified, purported to have seen the spirit of Mary Baker Eddy walking downp Broadway one day, to have seen two disciples and some angels on the same thoroughfare on other occasions, and to have been visited by his dead father on the occasion of his mother's illness.

SQUIRE WINS DELAY

On statements by defense counsel that Guy O. Squire, former assistant postmaster at Alhambra, who pleaded guilty to embezzlement of about $8000 of postoffice funds, is exerting every effort to make restitution to the government, the case was continued yesterday by United States District Judge James for two weeks. The question of sentence will come up in two weeks.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing right now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.—[Advertisement.

SIMPLE HOME MIXTURE DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Cincinnati Barber Tells How Any One Can Prepare It in 5 Minutes.

Any man or woman can easily look twenty years younger by simply darkening their gray, faded or streaky hair. This is now easy to accomplish with a recipe given by a well-known Cincinnati barber.

Simply take a half-pint of water, add one ounce of bay rum, ¼ ounce of glycerine and a small box of Barbo Compound. Shake and it is ready to use. These ingredients can be bought at drug stores at trifling cost.

Applied to the hair twice weekly this delightful mixture quickly gives the desired shade. It is easy to use, is not sticky or greasy, and will not color the scalp and does not rub off.—[Advertisement.

VISITOR LAUDS HOOVER'S PLAN

Missouri Industries Leader Here for Sojourn

Believes President Headed Off Possible Crisis

Pay Roll Declared Nation's Primary Requisite

If those who are merely existing could be aided to join the ranks of those who are really living great progress would be made in solving the problems of the American farmer, according to Col. Conrad H. Mann of Kansas City, president of the Associated Industries of Missouri.

Increased pay rolls would contribute greatly to the stimulation of domestic consumption, thus cutting down, if not, indeed, eliminating the difference between supply and demand, in the opinion of the visitor.

"The primary requisite of prosperity," said Col. Mann, "is the pay roll."

Continuing with the prefatory remark that, as one of the original Hoover supporters in the Middle West, he is biased in favor of President Hoover, Col. Mann said he believes the President in calling a conference of twenty business leaders played a dominant role in the prevention of business stagnation and a possible crisis.

"The promises and pledges given by the industrial leaders have been religiously kept," said the visitor at the Biltmore.

The Kansas City leader declared that business in the Central West is practically normal and that a feeling of optimism is general throughout the agricultural West, with the farmers reposing implicit faith in the Federal Farm Board appointed by the President.

Inland waterways and farm relief are subjects in which the central district is manifesting most interest.

The visitor came to the Coast for rest and recreation.

BETROTHAL JOY CAUSES DEATH

Youth Succumbs as He Tells Parents of His Great Happiness

OMAHA, Feb. 10. (AP)—One month ago Irvin Hutchinson, 19 years of age, met Cora Ulrich, 17, pretty and blond.

Sunday he proposed. Cora accepted. They planned to marry immediately. The license this morning, this afternoon the wedding.

The youth ran most of the way home to tell his parents of the suit.

"I'm the happiest fellow in the world," he told his stepmother. "Oh, feel my heart. It's thumping like a triphammer. Love is a wonderful thing."

His stepmother caressed the happy boy. His heart was beating fast and hard — too fast and too hard. He slumped to the floor and died.

SILVER LAKE FRAY REVIVES

Battle on Boulevard Assessment Spreading Expected to be Resumed at Council Session Today

The fight which a small body of property owners involved, has been waging against the completion of the Silver Lake Boulevard opening and widening project will be renewed this morning when the City Council takes up the recommendation of its Street Widening and Opening Committee that a new assessment be spread over the district.

The first assessment, as finally confirmed by the Council last June, took heed of the protests of 225 property owners against the size of their levies and reduced them. To do that the Council was forced to raise the assessment on seven city-owned lots by $15,767.

In a successful court action to enjoin the collection of assessments, the opponents of the project adduced this raising of the assessment on the city-owned property, which had benefited the private property owners, as a reason for declaring the whole proceedings invalid. Superior Judge Tappaan ruled that the Council's action had been illegal, but his ruling did not necessitate that the entire proceedings be abandoned, only that the assessment be respread.

The proponents of the project point out that the only result to date, therefore, of the opposition, has been to throw the collection of the $15,767 back on the entire district. They assert that the only purpose of the opposition is to force the abandonment of the entire proceedings, even though it represents the completion of the last remaining link of a fast through highway from the Wilshire district to Pasadena.

Before the Council approved the first assessment last June, Councilman Randall moved that the proceedings be abandoned, but his motion was not even seconded. Since the new Council came into being he has been joined in his opposition to it by Councilman Williams and they are expected to fight today for the defeat of the recommendation for a new spread of assessments and for the abandonment of the project.

Property owners in favor of the project contend that the motives of their opponents are far from public-spirited. Most of the opposition, is directed, they assert, by persons interested in property adjacent to Hyperion avenue and their reason is a belief that the completion of the Silver Lake project will provide a more direct highway to compete with Hyperion avenue for traffic from the northeast to the Wilshire district.

Two other small groups of opponents are described as those with property at the intersections. They are said to desire to have the boulevard run on a surface grade, although the grade separations have been recommended by the City Engineer, the Automobile Club and the City Planning Commission.

The total assessment amounts to $521,000 and, of this total, $262,000 already has been paid either in cash or offset awards, leaving $259,000 which has gone to bond. Pending a final settlement of the matter, those who have already paid the awards are deprived of the interest on the money they have paid, without any corresponding benefit, and the bond interest continues to accrue. The total of delinquencies and payments made under protest amounts to less than 15 per cent of the condemnation cost. If the proceedings were to be abandoned now the entire district would have to pay more than $25,000 in engineering and attorneys' fees and court costs.

AUTOPSY ORDERED AFTER GAS DEATH

An autopsy was ordered yesterday by the Coroner's office on the body of H. A. Kelly, 76 years of age, who was found dead early yesterday morning in his home at 1214 Wilmington street, Gardena. The man, according to Deputy Sheriff Monteleone, apparently was the victim of accidental gas asphyxiation. The body was seen by Antonio Torres, a neighbor, who looked through a window when he received no answer at the dor. A son, Walter Kelly, lives in Gardena. The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of W. J. Whittington, Gardena.

Los Angeles Company Makes European Alliance

First Move of Its Kind for American Unit

World-wide Participation Seen in Reciprocity

International Re-Insurance Corporation of Los Angeles through its London managers, Bevington, Vaizy & Foster, has just completed an arrangement under which the local organization will participate in the future with Associated Reinsurance, Ltd., of London, in about 100 foreign reinsurance treaties.

In making this announcement yesterday Carl M. Hansen, president of International Re-Insurance, said that the importance of the arrangement is indicated in that it is the first time that British and continental companies have reciprocated with an American insurance company in this manner.

"Through the completion of this undertaking, which came as a direct result of the visit here last fall of our London director, Leonard Padfield, our participation will be equally world-wide with the British concerns, excluding the United States and Canada," said Mr. Hansen. British underwriters, he added, have participated in the premiums and consequent profits from this country, but heretofore American companies have never been able to establish a basis of reciprocity.

The treaties in which his company will participate, he said, carry the signatures of nearly 100 companies located in Great Britain and continental Europe doing a world-wide business, and arrangement marks the emergence of Los Angeles as a world insurance and reinsurance center.

"Great Britain has long been identified as a cradle of successful insurance enterprises and in the minds of prominent British underwriters, that success is primarily due to the fact that they have always conducted insurance on a world-wide distribution basis, rather than a localized one," Mr. Hansen said. "The management of International Re-Insurance believes that to the degree American insurance companies follow the British example in this regard, to that extent will they be equally successful."

BACKLOG OF STEEL UNIT SHOWS GAIN

Corporation's Unfilled Orders at Highest Mark Since Last June

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation on January 31 amounted to 4,468,710 tons, an increase of 51,517 tons during the month.

On December 31 the corporation's unfilled orders amounted to 4,417,193 tons, and on January 31, 1929, it was 4,109,487 tons.

Today's increase, while small, was the fifth successive monthly upturn, and carried the total of the corporation's unfinished business to the highest level since last June. At that time the company's mills were operating around 100 per cent of rated capacity, compared with about 75 per cent at the end of last month.

January	4,468,710	4,109,487	4,273,947
February	.....	4,144,347	4,398,189

New Financing Quickly Taken on Offering

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) Indicating continued improvement in the new financing market, two large offerings tendered today were later reported as oversubscribed. J. P. Morgan & Co. announced that applications for $25,000,000 Morris & Essex Railroad Company construction mortgage bonds due 1955 were received in excess of the amount of the issue and that the books were closed at noon. The issue consisted of $10,000,000 of 5 per cent series A bonds dated November 2, 1925, offered at 103½ to yield 4.76 per cent to maturity, and $15,000,000 of 4½ per cent series B dated November 1, 1928, at 96½ to yield 4.73 per cent, subject to the authorization of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The National City Company announced for the syndicate which offered 140,000 American shares of General Italian Edison Electric Corporation at $44 a share flat to yield about 6 per cent that the issue was oversubscribed.

LONDON, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—A Finnish loan of £2,500,000 has been arranged with Paris banks headed by Credit Lyonnais, bearing the nominal 6 per cent interest rate.

Shaw on Staff of Young-Clarke

A. Duncan Shaw, former partner of Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc., predecessor of Tucker, Hunter, Dulin & Company, has become associated as a general partner with Young-Clarke & Co., member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, it was announced yesterday.

For many years, Mr. Shaw was in charge of the Pacific Northwest offices for Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc., and came to Los Angeles more than a year ago to be identified with the management of its Southern California offices. He was one of the organizers and first governors of the Seattle Stock Exchange.

Atlantic Profit Registers Gain

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) Preliminary consolidated net income of Atlantic Refining Company for the year ended December 31, last, today was given at $17,332,000 after all charges and Federal taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $6.79 a share on 2,448,019 average common shares as against $16,849,000 or $7.72 a share on 2,000,000 common shares in 1928.

The preferred stock was retired May 1, last.

DOUGLAS RUNS AT CAPACITY

Santa Monica Airplane Plant Nearly Doubles Force While Rest of Industry Slows Down

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Operating at Santa Monica is one of the few, if not the only airplane manufacturing company in the country working at full capacity. While other manufacturers are either shut down or working on only nominal production schedules the Douglas Aircraft Company has nearly doubled its working force and is straining its facilities to meet contractual requirements.

On the Douglas pay roll are 1180 workers at this time. This figure compares with 646 at the same time a year ago, or an increase of 83 per cent in employment. It is doubtful if any other manufacturer can equal this record, since the majority is contending with a surplus production of commercial airplanes and a highly uncertain demand.

NEW PLANE PROJECTED

Although Douglas ranks as perhaps the leading manufacturer of airplanes for the Army and Navy, the company expects to enter into the commercial field about May 1, next, with an amphibian. The Douglas engineers have been working on this plane for some time in anticipation of a broader program of manufacture, and it is now understood that the new amphibian will take the air in April for its test flights. Production of the model will be supplemental to the regular government business.

At a comparatively small expense the Douglas company is in a position to increase its manufacturing facilities to handle more than $4,000,000 of business, it is estimated. About July of last year, the company moved entirely into its new plant, which contains 190,000 square feet of floor space, compared with 65,000 in the old plant, or an increase of 192 per cent. The new plant is so laid out that additional floor space can be readily provided.

Douglas is now fully occupied on army and navy contracts involving about $2,600,000 of business, including extra parts. The navy contract for twenty-five PD1 flying boats is about one-half completed, but production has only just begun on the sixty-six observation planes for the Army. This order calls for thirty-six model D-25 "A" Curtiss-planes and thirty model D-32 "A" powered observation planes and thirty model D-32 "A" Pratt & Whitney-powered planes.

HIGHER NET DUE

Because of its record with the government on previous and existing contracts, it is expected that the Douglas company will share fully in new contracts coming up from time to time. The government's requirements are now fairly well standardized, whereas in the last few years the Army and Navy have been forced to experiment with different manufacturers and models.

Its reputation with the government, the completion of its plant expansion program, and the prospects for its new commercial venture are factors that should contribute to increased operating profits in the current fiscal year. In the last fiscal year ended November 30, last, Douglas earned $1.19 a share on 338,692 shares outstanding, but these earnings reflected non-recurring costs involving in moving into the new plant, and delays and uncertainties connected with new contracts.

No further dividends, it is understood, are expected in the current fiscal year, the management preferring to build up surplus. The initial dividend of 75 cents a share was declared last month, payable the 7th inst., to stock of record January 19.

YOUR INCOME TAX

NO. 7

One of the chief sources of income is "compensation for personal services rendered." All of the various types of compensation, unless such income is specifically exempt by statute, should be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income. In general, it includes salaries, wages, fees, commissions, bonuses, tips, honorariums, prizes, awards, pensions in recognition of past services, etc.

Compensation for services should be reported for taxation purposes in the year it is received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand. If the services were rendered during the year 1928, or even prior thereto, but the compensation was not received until 1929, the entire amount is taxable in the year received, when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts basis. Most individuals use the cash receipts basis in reporting net income.

The salaries of Federal officers and employees are subject to the income tax, except the salaries of Federal judges and the President of the United States. The following items also are subject to the tax: Salaries of Members of the House of Representatives and United States Senate; fees received by ministers of the Gospel for funerals, baptisms, marriages, masses, and like services; Federal jury fees, executors' fees, fees received by a referee, trustee, or receiver under the National Bankruptcy Act, and retired pay.

(This is the seventh in a series of thirty-five articles on Federal income tax procedure supplied by the Bureau of International Revenue.)

PIPE LINE UNIT EXPANDS

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Co., has acquired, through outright purchase, the Wood Oil Company of Kentucky, according to announcement today by Frank P. Parish, president. Price paid was not revealed. But the new properties are said by Mr. Parish to "round out our Kentucky operations better than any other line-up we could have made."

NEW BORG-WARNER MOVE

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Entrance of the Borg-Warner Corporation into the replacement parts business on a nation-wide scale, involving the formation of a new subsidiary company, the taking over of five long-established parts warehouses and the extension of replacement parts manufacture to all its automotive units, was announced today by C. S. Davis, president of Borg-Warner Corporation.

December Net of Southwest Utility Soars

While 1929 consolidated net profits of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation and subsidiaries declined about 10 per cent from the amount reported for 1928, December net profits after all charges increased $78,402.89 or 78 per cent over December, 1928, to a total of $179,877.10, according to a preliminary statement covering the year's operations, issued yesterday by the company.

December gross earnings aggregated $429,076.46, against $370,703.53 for December, 1928, an increase of $58,372.93, or more than 15 per cent. The net operating income totaled $234,899.23, an increase of $30,525.56, or 15 per cent.

Consolidated gross operating earnings for the year ended December 31, last, aggregated $5,674,700.23, as compared with $5,461,340.09 for 1928, an increase of more than $200,000, or about 3½ per cent. The net operating income, however, declined $237,381.10, or more than 7 per cent to $2,882,728.65 and the net income after all charges fell off $128,603.57, or more than 10 per cent, to $995,908.89.

Nonoperating earnings for the year amounted to $196,151.59, an increase of more than $60,000. The nonoperating earnings for December totaled $79,785.80, a gain of more than $34,500.

Diamond Electric Outlook Bright

Prospects for the Diamond Electrical Manufacturing Company for the current year indicate a substantial increase in its volume of business in the Middle West, Texas and Canada, Vernon Brown, vice-president of the company, who has just returned from an eastern trip, reported yesterday.

Arrangements have been completed for distribution of the company's products in Western Canada, and this outlet will soon be expanded to include all the Canadian Provinces. A distributor has been appointed for Manila, Philippine Islands. The volume of business in January was practically the same as last year, but the addition to new lines and improvements is expected to increase the output materially in succeeding months, officials said. The company's annual report will be made public soon and will reveal earnings higher than previously estimated.

Richfield Oil Holders Gain

Common stockholders of the Richfield Oil Company as of January 20, last, numbered 14,165 as compared to 6426 on the corresponding date of 1929, an increase of 120 per cent, according to records of the transfer agents of the company, it was announced yesterday.

The average number of shares held per stockholder was given as 137.4 as against 294.3 on January 20, 1929.

NET REVENUES OF JEWEL TEA HIGHER

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (Exclusive) Jewel Tea Company, Inc., reported today a net income for the year closed December 28, last, of $1,691,302 after all charges, including taxes, equivalent to $6.04 a share on 280,000 capital shares. This compares with $1,530,888 reported earned in 1928, equal to $5.47 a share on the same capital.

Reserve Fund for Expansion Program Sought

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Directors of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation today increased the annual dividend rate from $3 to $4 by declaring quarterly distribution of $1 a share, payable March 29 to stock of record March 7.

Directors also voted to ask stockholders at the annual meeting April 15 to increase the total authorized capital stock from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 shares and to approve a change in the corporate title of the company to Paramount-Publix Corporation.

Adolph Zukor, president, stated that from careful check profits of the corporation for 1930 and from the results during January, the directors felt amply justified in increasing the annual dividend rate. The board has no intention at present of issuing any large amount of additional stock, he said. Mr. Zukor explained that there are at present outstanding 2,700,000 shares of common stock and an additional 250,000 shares reserved for employees under a plan approved by stockholders. This leaves only 50,000 shares unissued of the total authorized stock.

The additional authorized stock is desired to permit the corporation to expand through the purchase of additional properties when and if opportunities are presented.

January Sales of Chain Group Continue Gain

January chain-store sales continued the upward trend in volume which has been in evidence for a number of years, twenty-one systems thus far reporting showing aggregate sales of $101,394,535, which is a gain of $6,707,396 or 7 per cent over the volume for January, 1929, according to a compilation issued yesterday by George H. Burr & Co.

While most of the systems reporting have larger sales, National Bellas Hess and Melville Shoe reported smaller sales in the last year. Woolworth reported a gain of 4.2 per cent or $747,969 and many of the smaller chains reported larger gains on a percentage basis.

Sales of those that reported up to the time the list was compiled together with the percentage increase over January 1929, follow:

(Exclusive)—Stockholders of the Commonwealth Southern Corporation, allied Power and Light Corporation and Penn-Ohio Edison Company today in special meetings approved the merger of Commonwealth Southern, Allied Power and Light, Commonwealth Corporation, Penn-Ohio Edison and Southeastern Power and Light. Commonwealth Southern will exchange its common and preferred stocks for stocks of the other corporations.

NEW VIEW OF UTILITY FIELD

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—John J. O'Brien, wide-awake president of H. M. Byllesby & Co., of Chicago, thinks that more attention will soon be given by the public and the lawmakers to the sharply increasing degree of competition, which is springing up between gas and electric outfits.

The great strides made in steam and internal-combustion machines, due to their higher efficiency, will offer increasing competition to the extension of power. Just now cheap coal and oil prices, caused by overproduction, makes an unusual situation.

Neither does this utility leader believe that utilities are approaching any overextension or overproduction.

"The facts point to the contrary. And this is why expansion will continue on a reasonable earning basis," Mr. O'Brien says.

L. R. Smith, 46 years of age, president of the A. O. Smith Corporation of Milwaukee, was employing 1200 men when he began to develop his now-famous automatic machines.

His original purpose was "to build a plant to run without men." He spent five years' time and $8,000,000 on the chance that his automobile frame plant would run. It did and it was not long before the company was making, in Milwaukee, a large part of the automobile frames used by General Motors and several others, which were sold at a price far lower than the companies could make the frames in their own factories.

"We started out to build 7280 frames with 180 men. This was our objective. We know now that we can build 8000 frames with 120 men," said Mr. Smith.

It wasn't a boast. He was stating a plain fact of scientific interest.

Enter the factory, see it humming with life, every piece of machinery delicately attuned to every other—and hardly a worker to be seen.

With his automatic frame machinery perfected, Mr. Smith tackled another. In four months from the time he conceived the idea of manufacturing gas pipe, he had his automatic gas-pipe factory going. Today, after two years in the business, he sells more gas pipe than all the rest of the steel companies of the United States combined.

"Last year we did $60,000,000 gross business, made $7,500,000 and paid $600,000 in dividends," said Mr. Smith. "But we did it with 400 engineers and eight salesmen. Orthodox business reverses the process. We believe successful American business in the future will follow scientific research rather than high-powered sales methods to sell goods."

This practical dreamer has other far-reaching plans in mind, soon to be announced. He has only started. He is young. He has visions of what American industry—automatized—can do in the future.

One of the finest engineering research departments in America is being built at his plant. He believes in it because it has made him what he is—one of the most prosperous and important business leaders in the country.

APPOINTED MANAGER

H. H. Herkenhoff, formerly assistant manager at the Westlake Park branch, has been appointed manager of the Sixth and Western branch, California Bank, according to announcement yesterday by Arthur T. Brett, cashier. Mr. Herkenhoff succeeds E. E. R. Kalt, resigned.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Seasoned investment bonds lost some of their recent momentum in today's market, which ended a decline of more than $3,000,000 in the volume of trading from Friday's total. Prime rails and United States governments made small changes on diminished turnovers. Domestic industrials and convertible rails showed a little progress, but the average for thirty representative bonds was unchanged.

New Haven convertible 6s moved up 3⅛ points. The issue closed at 133¼ for a net gain of 3⅛. Atchison 4½s advanced half a point to 110. Chicago and Northwestern 4½s were up ¼.

Fractional improvement in Canadian National 4½s, 1935, New York Central 5s, Virginia 6s and Southern Railway 5s was matched by small downward movements in other high-grade carrier obligations, notably Union Pacific first 4s, Southern Railway general 4s, Reading general 4½s and Lake Shore 3½s. Missouri, Kansas and Texas prior lien B is now 2.

Trading in the industrials was not particularly brisk, but it carried Republic Iron and Steel 5½s and Lackawanna Steel 5s up more than a point and lifted rubber company bonds to slightly higher levels.

The utilities rested. American Telephone 5s of 1965 held just above 101, but were noticeably less active. The same company's convertible 4½s lost ⅜ on the day, while International Telephone's share privilege 4½s gained 1. Public Service Electric and Gas 4½s, when issued, moved in some volume at around 95½.

In the foreign section, Cuba Republic 5½s lost a point to 90¼ on announcement of a $40,000,000 offering of fifteen-year public works bonds, bearing the same coupon rate. The loan is to be sold tomorrow at 93. Changes in leading European government obligations were of a minor nature.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the highs, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Strong demand in early trading was replaced late today by pre-holiday profit-taking on the San Francisco Stock Exchange. As a result prices slipped back from their high marks for the session, which included a number of 1930 record altitudes, notable in the utility and industrial departments.

Brokers and floormen were full of optimism over California public Service stocks. They dug numerous ancient rumors out of moth balls, including about all the merger prognostications of the last year, with the additional suggestion that Pacific Public Service, the babe among the speculative favorites, would be included. Buying came into the group in convincing strength, and put Pacific Lighting up to a record high at 93, Pacific Gas to a peak at 66½, and Pacific Public Service to its year's crest at 33¼. The major part of the gain was held in each case. Pacific Telephone common and Great Western 7s also set 1930 marks.

Nosed out by a margin of one new high, the industrials made it a close race with the utilities. Pacool common and preferred reached records along with Caterpillar and Cleror, these issues having developed habits of setting new highs almost daily. Pool operations have been mentioned in connection with their pronounced gains.

Recessions in the industrial group were off a minor character. They included two new lows for the year—Hale Brothers and Leighton Industries B.

Price changes among the active oil stocks were slight, but the down trend appeared checked. Standard, Union and North American made slight gains, balancing losses by Richfield and Shell. Associated, which has been low inactive, skidded 10¾ points to 34¼. The Great proportion of this stock has been taken over by Tidewater-Associated.

No changes in the finance and banking groups were developed. Disappointing selling in Transamerica, was balanced by purchases for investment accounts, and by speculative commitments discounting possible favorable news to come from the directors' meeting two weeks hence.

Utilities Continue Upward to Feature Trading as Demand Holds Strong

Speculative activity in the public utility issues continued unabated as the week's trading was resumed yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Southern California Edison featured the volume and with Pacific Lighting and Pacific Public Service monopolized the interest of traders throughout the entire session.

Pacific Public Service, controlled and operated by Standard Oil of California, scored the sharpest advance with a gain of 2 points to a new top for the movement at 33. The issue closed at 32 3-4 after a transfer of 1400 shares. Pacific Lighting advanced 1 3-4 to a new current high at 92 1-4 and ended at 91 7-8, up 1 3-8 net. Pacific Gas and Electric, after reaching 60 5-8 closed at 60, unchanged.

Southern California Edison, next to Transamerica, was the most active issue on the board and on a steady demand quotations climbed to a new peak for the recent movement at 63 7-8, up 7-8. Late selling brought the close to 63 3-8, up 3-8 net. More than 66,000 rights were traded during the session during which the price jumped 25 cents to a new top at 3.70. The close was at 3.50.

Western Air Express and Douglas Aircraft were strong spots of the market on a lighter turnover. The former jumped 2 3-4 points to 36 and ended at 35½ and the latter, on a turnover of 700 shares, advanced 1 3-4 points to 15. Aero Corporation moved up 5 cents to 2.85 on light sales.

Oil stocks were neglected, the trading activity in this division being at practically the lowest point this year. There were no price changes of importance. Standard of California firmed up ½ to 59½.

Transamerica Corporation ranged within narrow limits, closing off 1-8 to 46 1-4. International Re-Insurance continued upward with a gain of another point to 47.

Wheat Futures Up on Slump in Visible Supply

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Announcement of a much greater decrease of the United States wheat visible supply than looked for helped give decided strength to wheat values today. For the last week the shrinkage of domestic stocks of wheat in sight proved to be 1,510,000 bushels in excess of the falling off a year ago, and this circumstance led to a lively outburst of buying. Persistent slackness of export business in North American wheat today was virtually ignored.

Wheat quotations in Chicago closed firm, ¾@1¼c per bushel above Saturday's finish. Corn closed at ⅝@⅞c advance, oats ⅛@⅜c up and provisions 5@12c down.

Adding to the upward impetus today of wheat values here were European advices talking of anxiety because of widespread freezing temperatures threatening crop damage, especially in France. Largely in this connection the Liverpool market was higher, and wheat in France showed a jump of 3¾ francs a bushel since Saturday, a rise of 9¼ francs since Thursday. Domestic winter wheat prospects were also reported as less promising, with numerous complaints at hand from parts of Ohio and Indiana, as well as Illinois and Missouri territory adjacent to St. Louis.

Highest prices of the day in the Chicago wheat market were reached during the last few minutes of trading, but at no time did setbacks go more than a trifle below Saturday's finish.

Corn and oats prices tightened up in response to wheat market strength. Besides, reports indicated the corn crop movement will not be as heavy as expected a short while ago.

Provisions acted slightly easier on account of commission-house selling of lard.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Moderate receipts, fairly evenly divided between steers and she stock, mostly with a rather slow but generally steady market. Majority of offerings changing hands by the noon hour. Steers which were a drug on the market late last week, were in much better demand. California and intermountain sections furnished bulk of offerings, with several strings from southwestern territory, latter shipments running largely to she stock and calves.

Several loads of medium to low good steers brought 11.35@11.75 and averaged up to 1160 pounds. Other loads of less quality and some with more weight made 10.75@11.25. Small lots of common steers sold down to 10.00 and below, with a few to feeder buyers at 9.00.

No loads of heifers were available but several sizable lots of common to medium quality sold up to 10.25. Three loads of top medium intermountain cows went to an outside killer at 8.85, with only odd head of good cows making 9.00. Bulk of common to medium arrivals turned at 7.25@8.50, with a fair representation at 8.75. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 4.00@6.75, with strong weight cutters up to 7.00. Several head of good butcher bulls reached 9.00, with bulk changing hands at 7.00@8.50. Several loads of southern stock vows sold by the head.

CALVES—A steady trade took practically all offerings. Vealers were scarce, with odd lots of good to choice kinds making 14.00@15.50 and a few going at more money. Bulk of plainer and heavier calves, including those of southerns, brought 10.00@12.50, with culls down to 8.50.

HOGS—Exceptionally light receipts for Monday were quickly disposed of at prices fully 25c higher than last Friday or a good 50c above the local close Saturday. Packing sows were practically lacking but quotable higher. Pigs were scarce, with some strong weights sharing the advance on butchers. Three loads of 178 to 200-pound Nebraska butchers topped at 12.00 with a 185-pound load at 11.85. A load of 148-pound Oklahomas turned at 11.70 and a load of 164-pound Colorados made 11.80. A sizable lot of 171-pound truckins scored 11.75. Other truck-ins averaged 11.50@11.60. Bulk of 190 to 210-pound weights, with some 130-pound pigs at 11.50. A rather rough packing sow made 9.00.

SHEEP—With the heaviest receipts in several weeks, fat lamb prices declined at least 25c and some members of the trade are quoting wooled lambs 50c lower, with even more decline. Owing to the scarcity of ewes, totally, prices were 50@75c above late sales. Three decks of medium 98-pound Utah lambs scored 12.10 and it is thought that good handy weight lambs would bring 12.25 to possibly 12.50. Four decks of 96-pound Utah lambs in fair flesh brought 11.90 and two decks of similar kinds at 11.75. A short deck of strictly good 119-pound ewes made 7.25.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—After scoring gains of from 10 to 30 points on encouraging cables from the London market, futures on local rubber exchanges today reacted from the day's high levels to close 5@10 points net lower, with prices below last Saturday's final prices. Liquidation in this market was prompted by a recession in London, where an early gain of 1d made in the early dealings was cancelled. Sales, 287 lots, or 717½ long tons.

Crude stocks at London last week, which amounted to 81,462 tons, showed an increase of 1002 tons, while in Liverpool stocks decreased 137 tons to 19,761. Spot prices in London closed firm and were changed at 7¾d, while in Singapore the spot delivery rose 2-16d to 7 4d. Outside spot here was down ⅛c to 15¼c.

NEW ISSUE

REPUBLIC OF CUBA

Public Works 5½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated January 1, 1930 — Due June 30, 1945

Total authorized issue, $80,000,000. To be presently outstanding, $40,000,000. Principal and semi-annual interest (June 30 and December 31) payable in gold coin of or equivalent to the present standard of weight and fineness of the United States of America gold coin at The Chase National Bank of the City of New York in New York City or Havana, at the holder's option, without deduction for any Cuban taxes present or future. Redeemable as an entirety at any time at 105% of the principal amount thereof and accrued interest on sixty days' notice. Callable for the sinking fund at 100 and accrued interest on 30 days' notice. Coupon Bonds in the denomination of $1,000 registerable as to principal only.

The Bonds will be entitled to the benefit of a sinking fund, payable in equal installments in cash and/or Bonds previously purchased, semi-annually on December 31, 1935 and on June 30 and December 31 in each year thereafter to and including June 30, 1945, sufficient to retire the Bonds by maturity.

The following information regarding these Bonds is from information furnished by His Excellency Mario Ruiz Mesa, Secretary of the Treasury of the Republic of Cuba:

Security: The Public Works 5½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds are direct obligations of the Republic of Cuba. These Bonds are specifically secured, as provided in an agreement with the Republic of Cuba, by a first preferential lien and charge to the extent required for payment of principal and interest on 90% of the revenues collected from certain taxes specified in the Cuban Public Works Law of July 15, 1925, as amended, subject to outstanding Public Works 5½% Serial Certificates limited to $20,000,000 maturing serially on and prior to June 30, 1933. The agreement establishes an intermediate credit for a period of one year under which 5½% deferred payment work certificates ranking pari passu in lien with these Bonds and maturing at the expiration of the credit may be issued to an amount not exceeding $20,000,000, subject to the requirement that, as additional Bonds of this issue are sold, the proceeds shall be applied to the payment of advances under the credit and/or the amount of the credit shall be correspondingly reduced.

Pledged Revenues: The revenues pledged as security for these Bonds include the tax imposed on automobiles and other vehicles, importation and consumption of gasoline, one-half per cent tax on sales and gross receipts, the surcharge on customs duties, the tax on the export of money or its equivalent, the tax on the rent and income of real property or property rights and 50% of the excess territorial tax.

The amounts collected from the taxes under the Public Works Law in the first four fiscal years, after settlement for adjustments and refunds, and the official estimates of the revenues to be derived from such taxes for each fiscal year of the twenty-year period ending June 30, 1945, are as follows:

Year Ending June 30	Amounts Collected	Official Estimates
1926	$12,162,628.25	$10,000,000
*1927	15,904,075.20	16,000,000
1928	16,680,448.46	16,000,000
1929	18,034,340.41	18,000,000
1930-45 inclusive		18,000,000

* Does not include $2,958,574.34 transferred to the Special Fund for Public Works constituted by the Public Works Law.

Purpose of Issue: The Public Works Law of 1925 contemplates a comprehensive program of improvements, national in character, and of great economic importance to Cuba. The program includes the construction of the great Central Highway of over 700 miles in length, traversing the island and connecting the various Provinces with Havana; the construction of water works, bridges, sewer and drainage systems, public schools and public buildings. Over 62% of the Central Highway is substantially completed, and 341 miles are now in use. It is expected that the Central Highway will be completely finished and in use by March 1931. The Public Works 5½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds and said $20,000,000 credit are for the purpose of refunding or paying indebtedness of the Republic incurred for work completed and accepted in accordance with the provisions of the Public Works Law.

General: The present population of the Republic of Cuba is estimated in excess of 3,500,000. The total funded debt of the Republic as of the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1929, was $87,174,200, exclusive of $20,000,000 Public Works 5½% Serial Certificates outstanding, of which $77,660,000 was external. Floating indebtedness as of the same date amounted to approximately $5,000,000. Between 1904, the year during which the oldest of the external issues now outstanding was made, and January 31, 1930, the Republic of Cuba has retired, through payment of serial maturities or sinking fund operations, a total of $47,800,500 of external bonds.

It is expected that application will be made in due course to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

A substantial portion of this issue has been withdrawn for sale in Europe and Cuba.

All legal matters are to be passed upon when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of all legal proceedings by Messrs. Rushmore, Bisbee & Stern, of New York, and on questions arising under Cuban laws by Dr. Antonio Sanchez de Bustamante and Dr. Enrique Hernandez Y Cartaya, of Havana. It is expected that Interim Receipts or Temporary Bonds will be delivered in the first instance.

Price 98 and interest, to yield about 5.70%

NATURAL GAS —Genie of the Mills

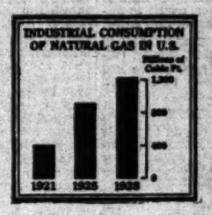
A Utility Romance: UNITED GAS COMPANY

In the vast theatre that covers Southwestern United States, an industrial drama is being enacted wherein the greatest players are mills and machines; where the unfolding of successive acts announces further progress for an advancing civilization. It is the Arabian Nights story retold on a colossal scale. The industrialist is Aladdin, the mill is the Wonderful Lamp—and Natural Gas is the Genie. With twice the heating value of manufactured gas at one-quarter the cost per unit of energy, it is a magic fuel that aids in the growth of this great territory.



United Gas Company, through its subsidiaries, serves hundreds of industrial plants and thousands of homes where Natural Gas is exclusively used for cooking and heating. The Company, now the third largest of its kind, is managed by men who pioneered in the extensive development of the Texas and Louisiana natural gas fields, and whose policy looks forward to a steady growth in the reserves, resources, physical equipment, territory served and business of its operating companies. One ideal has actuated the management: sound, steady Growth—a Super-Gas System.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Prices on the curb exchange were churned about in a rather erratic manner today, but the main trend was again upward, with the active public utilities in the forefront of the advance. Several inactive specialties dropped to new low levels for the year, and there were sharp declines in a couple of high priced utilities, which ordinarily change hands in small lots. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

Allied Power and Light moved up more than 3 points and retained most of its gain, on buying influenced by reports of the favorable attitude of the merger terms recently proposed by Commonwealth and Southern. warrants of which also sold at a new high price. American Gas and Electric, Italian Superpower and Penn-Ohio Edison advanced 2 to 3 points. Electric Bond and Share and American Superpower gained nearly as much. Duke Power broke 14 points and American Light and Traction 9 on a few sales.

Humble Oil responded to the publication of an excellent 1929 report, showing net income of about $32,000,000 against less than $20,000,000 last year, by moving up more than 3 points to a new 1930 high at 87½. Standard Oil of Kentucky advanced 1¾ and Gulf 1.

Renewal of selling pressure against Fox Theaters, which closed a point lower, was based on unconfirmed rumors that the new recapitalization plan for Fox Films, to be submitted at a Federal Court hearing tomorrow, involves heavy new financing, and would prove unacceptable to William Fox, increasing the possibility of a receivership.

Recent strength of Aluminum Company of America, which advanced 3 points, is attributed to reports that the company was perfecting a new colored aluminum. Deshler Radio, up 1, and Western Air Express, up 1½, were the features of the radio and aviation groups. Parmelee Motors moved up 1¼ points to 65 a share.

Investment trust displayed a firm undertone. Pennroad was active around the year's high of 16½.

Harriman Tobacco and MacMarr Stores fell into new low ground.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

We strongly urge the purchase of shares in a Royalty Company paying regular monthly dividends to stockholders. This Company has good earnings indicated by continued increased profits from well selected Landowners Royalties in major oil fields operated by the largest Oil Companies. 90 Wells now producing—40 Wells now drilling. Any bank will vouch for and recommend the experienced executives of this Company.

This coupon will bring full and detailed information without obligation.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Inquiry for the finer domestic wools is somewhat broader than a week ago. The firmer tendency and some slight advance in Ohio fleeces has inspired hopefulness that a turn has come so that mills can go ahead and convert their spins in confidence. Sales for week ending the 8th inst. amounted to 3,619,500 pounds, compared with 1,178,100 pounds the previous week.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Wash. at Verm't.—"Behind the Make-up." Excellent characterizations by William Powell and Hal Sizelly make a fair story interesting.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Devil May Care." The adventurous spirit of Napoleonic days is brought to light by Ramon Novarro in an acceptable musical drama of love and bravery.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Anna Christie." Greta Garbo plays the lines of Eugene O'Neill's heroine in fine style. Clarence Brown has done some of his best directing.

Figueroa, Fig. at 8th, Barbara.—"This Thing Called Love." Matrimonial entanglements made humorously clever by Edmund Lowe and the continental Constance Bennett.

Fitmarte, 1228 Vine—"The Loves of Jeanne Ney." A story of utmost realism and charm well told by a German cast.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"Their Own Desire." The effects of parental divorce upon modern youth is shown in this pleasant and sophisticated drama starring Norma Shearer.

Million Dollar, Bdwy. at 3rd.—"Half Way to Heaven." Acrobats made very human in a quietly sincere story telling of Charles Rogers's love for Jean Arthur.

Palace, Bdwy. bet. 6th. & 7th.—"Romance of the Rio Grande." On the order of "Old Arizona." Well played by Warner Baxter, Mary Duncan and Mona Maris.

Ritz, 5200 Wilshire—"Romance of the Rio Grande." See above.

R.K.O., Hill at 8th.—"The Vagabond Lover." Rudy Vallee croons some of his well-known songs but makes just fair headway as a screen hero.

Uptown, Western at 10th.—"Romance of the Rio Grande." See above.

United Artists, Bdwy. at 9th.—"The Locked Door." Murder and mystery, marriage and society, all made rather thrilling behind closed doors. Rod La Rocque is in it.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th.—"Son of the Gods." An unusual picture of fine workmanship, relating fast moving drama on the continent. Barthelmess in a Chinese role.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"Wedding Rings." All those things that ever happen to marriages happen all over again, for any who are interested. M. J. Warner and Lois Wilson.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff's fine war play is produced splendidly by an English company with Basil Gill.

El Capitan, Holly'd Blvd. nr. Highland. "Ladies of the Jury." The jury reveals itself as quite a humorous group in this farce comedy led by the capricious Mary Boland.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1723 Vine.—"It Pays to Advertise." A good comedy about how love can come from making soap. Robert McWade returns.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th.—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on. Featuring the score hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Percy Ikeham and Josephine Houston.

Mayan, Hill at 11th.—"Bambina." Some nice music though not much plot, describes this Venetian operetta. Nancy Welford's personality stands out, and there are Ernest Wood and Al St. John.

Mission Play, San Gabriel.—The beautiful annual pageant of the settling of California, up to its usual standard. With R. D. MacLean.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"And So To Bed." James B. Fagan's adventurous comedy of seventeenth century naughtiness delightfully done by members of the new Civic Repertory Theater.

President, Bdwy. at 8th.—"Give and Take." Big business in a comic factory with Kolb and Dill arguing a lot and the audience laughing just as much.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine.—"Sun-Up." Came the dawn in the Tennessee mountains, bringing drama, tragedy and Lucille LaVerne in her perennial masterpiece.

VARIETIES

UNION RADIO STATION GETS COAST CHANNEL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Radio Commission today granted radio station WCFL, Chicago, permission to broadcast two hours after sunset daily on a frequency of 970 kilocycles, which is the cleared channel assigned to station KJR, Seattle. The Chicago Federation of Labor, owner of WCFL, has been pressing a claim for a cleared channel for more than a year, carrying its fight before the Radio Committee in Congress and the courts.

RAIL BOARD NOMINEE'S RECORD HIT

Alabama Senator Scores Tate, But McKellar Says Career "Distinguished"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The nomination of Hugh M. Tate, Tennessee, Republican, for membership in the Interstate Commerce Commission, was described in the Senate today by Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, as a violation of the spirit and letter of the law.

Senator Black placed before the Senate for reference to the committee having the Tate nomination before it some of the clients of Tate's law firm in Knoxville, which included the Knoxville Power and Light Company, and the Southern Railroad.

"I put this in to show," he said, "that this member selected to represent the South on the commission has been selected in conflict with the law. Some of us feel that out of the thousands of men from the South it is unfair to name a man who has been in the environment of the railroad, power, telephone and telegraph side of this great question."

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, defended Tate. He said the nominee has had a "distinguished career."

Tate, he said, would be "one of the ablest men on the commission if confirmed."

Bank in Texas Fails to Open

ENNIS (Tex.) Feb. 10. (AP)—The First National Bank of Ennis failed to open today. Its affairs were placed in the hands of a national bank examiner following a run Saturday. It is believed arrangements will be made for payment of depositors in full.

The bank was capitalized at $100,000 and had deposits around $550,000.

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Feb. 10. (AP)—The Commercial National Bank here failed to open today. A bank examiner was investigating its books. It is reported the closing is temporary.

NOVELIST GIVES WRITING TIPS

Fiction Must Have Basis of Truth

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bell Wright

TRUTH may be stranger than fiction but modern fiction must be true.

At least, Harold Bell Wright says that is his only recipe for a successful novel. The novelist, returning from Honolulu yesterday aboard the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles with Mrs. Wright, thinks that a fiction story, to be successful, must first be founded on facts, and that geographical atmosphere should be correct.

Mr. Wright has been in Hawaii for six months, during which time he wrote a novel, based on Indian legends of the Southwest, to be published next July.

He declared with obvious pride that he believes himself to be the first writer who has sojourned at length in Hawaii without attempting an epic story of the islands. He told reporters that his only rule for writing is "a waste basket and a yen for lots of hard work." The Wrights will stay at the Biltmore this week before going to their desert home near Tucson.

PURPORTED REDS GIVEN PENALTIES

Two Appeal Sentence and One Pays Fine on Charge of Blocking Sidewalk

Three asserted Communists yesterday were given the alternative of fines or jail sentences when convicted in Municipal Judge Stutsman's court on charge of blocking the sidewalk at a street meeting. Irving Kreitzberg, 900 Hazard street, and George Kiost, 1302 West Pico street, were given the choice of paying $25 fine or serving five days in jail. They gave notice of appeal to the Superior Court, and were released in $100 bail each. Louis Schneiderman, 2755 Winter street, paid a fine of $10.

Policemen Oliver and Frank charged that the three were holding a meeting at Towne avenue and Fifth street, and that Schneiderman refused to stop speaking after admitting he had no permit. Kreitzberg took up the speaking, while Kiost blocked the sidewalk, the police testified. Lieut. Hynes of the Red squad said Schneiderman and Kiost have been arrested before on similar charges.

Juvenile Court Referee Soon to Leave for Home

Judge Miriam Van Waters, referee of the Juvenile Court, yesterday was reported returning here for six weeks following her service as director of a nation-wide study of child crime under the joint auspices of the President's National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement and the White House conference on child health and protection. The chairman is another Californian, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior.

Dr. Van Waters also is president of the National Conference on Social Work. She adds to the work of the commission valuable experience gained in the Boston crime survey, results of which are to be published.

MAYOR ASKS SUPPORT FOR BOND ISSUE

Civic Agencies Urged to Combine in Behalf of City Water Program

A statement calling on all civic agencies to combine in behalf of the proposed $38,800,000 water bond issue, which it is proposed to submit to the voters this spring, was issued yesterday by Mayor Porter.

He declared that the proposed issue has received the approval of himself, the Department of Water and Power, the Chamber of Commerce, the Council's Water and Power Committee and the Citizens' Water and Power Committee.

The itemized list of expenditures calls for $17,181,000 for watersheds and lands in Mono and Inyo counties; for water development, including diversion of the Mono waters, $10,300,000; for enlargement of the present Aquedust, $600,000; additional local storage, $7,500,000, and new distribution facilities, $3,219,000.

It was explained that a survey will be made to arrive at the sum of a bond issue for power extension, which will be submitted at a later date.

The people are assured that a rise in water rates is not contemplated.

S. C. LEWIS LOSES APPEAL

Circuit Court Upholds Conviction of Promoter and Jacob Berman in Mail-Fraud Case

The United States Circuit Court of Appeal, sitting in San Francisco, yesterday upheld the judgment of the Federal District Court of Los Angeles, finding S. C. Lewis and Jacob Berman guilty of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud in connection with the affairs of the Lewis Oil Corporation, of which the former was president and the latter a stock salesman.

Apprised of the decision, Lewis issued a lengthy statement in which he announced his intention of carrying his appeal to the United States Supreme Court. He was not optimistic of success, however.

"I have no great hopes of winning in the Supreme Court," said Lewis, "because it seldom reverses the decision of the Circuit Court; but, nevertheless, the appeal will be made in good faith."

JACK BENNETT

Lewis and Berman were convicted here on evidence that they had obtained loans on five-year gold notes of the Lewis Oil Corporation by misrepresenting that their concern owned control of the Julian Petroleum Corporation. Each defendant is under sentence of seven years in a Federal prison and a fine of $16,000.

The pair based their appeals, which were submitted to the Circuit Court at San Francisco, December 13, 1929, on the grounds that certain testimony and records introduced at the trial were inadmissible as evidence.

The verdict sustained by the higher tribunal yesterday was returned by a jury in United States District Judge Henning's court, October 30, 1928, after seven hours' deliberation. The government contended that the defendants conspired to defraud the pub-

FUND PROVIDED FOR DAM QUEST

San Gabriel Sites Will be Surveyed at Once

Supervisors Vote $10,000 to Seek New Locations

Money Refused for Tunnel at Abandoned Locale

Paving the way for a survey of the San Gabriel Canyon to determine if one or more low dams can be built to take the place of the recently abandoned proposed high dam, the Board of Supervisors yesterday voted $10,000 to cover initial expenses of the survey work.

In voting this sum, however, it was indicated there will be no more work of any character at the high-dam site. Supervisors Graves and Shaw said they will not "vote another nickel" for the new survey work at the old dam site, and gave their consent to the appropriation of the $10,000 only with the understanding that it is to be used in an effort to locate new possible dam sites in the east and west forks of the San Gabriel.

DOUBT EXPRESSED

The board's action resulted from the request of Flood Control Engineer Eaton for $25,000 to make the survey and to complete an exploratory tunnel under the abandoned dam site.

Eaton had asked that the money be appropriated, if possible, from the $21,000,000 bond surplus remaining in the county coffers as a result of abandoning the high-dam plans. He said $10,000 would be needed for an aerial and topographical survey of the upper stretches of the canyon, while $15,000 was desired to complete the exploratory tunnel.

County Counsel Mattoon, who was present at the hearing, expressed the legal opinion that it is doubtful if any of the bond money can be used for Eaton's request.

PROTESTS MADE

Mattoon pointed out that as the bonds were voted for the purpose of "controlling and conserving the flood waters of San Gabriel Canyon" there is a legal question as to whether the county can use any of the money for low dams until sites are located and specifications for any such dams are drawn.

In the meantime both Graves and Shaw had voiced protests against the expenditure of any more money at the old dam site, so Eaton's request to complete the exploratory tunnel at that site was tabled for an indefinite period.

The board appropriated the $10,000 from the general flood-control fund.

INFORMATION WANTED

Supervisor McClellan said he believes there are two possible sites for dams in the East Fork of the San Gabriel. He expressed a desire to accompany Eaton on a trip through the West Fork to obtain first-hand information on the desirability of any possible sites in that part of the watershed.

Eaton said he has arranged to start the survey of the East and West Forks next Monday. Practically all of the preliminary work will be done by airplane.

It was indicated yesterday that the board may ask the Supreme Court for a ruling to determine whether the present available bonds can be used for the construction of any dams in the canyon other than the high dam for which they were voted.

Maurice Graham Searchers Back to Fix Motors

Pilots Jimmie James and Fred W. Kelly landed here yesterday to have new motors installed in the planes they have flown many thousand miles in search of their missing airmail pilot friend, Maurice Graham, unheard of since he took off from Las Vegas, Nev., a month ago. Pilot Allen Barrie remained in Nevada to carry on while the other two ships are getting new power plants.

Twenty Indians are being organized in Las Vegas to search carefully on foot the thirty square miles of Piute Mesa, 100 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

It is announced at Western Air Express headquarters that the ground and air search will not be abandoned until Graham's fate has been solved.

STREET PETITION ASKED

Mrs. F. B. Gayzo yesterday asked the City Council to give her a petition to be circulated calling for the opening of Sixty-fourth street into Main street. The request was referred to the City Engineer and Opening and Widening Committee.

YOU'D BETTER GET RID OF THAT POLICE BADGE

Police badges, of which some 5000 in addition to those held by police officers are reported to be in circulation, promise to be a drug on the market under the provisions of the new badge ordinance drafted for approval of the Police Commission and passage by the City Council.

It provides that after March 1, 1930, penalties up to $500 or six months in jail, or both, may be applied for possession of present badges, and that a separate offense for each day or part thereof may be charged until such badges are turned in to the Police Commission for destruction. The penalty also applies to unauthorized possession of new police badges.

Two dies, one for the new official police badges, and for the new special police badges, are to be submitted to the commission for approval today by Glenn L. Cox, manufacturer. Bids for manufacture of the badges are to be asked by the city purchasing agent.

The ordinance provides that outside of the members of the police department, official police badges may be issued only to the Mayor, his secretary, the Police Commission, its secretary, the City Council and the secretary to the Chief of Police. Provision is made for a limited number of police press badges.

It provides that no person shall possess one of the new badges without authority of the commission, that a record of each one issued must be kept by a member of the police department who shall be "badge custodian;" that each badge shall be the property of the city and not of the individual to whom it is issued, and that the charge shall be $5 for the official police badge and $4 for the special badge, which money will be refunded when the badge is turned back to the commission.

ROCKWELL MAY DECIDE TO REMAIN

Plans to Depict Cinema Characters Announced Soon After Arrival

The "Wild West," as Norman Rockwell, New York cover-page artist, may see it in Hollywood and elsewhere around Los Angeles may be portrayed on the front cover of almost any issue of the Saturday Evening Post or Ladies' Home Journal.

Rockwell, New Yorker born and bred, began doing the town yesterday in tow of Vic Forsythe, the artist who does his comic strip and some more serious desert portrayals in his Alhambra studio.

Rockwell's character depictions on the Post and Journal from now on are likely to show the Hollywood influence, he admitted, inasmuch as that is what he came here for. In fact, he very definitely has in mind doing some "Hollywood" covers showing film characters as he sees them on studio lots and in their more or less native haunts.

At the end of his first twelve hours he was impressed in a number of ways by the absence of the hidebound standardization of the East in every field and declared he is likely to remain here and work on his twelve-a-year for the Post and six-a-year for the Journal "from now on."

Both the magazines, he said, will welcome Hollywood depictions.

Mabel Normand Resting Easily

Mabel Normand, screen actress, who has been suffering with tuberculosis for the past year, continues to rest comfortably following a blood transfusion performed last Thursday at Pottenger's Sanatorium in Monrovia, according to Mrs. Julia Benson, her secretary.

Mrs. Benson said late yesterday afternoon that Miss Normand seems to be in a fairly cheerful frame of mind, and that as yet no change has been noted in her condition as a result of the transfusion.

UPLAND MAN SEEKS AUNT

Information of the whereabouts of Mrs. Samuel W. Christophel, widow of Samuel W. Christophel, former Los Angeles newspaper employee, is sought in a letter received by The Times yesterday from Christian C. Miller of 535 First avenue, Upland. Christophel died about fifteen years ago, and Miller, who is a nephew, believes some one in the city may be able to supply the widow's address.

ALLISTER MacDONALD, son of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, will leave Los Angeles today aboard the 9:30 a.m. T.A.T.-Maddux plane. He is due in New York without delay, following several weeks spent in Hollywood studying sound photography. He is associated with a British motion-picture organization, and has been obtaining close-up information about the latest developments in sound pictures for the guidance of his company.

The sons of the chosen heads of the two greatest nations dined together Sunday night when young MacDonald and Herbert Hoover, Jr., were guests of Henry M. Robinson, president of the Security-First National Bank, at dinner. Mr. Hoover is associated as a radio expert with Western Air Express.

Job's 'Up in Air,' So Shuler Will Fly to Bay City

Rev. R. P. Shuler will leave tomorrow for San Francisco, he said last night, to inspect the plans for the new church which has been offered him in the Bay City and for a general survey of the city. Although Shuler said he was not sure when he would leave, he made a reservation yesterday morning on the San Francisco plane of the Western Air Express, scheduled to leave early this morning.

"Everything is up in the air," Shuler said last night. "I have made no plans and can make no definite announcement until I return from San Francisco." Several days ago he announced he had received an offer from Mrs. Lizzie Glide, a wealthy Berkeley resident, to head a church which she would build in San Francisco. The pastor said his offer includes a salary of $10,000 yearly, a furnished house for his family and further, that the church would be endowed with sufficient funds to pay all operating expenses including salaries.

When Shuler made his announcement that he was considering the San Francisco offer he said the change might give him larger opportunities for his work and that his enthusiasm might be aroused in uncovering the wickedness of a strange city.

MAYOR RATIFIES BELL ORDINANCE

Cement Mill Operations Can Begin on March 16

Porter Issues Statement on "Political Opposition"

Opponents May Go to Court or Seek Referendum

Mayor Porter late yesterday afternoon signed the ordinances which will allow Alphonzo Bell, oil millionaire, to erect in the residential area of the Santa Monica Mountains a quarry and rock-crushing plant as a part of his cement - mill scheme.

JOHN C. PORTER

The ordinances were taken to City Clerk Dominguez at once. Publication will be made Thursday, on the morning of March 16 Bell can start operations.

In signing the ordinances, Mayor Porter issued a 700-word statement in which he pointed out: That an agreement has been made by Bell limiting the trucking of crushed rock to the area bounded by Beverly Glen Boulevard on the east and Beverly Boulevard and Santa Monica city on the south.

The Mayor also made an attack upon "certain agencies," which he did not name, which he accused of "adverse propaganda" published for "political purposes," "special privileges," "distorting facts," "villification" and "threats."

In an interview after signing the ordinances, Mayor Porter refused to name the "certain agencies," and declined to affirm that he meant those property owners whose properties are contiguous to Bell's proposed cement plant, and who have been pleading with him for a week to veto the measures.

In answer to questions, he said that he has not swerved from his pre-election declarations last spring opposing invasion of residential areas by industry. He said that the Bell plant is "remote."

KNOWS OF NO CHECK

He denied any knowledge of reported heavy contributions by Bell to his campaign. Some months ago, when an effort was made to force Mayor Porter into court on a campaign-expenditure investigation, a subpoena was issued demanding that Bell bring in a $5000 check showing a contribution to the Porter campaign.

"I know nothing about such a contribution," said Mayor Porter yesterday. "No such contribution was made to me. I don't know what money the George Pepperdine committee received, which was handled by Albert Sherman, but Sherman denies receiving the sum from Bell."

Messrs. Sherman and Pepperdine, it is understood, accompanied the Mayor on his inspection trip to the Bell property Friday morning, when, according to Rev. Gustav Briegleb, also on the trip, they were joined by Bell and two of his agents.

An hour before the ordinances were signed Milton Gardner, a Bell agent, and Mr. Sherman were in conference with Ellis Eagan, the Mayor's research secretary, who recently, in opposition to the legal staff of City Attorney Werner, held the ten "provisions" in the ordinances are in fact enforceable.

Opponents of the Bell plant have two recourses. They may go into court and fight the ordinances on the ground that the act is illegal, or they may circulate referendum petitions forcing the ordinance to a vote of the people.

The stroke of the Mayor's pen yesterday was the latest phase in a fight waged by Bell to get his cement plant, and his neighbors to keep it out, which has been going on for nearly two years. The City Planning Committee held more than 100 sessions, and at last voted, 3 to 2, to approve the permit. On January 9 the City Council voted, 10 to 5, to grant the permit.

OIL MEN CALL CONFERENCE

Leaders of Industry Declare Wastage Problem Beyond Them, and Ask Public to Aid

A meeting to inform the public of what is declared to be a grave peril to California prosperity in the present chaotic oil-and-gas production situation, so that it may take such steps as need be for protection, will be called by the Chamber of Commerce for an early date, possibly Friday. The proposal to hold such a meeting developed at a conference yesterday at which a Clearing-house Association committee conferred with representatives of the chamber. California Oil and Gas Association, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, Automobile Club of Southern California, and various oil companies.

L. R. ST. CLAIR

H. R. MACMILLAN

It was urged that the chamber mass meeting include representatives of the civic bodies and whatever other interests are necessary to make it a cross-section of California interests.

"You are here," Vice-President Victor Rossetti of Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, chairman of the clearinghouse committee, explained to the conference yesterday, "to get a picture of the oil industry in this State—the precariousness of it. The situation is serious, especially when we realize that the growth of Los Angeles can be attributed to the oil industry."

Rossetti said the association's attention was called forcibly to the situation specially by Vice-President St. Clair of Union Oil Company, and that the association had undertaken to start a public awakening in the interests of business stability. He presented St. Clair, who said:

"We are producing too much oil in California. We are able to produce right now about 1,000,000 bar-

The Lancer

By Harry Carr

"The aviation business has gone color crazy," says a New York dispatch of the Associated Press.

The aviation business could go much color-crazier with benefit. It would, for instance, simplify the problem of finding the lost plane of Maury Graham, the mail flyer, if his plane were scarlet against the white snows of the Utah mountains.

BIG FEET

Primo Carnera, the giant Italian prize fighter, has cleaned up something over $45,000 during the few weeks he has been knocking over dubs in America.

There is nothing so naive as the American public on pleasure bent. The only important facts about Signor Carnera are that he has the biggest feet in the world, and is about eight feet tall. He can't fight a lick.

But, after all, I dare say that if one has the biggest feet in the world he ought to cash in on them one way or another.

SAVING THE TREE

The Board of Public Works gets a couple of rounds of applause from me for having put a little wiggle into the new concrete bridge on Avenue Fifty-two in order to save a tree.

This tree in the Arroyo Seco is a magnificent old giant at least 200 years old. In saving it the Board of Public Works has lent picturesqueness to what would have been an ugly bridge.

LINDY'S SECRET

A lot of us are burning with curiosity as to the reason Col. Lindbergh is sailing around Tejon Pass on a glider. Certainly it isn't for the fun of gliding.

The biggest problem of commercial aviation is the problem of air currents over the western mountains. That is where most of the bad bumps have taken place. By the time Col. Lindbergh gets through feeling around with the glider I imagine that air currents will be less of a problem than now.

Incidentally, anyone who is consumed with curiosity as to what Lindy intends to do or why is in a bad way.

AS TO POLO

Unless I am a bad guesser, polo will eventually become almost as much a matter of public excitement as football in California.

In late years the polo clubs have taken a wise and generous view of this game. It used to be a private affair for club members only—with the public shut out the other side of the gate. Now it is the universal custom to admit the folks.

In doing so the country clubs act through graciousness and friendly feelings. There isn't a polo field in the country big enough to pay the expenses of the horse feed. It costs a young fortune to stage a polo game of any kind. When the teams come from the East and from Argentina the bills run into hundreds of thousands.

As a matter of entertainment there is more thrill to it than to any other game I have ever seen.

Ramsay MacDonald—unless he has a lot of confidence in his son and heir—must have uncomfortable moments when he learns that the young man is making speeches in Los Angeles on "the

EARLE SUIT MAY BE OVER TODAY

Court to Rule on Continuing Artist's Balm Case

Defense Lawyers Argue Girl Without Grounds

She Tells of "Affinity" Being "Mean Old Grouch"

Miss Dolores Salazar, Spanish girl, suing Ferdinand Pinney (Affinity) Earle, artist, for $30,000 on asserted prenuptial contracts, will know this morning, when Superior Judge Archbald convenes court, whether her case will go to the jury for a decision or whether a verdict will be directed for the defendant.

Attorneys Sam Steelman and William B. Ogden, counsel for Earle, spent the entire afternoon yesterday with arguments on a motion for a directed verdict. They asked that the judge direct a verdict in favor of the artist on the grounds Miss Salazar was not induced to marry Earle on a promise of money; also that Dolores knew Earle was a married man at the time he asked her to marry him, therefore, there could not be, under the law, a valid prenuptial contract.

Just what the decision of Judge Archbald will be is problematical. He declared that while much of his sympathy is with Miss Salazar, still, on the other hand, the legal phases advanced by the attorneys for the artist had a great deal of merit in them. He then continued the hearing until 10 a.m. today, at which time he will make a final ruling on the motion.

Miss Salazar was the first witness called by her attorneys, Roger Marchetti and I. Bear Newman, in rebuttal. She took the stand during the morning to offset testimony in the artist's depositions in which he declared that he was always kind, courteous and gentlemanly toward Dolores except on one occasion, a time when he slapped her face in Mexico during an argument over her eating rich sundaes.

According to Miss Salazar, Earle was a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

"He acted very sweet and kind to me in public," she said and then added: "But when we were alone he was grouchy and irritable and disgusted with me. He was just a mean old grouch."

Miss Salazar originally sued the artist for $180,000. The amount in the action, however, was reduced to $15,000, the trial to be confined to counts in which the girl is endeavoring to recover $15,000 on an asserted prenuptial contract and another $15,000 she says Earle promised her as a fund for her maintenance.

The only time Gilbert Ray spoke to his wife during the last year of their married life was to call her names, Mrs. Emma Alice Ray testified before Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday when asking for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty.

"What was the matter?" asked the judge.

"He was just full of anger. For me, it was like living in jail," the wife replied and added, "he wouldn't even give me a dollar a week to spend."

LEWIS LASHES STOCK BROKERS

Convicted Julian Chief Tells More Issue Secrets

Resumes His Deposition for $15,000,000 Suit

Calls Traders Hi-jackers and Blackmailers

Julian Petroleum Corporation stock to the value of $91,699,068.25 was traded over the boards of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during 1926 and the first four months of 1927 and for a portion of this period members of the exchange knew that there was a large overissue in the hands of the investing public.

This assertion was the highlight of a full day of testimony by S. C. Lewis, former president of the defunct corporation, yesterday as he continued a deposition in Superior Judge Tappaan's court being taken in connection with a $15,000,000 action by former stockholders against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of local brokers.

Lewis, already convicted in Federal Court of obtaining money by false pretenses and under indictment on another charge in the same court, began his account of the amazing financing which led up to the Julian crash a number of weeks ago and returned to the witness stand yesterday morning. At least another week will be required, according to counsel for Lewis, to finish his story.

READS FIGURES

Reading from statements gathered by himself since the collapse of the Julian company Lewis asserted yesterday that in all 7,900,196 shares of Julian stock were traded on the local exchange. He had already testified that something near 200,000 shares had been authorized by the State Corporation Commission and that the corporate charter of the company authorized only 600,000 shares.

It was in the last few months of 1926 and through the first four months of 1927 that the overissue became apparent, according to Lewis yesterday, and almost from that time he discussed the situation with various brokers and officials of the stock exchange, he asserted, from the witness stand. Trading in the stock was suspended May 6, 1927, he declared.

It was early in 1927, according to Lewis's story, that the overissue was discussed with John E. Jardine, president of the stock exchange and at the time. Jardine was informed that in Lewis's opinion, the overissue would amount to some 250,000 to 400,000 shares. Jardine was told, Lewis asserted yesterday, that the entire amount of overissued stock would be taken care of in a merger then about to be made of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and another oil company.

SAYS HE DISCUSSED IT

In his account of what went on during the months just prior to the removal of Julian stocks from the boards of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, Lewis charged yesterday that the overissue was also discussed with H. B. Chessher, H. J. Barneson, A. L. Jameson, C. C. Streeter and many other local brokers, officers of the stock exchange, and others. No one, including himself, Lewis declared, knew the extent of the overissue at the time.

Complicated and amazing details of how the overissue became known, and what action was taken by the various brokers involved came from the lips of Lewis during the afternoon session of court, and he insisted that although aware of the condition of the stock books of the company the various officials of the stock exchange took no action in the matter until he requested in a letter to them that the trading in the Julian stocks cease.

Early in the month of April, 1927, Lewis testified that he agreed with Jardine to say nothing of the overissue in his communications to the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and that, therefore, the exchange would not have to take any official action in the matter.

All through his day of testimony Lewis heaped the blame for the crash of his stock on the brokers and called them hi-jackers, highwaymen, robbers and blackmailers.

JACK IN JACKPOT

"These brokers kept putting Jack Bennett in a jackpot all the time and then forcing him to sell them Julian stock below market prices and they knew all the time that the stock which he was selling was worthless and overissued."

Thus did Lewis brand the brokers with whom he had done business since he first took over the Julian affairs in 1924, and explain Bennett's, whose real name is Berman, activities in the market while the latter was head of the stock-transfer department of the Julian Petroleum Corporation.

Every broker, and every money lender who was implicated in the crash of his oil company will be named by Lewis before he is through, according to a statement given by him last evening as he left the witness stand.

lie in a dozen States and parts of Canada through a gold-notes issue of the Lewis Oil Corporation which began in 1923 and extended to 1927. Promises of "golden" returns in the form of $30 bonuses on each $100 invested within a thirty-day period were made to those who purchased the flood of notes turned out by Lewis and Berman, government witnesses testified.

The case was on trial about seven weeks, during which more than 500 exhibits were admitted as evidence.

SUIT FOR SUPPORT DELAYED

Lusher's Case Against Sons Continued to Give Time for Examination

To permit time for a thorough mental and physical examination of Isidor Lusher, 59-year-old merchant who sued his sons for $300 a month support, Superior Judge Guerin yesterday continued the case until March 31, next.

Lusher, in his petition, said he is unable to work, and asserted that his sons refused to support him. At the hearing it developed that Herman J. Lusher, the only one of the five sons who lives in Los Angeles, has been paying his father $30 a month through the City Prosecutor's office.

Pending the report of the physicians Herman Lusher was ordered to increase his father's stipend to $40 a month.

Attorney Kenneth C. Wiseman, for the plaintiff, stated that Lusher has been trying to obtain employment. Attorney George I. De Voe, for the defense, stated he heard the elder Lusher had employed an attorney in New York to look after property there.

Doolittle and McReady Get Planes Ready

Two famous former army flyers yesterday were in possession of two new locally manufactured airplanes —fast Yockheeds from the Burbank plant of Detroit Aircraft Corporation.

Lieut. Jimmie Doolittle, leading experimenter in "blind" flying advances, now eastern manager of the Shell Oil Company aviation department, was on his way to New York at the controls of an executive model Lockheed, a four-passenger cabin ship capable of nearly 200 miles an hour.

Air tests were made on the Sirius low-winged monoplane, a duplicate of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's new plane, built for Capt. John P. Meready, transcontinental dawn-to-dusk pilot, now in charge of Shell's western aviation department. This ship will be flown to St. Louis to be shown at the International Aircraft Exposition.

Shooting-Case Hearing Held

Whether Pasquale Bruno will be tried for murder for the New Year's Eve shooting of Manuel Herrera will be determined today by Municipal Judge Turney. The State's case at the preliminary hearing was concluded yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman and Judge Turney granted Alfred Paonessa, defense attorney, until today to locate witnesses, following which Paonessa will announce whether he will put on a defense to the murder charge at the hearing.

Connie Herrera, daughter of the dead man, testified that she saw Bruno shoot him following a drunken argument regarding the latter's attentions to her.

EARLY BIRDS OF AVIATION MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

The Early Birds—that group of courageous men who braved the air before December 16, 1916, when airplanes were regarded as contraptions—will meet tomorrow night at the Alexandria to hear the inaugural address of their newly elected national president, Earl Ovington of Santa Barbara.

Ovington, the first air-mail pilot in the world, who in 1912, made the then long and remarkable flight of twenty-five miles with a package of letters in New York, will address approximately thirty Southern California members.

His address, however, will be transmitted to a much larger gathering of members and their friends in the Commodore Hotel in New York City over a special telephone connection.

There are only 200 men in the entire country who are members of this most exclusive of flying organizations, and it is indicative of the attraction Southern California has for aviation and pilots that thirty reside or are active here, Ovington pointed out.

Among those in Southern California are Waldo Waterman, manager of Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport; Maj. Millard Harmon, commanding officer of March Field; Otto Timm, head of the Timm Aircraft Company in Glendale; Charles Willard, treasurer of the National Aeronautic Association; Eddie Belande and Ralph Diggins of Transcontinental Air Transport; Allen Loughhead, first developer of the noted Lockheed series of planes; Roy Knabenshue, pioneer of lighter-than-air craft.

Since the election of a Southern Californian as national president, local Early Birds plan to organize a chapter here. It was pointed out that there may be a few veteran pilots who flew before 1916 who are not members. They are invited to attend tomorrow night's meeting and, if they can present proof of their pioneer flights, they will be accepted as members.

RICH INDIAN DOGGED BY ADVENTURE

Sir Jehangir H. Kothari on His Ninth Tour Around World, Visits Harbor

Never hunting trouble, but encountering it often, is Sir Jehangir H. Kothari, former member of the Council of Bombay, who arrived from Cristobal yesterday on the Panama Mail motor liner City of Panama. He is bound next for Rawatonga in the South Seas on his ninth tour around the world.

Out-of-the-way places entice him; such as cannibal islands, up the far reaches of the Amazon River and in deepest Africa. Uprisings in Manchuria and the fire and quake of Yokohama are among his thrills, as are the Central American revolutions.

One of the leaders and great benefactors of Karachi, he is reputed extremely wealthy, but he denies it, and dresses as colorlessly as possible, except for a tropical helmet. He was knighted by King George V and is an officer of the British Empire, having performed unusual services during the World War.

ate a rock-crushing plant in Gold Canyon, Tujunga district, was denied yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. The application had been filed by the United Rock Company.

In voting unanimously to disallow the project the Supervisors considered two factors of primary importance in governing their ruling: Protests of a number of residents of the district and the narrowness of the road in the canyon.

In this latter respect it was pointed out that the road is only twenty feet wide, a fact, which, it was asserted, would render dangerous the operation of heavy trucks.

Among the residents who filed protests to the project was Cecil B. De Mille, motion-picture director, who owns a ranch in the canyon.

MAYOR ACCUSED OF TRICKING SUPPORTERS

Condemning Mayor Porter for signing the Bell rock-crusher permit yesterday, Thorwald Siegfried, attorney for the Pacific Palisades Protective Committee, last night announced the latest citizens' move to block the industrialization of the residential area in the following statement:

"The residents of Pacific Palisades feel that they were tricked into voting for Porter by misrepresentation, because just before election he had expressly declared himself to the effect that he was opposed to industries in residential districts. Property owners in Pacific Palisades and vicinity are greatly shocked at the Mayor's action, which completes the undermining of their confidence in the integrity and reliability of the public officials responsible for granting this permit, which had once been characterized by an official resolution in the City Council as 'an outrage.'

"There probably will be a referendum. The preliminary steps for this are under consideration, and the question will be decided at conferences during the next few days."

Bound Volume Distributed on Trial of Hardy

Copies of the bound volume of the proceedings and trial of the impeachment of Superior Judge Hardy of Los Angeles county, before the State Senate last March, were received in Los Angeles yesterday by members of the Senate who sat as a high court of impachment, and others interested in the trial.

The volume is of the same type as the codes, and was published by the State Printing Office under the direction of State Printer Smith. Distribution, which necessarily is limited, as only 1500 were printed, is in charge of Joseph A. Beek of Balboa, secretary to the Senate, and Arthur Ohnimus of San Francisco, chief clerk of the Assembly.

The book has a total of 1378 pages of printed matter. In addition to all testimony and legal arguments, it contains the proceedings both preceding and following the taking of testimony.

An explanatory introduction by Mr. Beek is included, as well as acknowledgements to Assemblyman Little of Santa Monica, of the board of managers, and Attorney Ray E. Nimmo of Los Angeles, of defense counsel, for aid in editing the material.

ASSESSMENT MAPS SUBMITTED

The City Engineer yesterday submitted to the City Council the assessment district map for the improvement of Maclay avenue from Mulholland street to the San Fernando city limits. It was referred to the Public Works Committee.

VENICE OIL PETITIONS FAVORED

Nine Passed for Council Approval by Committee on City Planning

The Council's City Planning Committee yesterday recommended approval of nine groups of permits to drill for oil in or near Venice. At the same time, all protests were denied. The committee acted on all applications which have received the approval of the City Planning Commission, which now is considering something like twenty more. The matter will come before the Council Thursday.

The committee requires that the restrictions imposed by the commission be included in the ordinances granting permission to drill.

The membership of the committee, Councilmen Webster, Holland and Randall, concurred yesterday, but Randall announced that he will approve the applications only under condition that the City Attorney holds that the city can collect a royalty of oil on the street areas involved.

In addition to Mrs. Barthel, the successful applicants are J. M. Herndon, L. J. Weaver, Ted B. Young, Charles S. Feeney and others, Leila Hersee and Josephine Coster, William G. Dickerson, Dr. J. D. Davenport and Dana Burks, George and A. L. Acret.

Campaign Aide of Mayor Fined on Liquor Count

Mrs. Florence E. Gilmore, woman political worker for Mayor Porter during the latter's campaign, was fined $250 by Municipal Judge Bogue yesterday, following her jury conviction on charges of possession of liquor. Through her attorney, Henry Huntington, Mrs. Gilmore gave notice of appeal, on which bail of $250 was set.

Three police officers who are under investigation by the Police Commission following charges by Mrs. Gilmore that her arrest was a "frame-up" and that they entered her home without a warrant, terrified at the trial to finding several gallons of wine in a jug under the sink.

Officer Talks For Dear Life When Held Up

Officer Stovall, Beverly Hills, knows now what it is to talk "for dear life."

While patrolling along Rodeo Drive he saw what he thought was a suspicious character. He hailed the man, who whirled and poked a gun against the officer's ribs.

"I don't know what Stovall did except that he said he talked for dear life," Sergt. McGill reported, "and here he came towing in one Henry Gray, lately of New York and all equipped with a gun, mask and brass knucks. Gray couldn't talk so well, so he's in jail awaiting trial on a charge of carrying concealed weapons."

No Next Time For Divorcee

When Mrs. Elsie Marie Hunter testified before Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday at the hearing on her petition for a divorce from Roland O. Hunter, she declared that her husband was convicted of grand theft in Texas, October 8, 1926.

"He needed his wife's protection," mused Judge Yankwich as he granted Mrs. Hunter a decree.

"Be more careful next time, madam," said the judge.

"There won't be no next time," Mrs. Hunter replied.

HEARING ANNOUNCED ON TRAFFIC PLAN MAP

The Board of City Planning Commissioners yesterday announced a public hearing on Map 28 of the Major Traffic Street Plan for next Friday at 2:30 p.m. in Room 360, City Hall. The district involved is bounded by the Hollywood Hills on the north, Vermont avenue on the east, West Adams street on the south and the City of Beverly Hills on the west. The hearing will concern itself with the outline of major traffic arteries, their widths and improvement.

LINCOLN BANQUET TOMORROW

Commemorating the birth of Abraham Lincoln the Commandery of Southern California, Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, will banquet at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Alexandria. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Leslie E. Learned, D.D., rector of All Saints' Church, Pasadena, and Col. George C. Ball, an original companion of the order. Col. William F. McKnight, commander, will preside.

Needless Suffering

The next time a headache makes you stay at home—
Or some other ache or pain prevents your keeping an engagement—
Remember Bayer Aspirin! For there is scarcely any pain it cannot relieve, and relieve promptly.
These tablets give real relief, or millions would not continue to take them. They are quite harmless, or the medical profession would not constantly prescribe them.
Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. To colds that might so easily be checked; to neuritis, neuralgia; to those pains peculiar to women; or any suffering for which Bayer Aspirin is such an effective antidote.
For your own protection look for the name Bayer on the box and on the tablets. Bayer is not dear. It costs no more than the unknown kinds. It never disagrees with the heart, so you let no other tablet be substituted for it, but the genuine Bayer Aspirin may be had in any size you prefer. Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for over 20 years. Handy boxes of 12 tablets and bottles of 24 and 100—at all druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Why Certain Foods Build Health and Strength

Undernourished people usually have no appetite, and without eating the right food and enough of it, they do not gain.
If you are all run down, weak and tired all the time, you must eat the right food and the right amount of food if you would permanently improve your condition.
The failure of tonics or other medicines may have discouraged you, but science now offers a way to promote real strength and health through a new kind of food called Vegex. It not only contains an abundance of Vitamin B, but it sharpens the appetite for other kinds of foods you need. It has highest scientific indorsement. Medical authorities have praised Vegex in words more enthusiastic than we have dared to utter in its behalf.
So rich is Vegex in this important Vitamin that a teaspoonful per day supplies all the Vitamin B an average person needs.
Vegex is a scientific blend of yeasts and assimilation which in thousands gain health and strength by using other thousands in promoting health. It tones stomach and digestive aids in correcting the constipation. It has a flavor rich in appetizing. Marmite.
Use Vegex in soups, sauces and other foods. It adds zest to them. Vegex is a food, not a medicine, and has often worked wonders where medicine has failed. Leading druggists and grocers now carry it; and if not, your dealer for reliable goods can get it for you free, when you buy.

FRIENDS BACK HER IN RALLY CONTEST

Miss Elsie Smith

Several more entrants for the crown of Miss Canada Queen of 1930 were registered yesterday at the Canadian headquarters in the Angelus Hotel. Friends of Miss Elsie Smith have nominated her for this contest, to be held under auspices of the Canadian Tourists' Society and the Canadian Club at the twentieth annual Canadian reunion and convention to begin Saturday at the Coliseum.

Miss Smith is 18 years of age and was born in Canada. She was elected one of the provincial princesses last year at Pasadena, at the joint gathering of the Dominion Old Boys' and Girls' Association and the Native Sons and Daughters of Canada.

HUSBAND LIKENED TO STONE INDIAN

Earl L. Shook was so indifferent and stoical toward her she likened him to a stone Indian, his wife, Mrs. Charlotte A. Shook, testified yesterday before Superior Judge Engs. The couple married at San Diego on April 12, 1920, and separated on June 2, 1929. Mrs. Shook was given a decree of divorce and the custody of the couple's minor child, Lorraine Shook, 8 years of age. The wife was represented by Attorney Will H. Light.

COUNTY TO AID GAMES ART DISPLAY

Supervisors Favor 1932 Exhibition, Proposed at Los Angeles Museum

The fine arts exhibition to be conducted in connection with the Olympic Games in 1932 probably will be held in the Los Angeles Museum of History, Science and Art.

This was indicated yesterday when the Board of Supervisors went on record as favoring the proposal and agreeing to co-operate with the Olympic Games committee.

The exhibit, which will be conducted during July and August of 1932, will be one of the outstanding features of the Games and will require several thousand square feet of floor space.

There will be five divisions, including painting, sculpture, architecture, literature and music. The competition will be international in scope and will require that the subjects submitted deal with athletics or recreational activities.

Secret Wedding Disclosed by Society Couple

Surprising their friends in Pasadena, Flintridge and Los Angeles society with the announcement of a secret marriage three months ago, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques De La Rence have returned from their honeymoon.

Mrs. De La Rence before the recent wedding was well known as Blanche Brill, widow of Martin Herman Brill, of the Brill Street Car Company of Philadelphia, from whom she inherited several million dollars. Yesterday Mrs. De La Rence admitted the wedding when interviewed at the Hollywood Knickerbocker.

The groom is well known in naval circles, having resigned his commission as lieutenant in the Navy in 1920 after serving ten years in various branches of the service.

Alimony Order Balked as He's Already in Jail

"You'll go to jail if you don't pay your wife $100 a month alimony," said Superior Judge Guerin to William L. Keen, whom Mrs. Edna Mae Keen had sued for divorce.

"I won't," retorted the prisoner in the dock.

"I'd like to know why not?" Judge Guerin stated.

"Because I'm in already," Keen replied. "My wife had me arrested on a liquor charge and I can't pay her anything until I go to work on the county roads. If I do I'll get only $30 a month."

REPUTED FIANCE VAINLY GIVES BLOOD TO WOMAN

An eleventh-hour attempt of the man reported to be her sweetheart to save her life by submitting to a blood transfusion failed yesterday when Mrs. Dorothy Gardener, 31 years of age, died at the Hollywood Hospital from a gunshot wound in the head inflicted by herself in her home at 4640 De Longpre avenue the night before.

Hollywood police said Henry N. Miller, owner of the Orange Grove Cafe at the Hayward Hotel and the Lafayette Cafe in Hollywood, gave up a pint of blood in his attempt to save Mrs. Gardener.

Mrs. Gardener shot herself about 9 p.m. Sunday, according to the police report. She and Miller, who, it is stated, expected to marry in May, had just returned from an automobile ride. Leaving Miller in the living-room of her home she kissed her 12-year-old daughter Margaret, then went to the bath room. A few moments later Miller and the daughter heard a shot and rushed to the bathroom to find Mrs. Gardener wounded. She was rushed to the Hollywood Hospital a block away.

The daughter said her mother had been despondent recently both because of financial difficulties and because her relatives had disapproved of her contemplated marriage to Miller. Detective Lieutenant Jaggers stated. Mrs. Gardener's mother, Mrs. G. G. Stone, lives at 455 Grand street, Redlands.

Warner Heads Hospital Group

Jay B. Jacobs, general chairman of the $1,000,000 Cedars of Lebanon Hospital campaign, announced yesterday that Jack L. Warner, vice-president of Warner Brothers' studios, has accepted the chairmanship of the motion-picture division of the campaign.

Warner is a director of the hospital. He announced that he will organize the motion-picture division in studio subdivisions and will appoint representatives at each studio to solicit funds.

Jacobs revealed that one-third of the 250-bed capacity of the hospital will be for people who are unable to pay. Additional provision has been made for part-pay patients.

Today's Bible Text

For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.—Romans v, 19.

THE LONG COURSE

It is mentioned by the Literary Digest that Atty.-Gen. Mitchell is one of the best golfers of the administration. And there is a fat gallery watching his next drive.

LIONS FROM THE TUB

The Prince of Wales has his portable bathtub with him during his big-game quest in South Africa. Even Hollywood will admit that shooting lions from the tub is a sizable sport.

THE LAW OF GRAVITY

They keep telling us that the scientists are about to do away with the law of gravity. Maybe these highbrows better take their formula down into Wall street and see what happens to their shirts.

A LONG-TIME HOAX

The supposed wealth of Death Valley Scotty is now exposed as a hoax. It is something of a record, just the same, to have such a secret kept for about a quarter of a century. Not even Barnum was able to put a fake over on the world that lasted more than a couple of years.

MORE DICTATORS NEEDED

Now they figure that what they need in Chicago is not one dictator, but two. It calls for one to dominate the finances of the city and another to direct the morals and welfare of the people. There are several big jobs awaiting the strong man. A massive dictator standing about seven feet high in his socks is an ever-present help in time of trouble.

THE SPOILED CHILD

The feeling persists that Moscow will continue to provide the international meddlers. No matter in what part of the world they find themselves they cannot but be mischief-makers. They consider it a good joke to burn down the house to which they are bidden as guests. Russia will have a hard time making progress of any kind while these aberrations endure.

LOOKS HOPELESS

The head of a civic taxpayers' association resigns after three years of hard and conscientious work. He thinks that even as a voice of protest a taxpayers' association is unable to register anything more impressive than a grunt. So many people carry their burdens with smiling faces and some even seem to think that the bigger the load the more they have. It is hard to arouse remonstrance in such souls.

SALAD

Two hundred thousand pounds of lettuce seed is grown in California each year, is the word that comes from San Francisco. Were it not for the stacks of the little green heads on the vegetable and fruit stands, it would be almost unbelievable. It all goes to show how much hay the human animal eats. California is the premier lettuce-producing State in the Union, though the cantaloupe runs it a stiff race.

Lettuce seems to have all the good qualities of spinach without any of its drawbacks. Being so essential to success and health, it would seem to be the savior of society. It is a good approach to sunshine in health production in California.

Carrots and other roots are not as highly esteemed as peas and tomatoes. Indeed, these follow lettuce closely as the next best bet for production in the Golden State. Carrots do not have the influence.

Lettuce is not hard to take. Its neutral character is usually camouflaged into piquancy. And you generally find it at the bottom of every secret salad. You get it in the end. Sometimes it only garnishes. Possibly the number of crates each person consumes in a lifetime would about equal the amount that is left on the plate.

When Nebuchadnezzer went wrong in his head, they turned him out to grass. This may be in the mind of the medical man as he turns the jazz age out to pasture. However, we are glad it is lettuce and California seems to be God's largest gift of it to man for healing.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

That the failure of the latest Colorado River conference of lower-basin States to reach an agreement is due in considerable part to disagreement among the California delegation is pretty well established. This being the case, it is time for the appointing power to consider making some changes. Most of the members who journeyed fruitlessly to Reno and to Phoenix have been with the problem so long that their views have fixed and crystallized. They are in a rut over the rim of which they cannot see. The problem must be considered from the standpoint of the greatest good to the greatest number, and no man who cannot sink purely local or purely political considerations ought to be continued as a member.

The insistence of the politicians in control of the Imperial Irrigation District upon a guarantee of more water than Imperial Valley can ever put to economic use is probably only part of the difficulty, but it is a stumblingblock that ought to be and can be eliminated. Men who really represent the Imperial Valley ranchers have no such grandiloquent ideas as to Imperial Valley's needs. They are aware that Imperial Valley's primary requirement is not an immense amount of water, but protection from floods, and that the latter requirement is paramount to anything else. An adequate amount of water would be Imperial's in any case.

The politicians are in control because the genuine ranchers are outvoted and outnumbered at district elections and really responsible and representative men are not chosen to office. Such a thing could not happen in the newer irrigation districts of the State, where the vote is restricted to those who use the water and pay for it, but the Imperial district is organized on the old plan by which the only voting qualifications are age, citizenship and residence. This permits control by persons who are really outsiders to the best interest of the district.

It was noticeable that the California delegation made more progress after such new men as John G. Bullock joined it. Other similarly broad-gauged newcomers, with a fresh viewpoint and no pride of opinion, might well replace the old-stagers whose services in the matter have been valuable, but who lack flexibility and receptiveness to any different ideas from those fixed in their minds.

If an agreement is to be had with Arizona, it is plain that it will require some concessions and compromises. These must not, of course, go too far; California has minimum needs, which must not be jeopardized. But there is so much water in the Colorado that there is enough for everybody who is not hoggish and who does not try to provide for contingencies seventy-five years in the future—which may never confront anybody.

The situation is so ticklish, however, that it would be the part of wisdom for the Southern California coastal plain to consider possible alternatives to domestic water from the Colorado. The Metropolitan Water District should, of course, plan on pushing its fight for Colorado water to the limit, but it should not blind itself to the fact that its campaign may not ultimately be successful or may be so greatly delayed that some other source of supply may be necessary.

It is common sense to seek some reasonable agreement by which the present legislation, providing for Boulder Dam, may be carried out; but it is also sensible to confront the possibility that Boulder Dam may never be built and that no other Colorado River development may be made which will bring domestic water to the California seaboard; in which case the seaboard will have to look elsewhere for water.

The Colorado River development plan is not yet in a hopeless state. California can and must present a united front, however, before it can hope for success and the best prospect for harmony in a delegation seems to be getting some new blood. The present delegation has tried and tried, and failed and failed.

BROADCASTING FOR COWS

And now we hear that radio is being installed in barns for the benefit of cows. It makes for contented cows and makes more milk and butter. Thus is radio brought down out of the air as it were and devoted to something practical.

At that some announcers we have heard would make good cow-callers. However, no disrespect is intended; for it is a new and rising profession that calls for many delicate and high-priced qualifications. A new announcer of national proportions has just been imported into San Francisco at $80,000 a year, according to the press agent.

Long ago we learned the value of electric light in henhouses. Comes the dawn now several hours earlier to the old rooster for crowing the hens up for work. As a result more eggs are dropped into the big basket of commerce than any chicken fancier ever dreamed of before.

Music has long been highly esteemed by soldiers on the battlefield. We ourselves have heard some music over the radio that made us want to fight. Music soothes patients in hospitals and brings back health and sanity.

But converting jazz into cream is something else. Or it may be grand opera has a tendency to produce butter fat. Will double forte increase the number of gallons?

Our judgment is that jazz will have a tendency to make milk churn into butter more easily. Maybe bedtime stories will put the cows to sleep earlier and keep them from staying up at night. In some cases static may remind the cow of her calf and stimulate action. However, the expert will have to figure it out.

Without doubt here is a new field of experimentation. With the radio in full swing and the announcer shouting in between, passers-by may think a barn dance is on. If it affects the feet of the bovines as it does the toes of modern youth, how the cows may be Charlestoning about. Isn't science wonderful?

Uncle Sam is going to smoke more than a hundred billion fags this year. The tobacco men have it all fixed up. He may curtail the smoke of his battleships a little, but there is to be no shortening of the cigarette screen.

The LEE SIDE o' LA

BY Lee Shippey

OVERHEARD on a motor stage:

"I wonder why all motorists don't stop at railroad crossings, as motor-bus drivers do?"

"They're in too much of a hurry."

"To get where?"

"To the next world."

Come to think of it, how few of the people one sees hurrying recklessly really have any cause for haste.

Double-Deckers

Speaking of motor buses, we wonder why more of the people who travel in them on the Coast Highway don't patronize the "two-story" parlor cars. From the upstairs section of those coaches one sees the country better than he could from his own car or from any other conveyance we know of. Even the cars which whizz past like hornets, going in the opposite direction, never interfere with the view—one looks clear over them. And, all the front being glass, one can look out in any direction.

Not Yet

The talkies are improving
And have become a fixture,
Yet no one dares hang up a prize
For "What's wrong with this picture?"

Long Beach, Cultural Center

We're going to Long Beach this afternoon to make a little talk at the opening of the Seacliff Community Library and hope to meet a lot of old and new friends there; because we want to tell them how much we think of their town.

We always have been fond of Long Beach. They used to say that the way to find Long Beach was to drive straight south from Los Angeles until you came to the ocean and then, when you made the turn, if a horseshoe "rung" the arm you held out you'd know you were there. They used to say that when the City Hall was built it failed to satisfy the citizens until four Iowa silos were added, on the four corners. They were called "torres" by those who looked for Spanish architecture and "towers" by those who preferred old English, but the populace called them silos and grew happy. But if Iowa has made Long Beach what it is today it has reason to be more than satisfied. We, for one, would much rather live there than in any other Iowa town we ever saw.

Horseshoes For Luck

We like the horseshoe pitchers of Long Beach; and we note that every other Southern California city now has them, too. And it must be conceded that something has brought a great deal of good luck to Long Beach.

The Wayside Colony

Some day Long Beach is going to wake up to the fact that it owes a great deal more than it realizes to a quiet, rather retiring man who holds firm to the belief that in this age of rush and machinery we must tie fast to the old and time-tried and individualistic and artistic or we'll be carried out on dangerous seas. That man is "Jim" Savery. When he came out of the World War Savery had seen enough of destruction and yearned to do some preserving. He talked things over with Rev. Perry Austin, a former classmate at Harvard, and other kindred spirits, and they Wayside Colony was the result.

The basic idea of the Wayside Colony is the glorification of the simple and useful. "We must have fly-swatters," Savery says, "so why not make them attractive? We must have kitchens, so why not make them beautiful? The craftsman or artist who finds joy and takes pride in his work is a leavening force in any community."

So the Wayside Colony is a sort of village of Roycrofters in which Savery refuses to be the Fra Elbertus. It is the individuality of the artists and artisans he wishes to stand out, rather than his own.

Idealized Simplicity

The Courtyard Theater is the center of the colony and there a "little theater" group including a number of members who have been prominent in that sort of thing in the East present plays. All the pretty lanes leading from it are lined with shops striving for some form of artistic expression. There is a quaint, Old-Worldish little tavern and a Brittany kitchen which make you forget you are in a modern American city which has struck oil. And all about are historic relics, not displayed in glass cases as in a museum, but either in use or worked into the decorations and wood carvings. The flagpole is said to have been the first flagpole from which Old Glory floated in Long Beach and the old mail coach once carried the royal mail from London to Dover for His Majesty George IV. And over the whole place seems to brood the spirit of tranquillity and content which might bless a village of good workmen who found pleasure in their work.

In short, it is a place many of us might be surprised to find in Long Beach. But, then, as we were saying, Long Beach is growing culturally as well as in other ways.

A LITTLE CO-OPERATION

State and national governments are deeply concerned with overproduction of oil while the city government is considering giving drilling permits at Venice to all who apply. Some government agencies, when requested to furnish a little co-operation, think they have done their duty when they supply as little as possible.

JUST THE MAN

When that scientist gets through counting the particles of dust in the air of New York why not get him to enumerate the young people from the East who storm the Hollywood film factories for jobs?

ON READING

By James J. Montague

I haven't a doubt I'm a low-brow,
But I'm fonder of books that are rough
And throbbing and hot with abundance of plot
Than of cold psychological stuff.
I never am eager, when reading
Of people like me, or like you,
To try to find out what they're thinking about;
I want to find out what they'll do.

I know it's becoming the fashion
To tell what some widow or wife
Or gentle old maid, just a trifle decayed,
Has thought through a long dreary life,
To numbers of excellent people
This form of emotion appeals,
But I see no attraction in mental reaction—
I like folks who kick up their heels.

What old Miss Mehitable Smithers
Observed every day to her cow
May reveal her true soul, but I think on the whole
That it is not exciting, somehow.
I'd rather she'd ogle the ice man,
And turn out a terrible minx;
I could like the old kid if they told what she did,
But I don't care a rap what she thinks.

I never was strong for dime novels,
Yet in them some solace I find,
For they do not contain any strain on the brain,
In the effort to analyze Mind.
And, as for the well-meaning people
Whose books I have now and then read,
I honestly doubt that they know much about
The inside of a heroine's head.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

PORT AND STARBOARD

[New York Herald Tribune]

There seems to have been little comment in this country upon the end of a great and peculiar tradition of the sea. The recent international convention on safety has decreed that after midnight on June 30, 1931, helm orders in vessels throughout the world shall be given in the direct sense. It is, in the words of the Court of the Honorable Company of Master Mariners of London, "a navigational revolution."

Landsmen may not be aware that under the present rule when a navigating officer wishes his ship turned to starboard the order is "Port!" and when he wishes it turned to port the order is "Starboard!" or, more fully, "Starboard the helm!" It is a custom rooted in the distant past, when even large vessels were steered by tillers, and it was necessary, if the ship was to be turned in one direction, to put the tiller or helm in the opposite one. The tradition must be very old, because even in Elizabethan times, although the steering wheel had not come in, the tillers in large vessels were operated by a lever which reversed the motion so that helm and rudder moved in the same direction.

Latterly, especially with the use of steam steering years and other patent gadgets, wheels have been made to turn with the ship. But the old orders have continued, with the result that officers still order "Starboard!" when wheel, rudder, telltale and ship alike are moved to port. When Mr. Josephus Daniels, alarmed at this strange and apparently dangerous anomaly, commanded the navy to substitute "right" and "left" in the proper sense for the old helm orders there was rage among the shellbacks. But now Mr. Daniels has been fractionally justified by international agreement.

ONLY TEN LYNCHINGS IN 1929

[Kansas City Times]

The authoritative Tuskegee Institute reports that there were only ten lynchings in the United States in 1929. While this record is ten lynchings too many, it is encouraging to note that with the number already greatly reduced in the recent preceding years, the decline still goes on. There were eleven lynchings in 1928, sixteen in 1927, nineteen in 1926 and seventeen in 1925, these numbers also representing marked reductions in the number of these tragedies. There was a time when lynch-law victims numbered more than 200 in a single year, bringing grave reproach upon the country and many uncomplimentary citations from European nations.

The decline in lynchings is due to two causes. There is a constantly growing sentiment against the outrage. That is perhaps the chief cause. But, backed by this sentiment, peace officers are showing more and more resistance to mobs. While it is true that of the ten persons lynched last year, six were taken from officers, there were twenty-seven other cases in which the officers saved their prisoners from mobs. These gains for civilization furnish hope that in time lynching may disappear altogether, or at least be so infrequent as to be no longer a national disgrace.

THE WARNING

[Des Moines Tribune-Capital]

Pictures of wrecked motor cars carry their own warning in the newspapers, but they don't seem to carry them far enough.

THE LONDON CONFERENCE

BY FRED HOGUE

II

[This is the conclusion of a radio address delivered by Mr. Hogue over KHJ.]

The greatest measure of relief seriously considered so far at the London conference would reduce our number of capital ships from sixteen to fifteen, on condition that proportional decreases were made by Great Britain and Japan. That would permit a reduction in the naval budget of $2,000,000 annually, the cost of operating one battleship for twelve months.

If that is the best the governments of the great powers can do, they are flouting the peace-loving peoples of the world.

Whose is the fault?

President Hoover has made plain that we will accept as low a maximum for the different categories of the navy as Great Britain and Japan desire. Our President has gone still further. No one can imagine the people of the United States forced to starvation by a naval blockade; for we raise food for ourselves, and to spare. But the President has proposed international treaties which grant freedom of the seas to all food ships, whether in war or in peace. He would have the world outlaw starving any people of the world as a war measure.

How has this proposal been received abroad? Even the face of Great Britain, whose people would begin to starve in six weeks if no food ships arrived—even British sentiment is against such a proposal. The concerted answer of several British journals was "Starvation is the weapon with which we brought the Central Powers to their knees." Starvation was the weapon with which the British fought the Napoleonic and the World wars; and it is the weapon they are in no mood to relinquish now.

For two centuries Great Britain has founded its power, not on freedom of the seas, but on command of the seas. The World War left Great Britain so weakened economically that she can no longer maintain that command. So she seeks treaties which will establish a five-power joint command. She will maintain a powerful navy, not only to protect trade routes for food ships coming to British ports, but to destroy food ships going to hostile ports.

I recall discussing naval disarmament with Austen Chamberlain, then Foreign Minister of Great Britain, during the Geneva conference in July, 1927. He explained to me in detail why it was necessary for Great Britain to have a stronger navy than my own country. His argument was to the effect that Great Britain must have a first-line battle fleet equal to that of any other nation, and also a cruiser fleet to keep trade routes for food ships open.

As my country would have nothing to fear from a food blockade, it was not an evidence of good faith for our delegates at Geneva to insist on parity in cruisers.

There may be justice in this contention. I cannot conceive any conflict of national policies, any cause, pretext or subterfuge, that would bring about an armed conflict among the Anglo-Saxon peoples. But in this country there is an imponderable public sentiment which demands that our Navy shall be on a par with that of any other nation. This form of national pride is inherent in the race; but it makes more for armed neutrality than universal peace.

France reposes its security on submarines. She recognizes that the French people will not pay enough in taxes to support a battle fleet on a parity with that of Great Britain. But, despite treaties, professed amity and alliances, France is obsessed with war psychology. She will not trust to paper defenses against a British blockade.

France also views with distrust the rising power of Italy. This has increased since the Washington conference. She now desires a higher classification than that of her Italian neighbor. She is not content with the 1.75 parity. Her delegates assert that France must have in the Mediterranean a fleet equal to that of Italy, and, in addition, an Atlantic fleet.

At the same time, the British are demanding more than they accepted at Washington. Her delegates assert that Great Britain must always have in the Mediterranean a fleet equal to the combined fleets of France and Italy.

Japan's insistence on a submarine fleet of 80,000 tonnage, and a higher ratio than the 5-5-3 of the Washington conference does not offer much prospect for a revision downward. Her delegates now ask for a 10-10-7 ratio.

I heard this discussed in Tokio last summer. The Japanese feel that their delegates were too complacent at Washington. This is an instance in which public opinion runs contrary to the policy which dominated Japanese action at Washington.

The only menace to Japanese dominion in Eastern Asia, the Indian Ocean and the Yellow Sea is foreign naval strength. The "black ships" from the Occident put an end to Japanese isolation. But for the threat of foreign navies Japan could work her will on China and Manchuria. She has nothing to fear from land invasions, even through Siberia. The only curb upon her ambitions would come from the sea.

If battleships and armored cruisers were all to be scrapped, Japan would be supreme in the Orient. Her greatest security would lie in the destruction of all naval armaments. But national pride is making itself manifest. The Japanese are not constituted to play second fiddle to any other people; and this national pride is now causing them to desire an upward revision, rather than a downward one.

Their attitude toward the United States reflects that of France toward Great Britain. They will renounce a battle fleet equal to our own on the open sea; but they demand a submarine and air defense sufficient to scuttle our battleships if they should enter Japanese waters with hostile intent. From a Japanese point of view, basing security on arms instead of on good will, this contention is unassailable.

Great promises were made by the British Labor party that, if they were in power, they would promptly bring about a naval conference which would drastically reduce the enormous tax burden for national defense. After the conversations between MacDonald and Hoover, I had expected in MacDonald's opening address a proposal for "scrapping" tonnage as drastic as that of Hughes at Washington. I sat up all night listening in on the radio; and the only reward for my diligence was a sequence of diplomatic generalities. MacDonald was wary of following Hughes's lead by laying his cards face up on the table.

Three valuable weeks have been consumed in maneuvering for position, while mutual recriminations appear in the British, French and Italian press. The spirit of Locarno has not crossed the channel. The atmosphere of historic St. James Palace has not been notably conducive to international amity.

The call for the conference was issued by King George, at the instigation of his Prime Minister. Naval reduction was the central plank of the Labor party platform. But the only drastic naval reduction the British delegates have proposed is the abolition of submarines; and Lord Balfour advocated that in the Washington conference. The only surprises to date have been disappointments for those who were sincerely desirous of further peace commitments and a radical reduction in armaments.

Unless pressure in the form of public opinion comes from without, there is grave danger that the London conference will go the way of the one at Geneva.

Yet, failure of the present conference is certain to result in the increase of naval armaments, other than battleships. The naval holiday may be extended to 1936 for battleships; but, with the participating powers in their present mood, there will be an increase in cruisers and submarines.

The very atmosphere of Europe seems poisoned with suspicion. To be durable, peace must repose on mutual confidence. Why should Great Britain, France and Italy continue to arm against one another? Why should they take our President's example as one to be evaded rather than to be emulated.

I refuse to believe that public opinion in Great Britain and France will support their governments in scrapping the conference. A door must be either open or shut. Between these peoples there will be either peace or war. The way to peace is in mutually scrapping armaments. If they persist in arming against one another, the time will surely come when a flash of powder like that which set off the World War will occasion another great international conflagration.

Freedom of the seas may be only an abstraction. It is true that absolute freedom would lead to anarchy; for the seas would be immediately infested by bandit ships. The age of piracy would return.

The open seas, and the closed seas, must be policed. They cannot be permitted to become a No Man's Land. This policing can only be done by international agreement. But the number of the craft should be reduced to the minimum to assure security for all nationals. And the peace of the world will be endangered if the police craft of the patrolling nations are to be increased out of all proportion to actual security, and are to be continually threatened, at the flimsiest pretext, to turn their guns on one another.

President Hoover has announced to the world that the United States is ready to go the limit in naval reduction. The American people are anxiously waiting for the three European powers in the naval conference to make similar pledges in behalf of their respective peoples. So far, such pledges are notably lacking.

If war psychology is to persist in European territory, there can be no hope for naval reduction here. We are forced against our will to maintain a position of armed neutrality. There will be no conjuring of the menace that our civilization, like those which have preceded it, will be destroyed by its own vices.

The Proof

Francis P. Garvin, the famous scientist who has been awarded the Institute of Chemistry's gold medal, said at a luncheon in Washington:

"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Sir Oliver Lodge believe in spiritualism, but the arguments they back up their belief with aren't very scientific. They remind me of Wash White.

"'Do you believe the dead ever walk, Washington?' said the general storekeeper.

"'Good proof,' said Wash. 'Did you never hear, boss, of the "Dead March"?'"

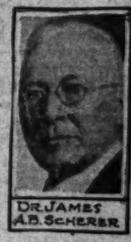
Artz was arrested Sunday by Special Officer Chewings, posted at Hollywood Lake, while swimming there. He did not know of the ordinance, he told Chewings, as he had been in this country only a month. His address was given as 1714 North McCadden Place.



DR. JAMES A.B. SCHERER

DR. CHESTER STOCK

In addition to the ground sloth specimens Dr. Scherer says Dr. Stock also identified specimens of immediate or extinct hoofed animal of prehistoric times but was not able to determine whether they were of the antelope or camel.

"Now," said Dr. Scherer, "the problem is to find the direct association between articles made by the hand of man also found in the cave, and the prehistoric animals, which will show that man was a very old inhabitant of the Southwest. In this work we shall proceed very cautiously for we want to have all our suppositions verified by absolute fact before we make any announcements.

"Mr. Harrington suspected the possibility of this discovery a year ago when he was doing research work in Nevada. At that time he suggested splendid co-operation from Gov. Scrugham of Nevada and completed the negotiations which made the cave in which the discoveries were made the property of the Southwest Museum. And now that the actual work is under way we shall keep it a project of the museum carried out by western people. Then we are through we shall invite and welcome a full investigation by archaeologists and paleontologists from other sections of the country."

The giant ground sloth is a long-vanished animal, the bones of which have been found in the La Brea asphalt pits here. The theory concerning the Nevada discovery is that some of people inhabited the country at the same time as the sloth, and according to Harrington, the connection has not been definitely established yet.

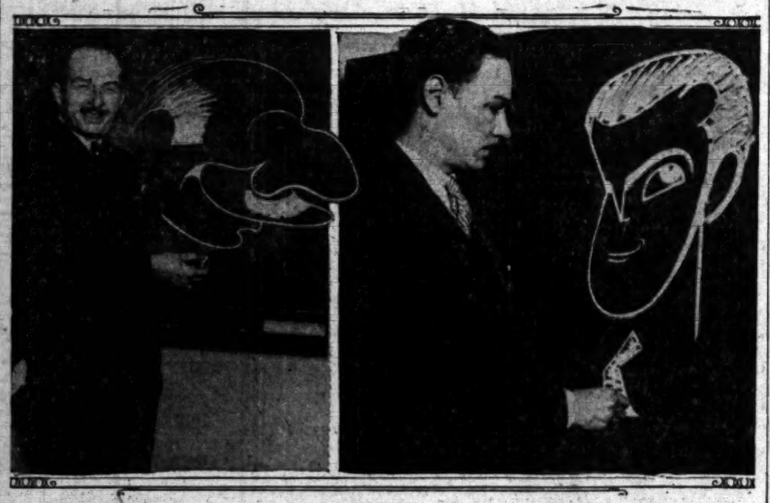
CARICATURISTS FIGHT FOR IDEALS

Hollywood Pair Cross Pencils in Court Over "Art"



Principals and Illustration
Xavier Cugat and Robert G. Quigley, and caricature of Ramon Novarro.

ROBERT G. QUIGLEY, well-known Hollywood caricaturist, who specializes in making sketches of screen celebrities, and Xavier Cugat, musician and nationally known artist, are facing each other in the court of Superior Judge Hollzer at the trial of a $25,000 damage suit, the first of its kind on record here. Each lays claim to being the originator of a certain technique used in a caricature portrayal of Pola Negri, screen star.

Quigley is plaintiff in the action, which was called for a hearing yesterday and will continue through today. Cugat is the defendant. Quigley accuses Cugat of pirating his style in the drawing of impressionistic sketches of Pola Negri, Adolphe Menjou, Richard Barthelmess and other motion-picture stars.

When the case was called each artist submitted large portfolios of original drawings and pictures clipped from newspapers and magazines, to be used as exhibits. The artists probably will make sketches during the course of the hearing on the courtroom blackboard for Judge Hollzer.

Judge Hollzer admitted that the question of law involved in the suit is no simple one. He asked the attorneys to produce all the law they could dig out on the subject of property rights in matters of this nature.

Quigley is represented by Attorney Larrabee. Attorneys Robertson and Romaine are counsel for Cugat.

SALON CARS REVEAL NEW BODY LINES

Beauty with distinction marks the "salon cars," special creations of the custom-body builder, which are being exhibited this week at the Biltmore.

This year's salon cars, like salon cars of every year, emphasize body design. The chassis, so important in the stock car, is merely a foundation in the salon exhibits but, of course, it must be as nearly perfect as possible. The responsibility of the chassis ends at this point and coachwork becomes the primary factor in the building of salon jobs.

Visitors to this salon will find that the custom coachmakers have attained new heights of achievement in lines and finish, in upholstery and fittings, and in color effects. Tanners of leather, weavers of cloth, metal plates, artisans in inlaying rare woods, hardware designers, paint and lacquer research laboratories, and many other allied trades have effectively co-operated with the coachmakers in building these jobs.

Mrs. Jamieson of Pasadena Wins Divorce in Reno

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 10.—Word received here tonight from Reno announced the granting of a divorce to Mrs. Hazel Kendall Jamieson from Hamer Herschel Jamieson, both of this place, on the grounds of cruelty.

The husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stillman B. Jamieson of 160 South Orange avenue, who are prominent here. The parents of Jamieson were given supervision of the education of the two minor children of the divorced couple.

The wife charged in her complaint that Jamieson nagged and found fault and gave vent to outbursts of temper. They were married here January 21, 1922.

A settlement was provided for the daughter-in-law by the Jamiesons on account of their son having no earning power, and it includes four lots in Los Angeles, two automobiles, insurance and the household goods.

APPROPRIATION AUTHORIZED

The Board of Supervisors yesterday notified the City Council that an appropriation of $23,800 has been authorized for the improvement of Harrison avenue within the city limits.

Santa Barbara to Send Mayor and Committee to San Gabriel Fiesta

Headed by the Mayor of Santa Barbara, a delegation of more than a dozen prominent citizens will represent that community at the benefit evening which will mark the observance of the Mission Play's 3000th performance, which is to be held in the Playhouse at San Gabriel next Monday evening, according to word received yesterday by the committee in charge of the event.

"In recognition of the important work which the Mission Play has carried on in keeping alive the spirit of old California, in addition to its value to the State as an attraction, our community will be represented at the 3000th performance by more than a dozen of the citizens of this city who have had an active part in keeping alive the romance of our yesterdays. We feel that the play is deserving of a real tribute." This message was received from the Channel City by President W. I. Hollingsworth of the Mission Play Corporation, which is sponsoring the fiesta in connection with the staging of the epochal performance.

To assist in the drive now under way to sell out the house at $100 a ticket, the fund raised to be turned over to the play for the purpose of aiding its future financing, the Chamber of Commerce has temporarily loaned an office in that organization's building where a corps of volunteer workers is now engaged.

ESTES WINS APPEAL FOR SUIT DELAY

Delay Granted to Allow Time for Obtaining Copies of Mexican Decree

Dr. St. Louis Estes, health lecturer, who says he is 72 years of age, appeared in Superior Judge Guerin's court yesterday and obtained postponement of his first wife's divorce suit.

The continuance was granted to give him time to produce copies of Mexican divorce papers filed "some time in 1921 or 1922," which he said will confound the assertions of his first wife, Mrs. Clara N. Estes, that she was not properly divorced before Dr. Estes married Dr. Esther L. Moraine in 1922. They have six children.

Attorney Arthur Webb filed Dr. Estes's answer to the suit yesterday, denying the allegations of the plaintiff that he deserted her in Chicago in 1924.

Mrs. Estes No. 1, mother of three children, 18 to 21, demands $500,000 as alimony.

Alumni Honors Oldest Member

Ephraim Miller, oldest living member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholarship fraternity, will receive an engrossed copy of resolutions expressing the respect and esteem in which he is held by Southern California alumni of Kansas University. The adoption of the resolutions was the feature of the annual banquet of the alumni association at the Alexandria last night, which was presided over by Ralph Spotts, local attorney, who is president of the association.

Prof. Miller taught astronomy and physics at Kansas University for the thirty-five years preceding his retirement in 1910. After his retirement he moved to California and lives now at 558 North Lake street, Pasadena. He is 98 years of age. It formerly was his custom to attend the annual banquet of local alumni, but while in good health, his advanced age has confined him to his home.

SLIP OF TONGUE SEVERS TIES

Dorothy Called Winnie So She Gets Divorce For Herself

The wife of Oscar T. Martin was named Dorothy, but when he took her in his arms and kissed her he sometimes forgot and called her "Winnie," she testified in Superior Judge Guerin's divorce court yesterday.

Later, Mrs. Martin, formerly known in the films as "Dollie Evans," found Martin had a sweetheart named Winnie. Judge Guerin gave the plaintiff a divorce.

MAN SHOOTS SELF ON EVE OF WEDDING

Bullet Put in Head as He Cogitates Over Vow That He'd Never Marry Again

Rather than violate a vow that he never would remarry, Giacomo Zanchetta, 39-year-old iron worker, yesterday attempted suicide, according to a police report, by shooting himself in the head in his rooms at 847 East Eighty-third street, as he contemplated the approaching nuptials. A short time later his fiancee, Maria Coronado Sancheta, of 557 West One Hundred and Eighth street, found him unconscious when she called to discuss last-minute details of the ceremony. The couple, police learned, were to have been married last night in a church at One Hundred and Third and Figueroa streets.

Investigating officers found two notes, one to police and the other to his intended wife, in which Zanchetta stated his first marriage had ended unhappily and that he had sworn never again to wed. The notes also contained a request that the police "blame nobody but me."

With a bullet hole drilled through his skull, Zanchetta was given emergency treatment at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and transferred later to the French Hospital, where surgeons last night reported he has an even chance to recover.

CLINIC FOR CANCER IN PROSPECT

Permanent Unit Expected to be Established Here for Use of New Extract

Establishment of a permanent clinic at the White Memorial Hospital in this city for the treatment of cancer with the newly discovered Coffey-Humber extract may result, it was learned yesterday, from a visit now being made to San Francisco by Dr. Percy T. Magan, head of the local hospital. Dr. Magan left Sunday night and it is said that the purpose of his trip is to confer with Drs. Walter B. Coffey and John B. Humber, the co-discoverers of the new treatment, on the establishment of the permanent clinic here.

Dr. Coffey is head of the Southern Pacific Hospital in San Francisco, and Dr. Humber is one of his assistants. To date their experimental treatments with the new extract have been given at that hospital, and at the medical offices of the Southern Pacific.

It is understood to be the desire of those interested, including Drs. Magan, Coffey and Humber, that the treatments at the clinic shall be entirely free of cost to the patients, and therefore the establishment must await assurances that funds to conduct it will be donated.

In two visits to this city Dr. Humber has treated sixty-one sufferers from cancer. Seven were treated at the Southern Pacific medical offices on his first visit on the 2nd inst., and they were given a second treatment at the same place when he returned Sunday. On that day he also treated thirty-nine new patients at the medical offices, and during the afternoon he visited local hospitals and gave treatments to fifteen bed patients.

Boys Taken for False Alarms

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—After firemen had responded to twenty false alarms, three Pasadena youths and one from Monrovia were arrested tonight. They were charged with violating a city ordinance prohibiting the turning in of false alarms at fire boxes. Detective Lieutenants Thomas and Ewing, who made the arrests, say that the boys confessed, and that the Monrovia youth explained his presence by saying that there were no alarm boxes in Monrovia, so he came to Pasadena.

The youths, who range from 16 to 19 years of age, are Elbert Rankin, 1385 Wesley avenue; Wilson Hunt, 1565 Acthison street; Byford Eatwold, 1525 Wesley avenue, and Austin Ellefson of Monrovia.

SECOND WYATT TRIAL FOR FRAUD DELAYED

The trial of Owen E. Wyatt, president of the Provident Discount Company, was continued until March 31, next, by Superior Judge Hardy yesterday because of the congested condition of the court calendar. Wyatt, nearly a year ago, was convicted of defrauding numerous investors in trust deeds. Through an appeal, however, he won a new trial on grounds that his attorney had consented to trial without a jury without first getting his permission.

FILIPINO MARRIAGE BALKED

Mother of White Girl Gets Temporary Injunction Restraining County Clerk on License

Asserting that Filipinos belong to a branch of the Mongolian race, and so are prohibited by law from marrying white persons, Mrs. Stella F. Robinson of 2603 West Pico street, yesterday obtained a temporary injunction against County Clerk Lampton restraining him from issuing a license to her daughter Ruby, 22 years of age, formerly "commission girl" in a Filipino dance hall, and Tony V. Moreno, 24, native of the Philippine Islands.

The restraining order was signed by Superior Judge Doran, presiding, and made returnable in Department Three of the Superior Court on the 20th inst. The couple signified their intention to wed Saturday, after Moreno had filed with Rosamond Rice, deputy County Clerk at the marriage bureau.

RUBY ROBINSON

By authority of a written opinion from County Counsel Hall, dated May 13, 1921, the county marriage license bureau has been issuing licenses to Filipinos on affidavit. This opinion quotes Section 69 of the California Civil Code, enacted in 1884, which provides that no marriage between a white person and a Mongolian or a negro may be performed in the State.

The opinion, which was written by Edward T. Bishop, then deputy County Counsel, now a judge of Superior Court, quotes several ethnological authorities.

"We believe that the Legislature in Section 69 did not intend to prohibit the marriage of people of the Malay race with white persons," the opinion states.

County Clerk Lampton said yesterday he will ask County Counsel Mattoon for legal aid.

Attorneys for Mrs. Robinson, James H. Gosling and Harry F. Harper declared that modern ethnological research has upset the old idea as to five separate races, and that there are in reality only three races, one of which, the Mongolian, includes the Malays, and hence the Filipinos.

Dewey Comment on Impoverished Children Quoted

William Lacy, president of the Los Angeles Community Chest, yesterday made public a statement by Prof. John Dewey of Columbia University urging school teachers and social workers to co-operate in working out the destinies of impoverished children.

Prof. Dewey, who was hailed recently as America's greatest teacher and philosopher, illustrates the viewpoints of each. The teacher sees only the ill-clad, hungry child handicapped in classes. The social worker sees that child's home background. Prof. Dewey suggests they be considered together. He cites an interpretation between social agencies and schools and churches.

DISCOVERY OF SLOTH REMAINS TO BE STUDIED

Discovery in Nevada Cave Made by Harrington

Bones and Stock to Check Find for Museum

Data to Men's Occupancy of Southwest Hinted

Confirmation of a report from Nevada announcing the discovery of [illegible] bones, claws, hide and hair of a giant ground sloth in a large cave near Boulder Canyon was given yesterday by Dr. James A. B. Scherer, director of the Southwest Museum, who said the find ranks as an extremely important one and it promises to be replete with thrills and romance for those concerned with it.

DR. JAMES A.B. SCHERER

The discovery was made, Dr. Scherer said, about ten days ago by a tradition from the Southwest [illegible] headed by M. R. Harrington, director of research. The specimens were sent immediately to the museum, who placed them in the hands of Dr. Chester Stock, well-known paleontologist of the California Institute of Technology, in turn identified them beyond all doubt as the remains of a giant sloth, Dr. Scherer said.

In no respect, the study of the bones and the cave where they were found will be unique, Dr. Scherer said, in that it will be the first time a group of this importance will be co-operation of both [illegible] and archaeologists working in conjunction. Dr. Scherer will check the discoveries [illegible] Harrington.

In addition to the ground sloth bones Dr. Scherer says Dr. Harrington has identified specimens of [illegible] or extinct hoofed animals, prehistoric times but was unable to determine whether they were the antelope or camel.

Dr. Scherer said, "the problem is to find the direct association between articles made by the hand of man also found in the cave, and the prehistoric animals, which will show that man was a very old inhabitant of the Southwest. In this work we shall proceed very cautiously for we want to have all our suppositions verified by absolute fact before we make any announcement."

Dr. Harrington suspected the possibility of this discovery a year ago when he was doing research [illegible] Nevada. At that time he received splendid co-operation from [illegible] Bingham of Nevada and [illegible] the negotiations which led to the cave in which the discoveries were made the property of the Southwest Museum. And now that actual work is under way [illegible] it a project of the [illegible] people, to be carried through we shall include a full investigation by archaeologists and paleontologists from other sections of the country.

The giant ground sloth is a long-extinct animal, the bones of which have been found in the La Brea tar pits here. The theory connecting the Nevada discovery is that the people inhabited the country at the same time as the sloth, according to Harrington, the two have not been definitely connected yet.

FRONTIER DOCTOR'S TRAIL ENDS

Funeral of Henry F. Hoyt Breaks Link With Romantic Past; Pioneer Physician of West, Outlaws' Intimate and Gallant Gentleman Gone to Reward

Whatever things could be, Billy the Kid evidently would jingle his spurs when in Long Beach today. For Dr. Henry F. Hoyt, into whose life the Kid once poured his [illegible] is to be buried after services at the undertaking parlors of Patterson & McQuilkin in the beach city.

Frontier doctor, vigilante, cowboy and army surgeon, Dr. Hoyt was one of the most fascinating of the thinning group linking today with the strange, exciting days of the winning of the plains, according to Harrison Leussler of San Francisco, for years an intimate of the deceased man.

One tingling experience was in store for the physician before death came upon him on board a steamer in the Far East, said Leussler. That was the thrill of being the author of a widely selling book. Dr. Hoyt's record of his adventurous life, "A Frontier Doctor," is rapidly gaining in sales, said Leussler.

In 1877 Dr. Hoyt rode overland to the Texas Panhandle to practice medicine and is said to have been the first physician in that district. He later found work on the LX ranch, where Charlie Siringo was foreman. In the Panhandle he met and ran races with Billy the Kid, who gave the doctor the horse on which Dr. Hoyt left for New Mexico in 1878.

One time, while Dr. Hoyt believed Jesse James was on his trail, the doctor was introduced to the bandit leader by Billy the Kid. But the Kid introduced the physician as "Doc" and the bandit as Mr. Howard, and the two men did not know until later of their meeting, Leussler said the doctor told him.

Dr. Hoyt was an army surgeon in the Philippines for some time. In a letter received by Leussler after the doctor's death the Long Beach man told of his dining with "his old enemy, Aguinaldo."

Of Interest to Women

Society

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the charming brides-elect of the month whose wedding is scheduled for the 25th inst. is Miss Elizabeth Stuart Henley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Beisel Smiley of Point Loma, San Diego, and for whom many lovely affairs are being given in the southern city. After her marriage to Walter Hamlin Dupee, Jr., son of Mrs. Florence Kennett Dupee of Coronado, and their extended wedding trip, Mr. Dupee will bring his bride to make their future home here.

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seligman Holswasser of Coronado gave a supper-dance in honor of Miss Henley and Miss Ellen Ramsay, fiancee of John Cutler Ward, the early spring motif being used in the decorations of the supper room, which opens into a garden terrace, jonquils, acacia blooms and crispy ferns predominating, great wall pockets adorning the pillars and mantel shelf, while tall jardinieres held clusters of the same flowers and strings of red hearts further carried out a Valentine motif. The place cards also were valentines. Those included were Miss Grace Miller Ford of Toledo, O., who is to be maid of honor at the wedding; Mrs. Florence Kennett Dupee, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Smiley, Mrs. Charles C. Ramsay, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kennett, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Richards, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Sifferrill, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Hogan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tschudi, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kennedy, Lieutenant - Commander and Mrs. Charles Kyle Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parker Rifenberick, Maj. and Mrs. Russell Rowell, Col. and Mrs. W. W. Crosby, Capt. and Mrs. S. C. Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Drinkwater, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Ray C. Loungberry, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Sickle, Capt. and Mrs. Kenneth Whiting, Commander and Mrs. William Binckley, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Humphries, Gen. and Mrs. R. H. Van Deman, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Diem, Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. P. V. H. Weems, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Spreckels, Lieutenant - Commander and Mrs. Ralph Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Daniels and the latter's sister, Miss Gates; Mrs. William E. Prenaye, Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Van Royal Mosher, Mrs. Edna Harris, Mrs. Eva Turnbull, Lieutenant - Commander and Mrs. C. H. McMorris, Mrs. Lyman Gage, Miss Helene Richards, Harold Drinkwater, Charles Williams, William James Johnson, F. T. Kimmerman, Dr. Hatfield, Miss Marian Keyes, Miss Alice Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. Mel S. Wright, Donald Speer, Lieut. W. G. Tomlinson, Lieutenant-Commander George Gillespie, Mrs. Fred Winchester, John Brunton, Frank Turnbull, John Turnbull, Lincoln Ellsworth, Aloys Nohnen, Capt. Sherwood, Lieut. Cy Noble, Commander Warren Childs, the honor guests and hosts.

Mrs. H. W. Diems is to assist at the ceremony as matron of honor while Miss Ford is to be maid of honor, other attendants including Miss Jane Henley, Miss Harriet Burge of Detroit and Miss Celeste Durand of Pasadena.

Miss Kathleen Thompson is entertaining tomorrow with a luncheon at her home in Coronado for Miss Henley, while Mrs. Luther Kennett is giving a dinner party Saturday evening, Mrs. G. Aubrey Davidson, Jr., is planning a luncheon at Casa de Manana in La Jolla for her the 18th inst., Mrs. Morton Oastor of Beverly Hills is giving a luncheon for her the 17th inst., Mrs. Henry Diems will entertain for Miss Henley and her bridal party the 21st inst. at Agua Caliente, Mrs. Raymond Vincent Morris is giving an affair shortly for her and Mrs. Florence Kennett Dupee will honor her with a smart dinner party the 22nd inst., and there will be a number of other parties before the wedding day.

To Honor Artists

Honoring two artists to appear with the Philharmonic Orchestra of Los Angeles Thursday evening and Friday afternoon, Mrs. Cecil Frankel will entertain with a luncheon at the Biltmore tomorrow at 1 p.m. The two young artists, Miss Sadah Shuchari and Miss Isabelle Yalkovsky, were national winners at the first Schubert memorial contest two years ago. Mrs. Frankel is chairman of the Los Angeles district of the Schubert Memorial, Inc. Among those invited are Mrs. Joseph P. Rhodes, Jr., Mrs. Carroll W. Jones, Mrs. Erwin Hanford Furman, Bruno David Usher, Mrs. Hansen Moore, Patterson Greene, Mrs. Blanche Ebert Seaver, Hrs. Albert E. Van Court, Carl Bronson, Mrs. William S. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie Smith, Mrs. Bertha Knisely, C. H. Garrigues, Mrs. Donald R. Dickey and Mrs. Marie Carlo.

Interesting Cruise

Planning an absence of two or three weeks, Capt. G. Allan Hancock and a group of friends left Saturday, February 1, on the yacht Velero II, for a cruise in southern waters. They will visit several ports of interest including the picturesque harbor at La Paz on the eastern coast of Baja California. Capt. Hancock's guests for the trip include Mr. and Mrs. Don Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Philip N. Morgan and W. Charles Swett.

Lovely Affair

In honor of Miss Susanna Patterson Bryant, Miss Rhoda Jones, two brides-elect and Mrs. Herman H. Kerckhoff, Jr., a recent bride, a charmingly appointed tea is being given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Howard Hawley Wells, and her sister, Miss Eleanor Johnson at the home of their mother, Mrs. Edward P. Johnson in West Twenty-eighth street. Two hundred invitations have been issued and the hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Lindsay Gillis, Mrs. Thomas Edward Gibbon, Mrs. Frances Alexander, Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., Miss Maxine Abel, Mrs. Walter Perry Story, Mrs. Clyde Burr, Mrs. Lewis Curtis Torrance, Jr., Miss Elsy Jane Myrick, Miss Estella De Valle, Miss Constance Lacy, Miss Eleanor Lacy, Miss Hazel Nelson, Miss Elizabeth Spence, Mrs. James Bodrero, Mrs. Donald Parkinson, Mrs. Robert Wells and Mrs. Ralph E. Farewell Luncheon

Honoring Mrs. Harcourt Hervey, who with Judge and Mrs. William Rhodes Hervey, left Sunday for an extended trip abroad, Mrs. Walter Perry Story entertained Wednesday afternoon with a beautifully appointed luncheon and bridge at the Ambassador. Spring flowers in a riot of color were combined with ferns in the decorations of the luncheon table and bridge was enjoyed afterward.

Wedding Date

Miss Susanna Patterson Bryant, attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Albert Bryant of West Adams street, has chosen Thursday, the 27th inst., as the date for her marriage to Richard Young Dakin, son of Mr. and Henry W. Dakin of Pasadena, the ceremony to take place at 6 o'clock at the Bryant home.

Mrs. George Tallant of San Francisco will be the only attendant of the bride while Morris Barnes Miller of Pasadena will serve Mr. Dakin as best man.

After an extended wedding trip, destination not being told, Mr. Dakin and his bride will return to make their home in Pasadena after April 1.

To Visit Parents

Of much interest to her many friends in Southern California is the news that Mrs. William Hamilton Toas (Edith Herron) is arriving tomorrow from her home in Boston to pass several months visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus H. Herron at their home, 227 South Wilton Place.

Commander Toas, who is on the staff of the admiral, of the First Naval District of Boston, will not accompany his wife on this trip.

Smart Affair

One of the lovely affairs of the week was the dinner Saturday evening with which Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bradley Bovard and Miss Ellen Andrews entertained at the home of the former in Fremont Place, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman, who are leaving today for their home in South Bend, Ind.

Spring flowers in a riot of color combined with ferns, carried out a Valentine motif in the decorations of the house and those included were Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Erle Leaf, Mr. and Mrs. Bert O. WOMEN HONOR HEROES' NAMES

Lincoln's Birthday Signal for Many Affairs

Washington Likewise Gets Feminine Notice

Valentine's Day Furnishes Parties' Motif

BY MYRA NYE

In this month when two birthday anniversaries of former Presidents are celebrated many are the patriotic parties in club circles. There is the added incentive to sentiment in St. Valentine Day when pink and white parties are the vogue.

Most noteworthy of these latter ones, perhaps, is the Valentine Musical Tea to be given tomorrow by the Friday Morning Club with Mrs. W. I. Hollingsworth and Mrs. John D. Fredericks as hostesses. Assisting them are two score prominent members of the club all of whom will be dressed in authentic colonial costumes.

California Women of the Golden West, Mrs. George Davidson Gilmore, president, are giving a bridge luncheon Valentine Day, Friday, an affair which promises to be the most brilliant of the year for this active group of women now numbering 700 members. Mrs. C. LeRoy Pitts is chairman of arrangements and with other members of her committee and Mrs. Davidson heading the receiving line will welcome the guests at the Beverly Hills Hotel at high noon. All appointments of the luncheon will be Valentine in motif. A musical program will include numbers by Harry A. Truax, baritone; Stanley Denzinger of New York City, pianista and Mildred Louise Catterlin, soprano. Bridge games later in the day in the sun room will be directed by Miss Mary Heinz.

A Valentine tango party will be given by the Chicago Woman's Club of California Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Lillian Mallrup, 7175 Sunset Boulevard, for the benefit of the Chinese famine relief. Mrs. Louis Nordenholt is the new president of the club and with her associates in the directorate will receive.

Among the patriotic parties of the week is the one tomorrow, at the Women's Athletic Club when the Kenesaw Mountain Chapter Daughters of the Union will celebrate Lincoln's birthday. A program of historical interest will be presented by William Bottom of Boston, who will exhibit many valued relics of the Civil War period. Among these are personal letters of Abraham Lincoln, a life mask of the great war President made in 1860, a bullet-torn flag of 1861 as well as many personal articles once possessed by Lincoln. Mrs. M. M. Gale, whose mother was commended by Lincoln for her hospital work, will display a gift presented to her by him and Mrs. John A. Wright of Glendale will exhibit the first flag taken by Union men. Mrs. Lyman B. Stookey will show a medal presented to her father for bravery.

Col. George S. Redfield will relate his experience in Libby Prison and also will tell of his personal friendship with Lincoln. William H. Savage, oldest living member of the Marine Corps and personal friend of Admiral Dewey will be a guest of honor.

Tomorrow the drama class of the Catholic Woman's Club will celebrate in honor of Lincoln by presenting: "Interludes from Drinkwater's Abraham Lincoln," "The Copperhead" and other selections of that period.

A reciprocity tea will be given today by the Lincoln Study Club at the Woman's University Clubhouse, 943 South Hoover street.

As a benefit for the Felipe de Neve statue fund, an affair to take place at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Philanthropy and Civics Club, 1419 South Wilton Place, is being arranged by Mrs. Charles Van Valkenburg and two assistants, Mrs. Charles Jacobson and Mrs. G. R. Williamson.

Invitations have been issued to 200 members of California Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and their friends, who will be entertained with a musical program followed by a series of bridge games, with handsome score and door prizes.

A series of such benefits is planned by the parlor. The next, a one-day and evening bazaar, will be given in April with Mrs. Ida Potts McKenzie as commander-in-chief.

Dr. Anna E. Rude, director of the bureau of child hygiene in the Los Angeles county health department, will bring to the League of Women Voters a message of the work of the public health administration committee, White House conference on child health and protection, during a meeting of the league at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Biltmore. She has just returned from a meeting of the committee in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. George Mangold as chairman of the committee on child welfare will preside. The subject will include a discussion of the work of the Los Angeles county health department and its child-welfare program, in addition to the proceedings at the Washington conference. Dr. Rude also is a member of the league's child-welfare committee.

"The New Trend in Home Furnishing and Decorating," a lecture by Edgar Harrison Wileman of London and Buenos Aires, will be given this morning at Highland Park Ebell Club in the clubhouse at 131 South Avenue Fifty-seven. Mr. Wileman now is a lecturer for the University of Southern California university college, and the University of California at Los Angeles extension division, in the field of interior decoration.

Continuing their study of things Italian, members of the University Book Club, 3420 University avenue, will respond to roll call at 10 a.m. today with "Great Buildings in Italy." Mrs. L. C. Blevin, as principal speaker, will tell of the guilds of Florence, while Mrs. E. P. Campbell will describe glass making at Murano, and Mrs. D. M. Thies "Lace Making at Burana." Mrs. E. Keith Harkness will preside.

Deputies Seek Car Plunderers

Thieves who late last Sunday rifled the automobile of E. L. Fwick, 1349 North Hill street, Pasadena, of property valued at several hundred dollars yesterday were being sought by deputy sheriffs.

Theft of the articles occurred while the car was parked in front of 1126 1-2 North Ogden Drive. Among the things reported taken were an electric motor, sterotical and exercising machines, typewriter and books and notes valued in excess of $500.

Fwick told deputy sheriffs that he had arrived from South Carolin a last Friday.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Yyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHOCOLATE ICE BOX CAKE

Two squares of sweet chocolate, two tablespoonfuls of water, one-half a cupful of butter, three eggs, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, two cupfuls of powdered sugar; shave the chocolate and melt over hot water, when melted add the two tablespoonfuls of water, and the beaten yolks of the three eggs, beat constantly while adding this. Cream the butter and when the custard mixture is cool, beat the butter in. Then add the powdered sugar a little at a time and continue the beating. Stir in the flavoring, beat the three egg whites until stiff, and fold into the mixture, pour into a mold, that has been lined with lady fingers, or small pieces of stale sponge cake. Place in the ice box to chill, letting stand at least twenty-four hours. Serve with whipped cream.

APPLE PEPPERS

Take two cupfuls of slightly sweetened smooth apple sauce, add to it one cupful of bread crumbs that have been fried in butter and drained, two tablespoonfuls of grated sharp cheese, a tablespoonful of finely chopped walnut meats and one teaspoonful of finely chopped parsley. Mix all together, cut the tops off even sized bell peppers, remove the seed cone and wash in cold water, fill with the mixture, place in a pan, add a third of a cupful of cold water, cover and bake. Serve with a roast pork.

BAKED LOBSTER SALAD

Take two pounds of lobster and shred fine, add to it a half a cupful of bread crumbs, one well-beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and a tablespoonful of cream; add one tablespoonful of finely chopped walnut meats, allow the mixture to stand until thoroughly cold, then form it into miniature croquettes, the size of large green olives. Roll in egg and very fine bread crumbs, place on a buttered baking pan and bake in the oven until a delicate brown. Basting with a mixture of one tablespoonful of melted butter and one tablespoonful of sherry; when cool, place four of them on a bed of shredded lettuce, in the center a spoonful of heavy mayonnaise. Garnish with olive rings and pimiento.

CREAM OF CARROT SOUP

Two cupfuls of carrots, four cupfuls of boiling water, four tablespoonfuls of finely chopped celery, one tablespoonful of onion juice, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a seasoning of salt and paprika; two cupfuls of milk, wash, scrape the carrots and cut in small dice, cover with the four cupfuls of boiling water and cook until tender, rub through a sieve, and add the pulp and liquid to the white sauce made of the butter, flour and milk. Add the chopped celery and the onion juice, simmer in a double boiler for twenty minutes, serve hot with croutons.

Old Hankies

If your handkerchiefs have become very flimsy and consequently look soiled before they really are, just dip them in starch after washing and then put them through the rinse water again. This will add just a tiny bit of body and make them look like new.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply. This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, sputum, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DISCIPLINE BY FEAR DOES NOT BUILD STRONG CHARACTER

Usually we look everywhere except at our own actions for the causes of a child's behavior, but we are being willfully blind. The reasons for a child's good or bad behavior are, in most cases, attributable to his treatment at home and the effect of his home surroundings upon him. In this case the mother mentions the causes and the effect but doesn't connect their bearing upon each other.

Mrs. E. T. says: "I read your column daily and I am interested, for I have a boy 4 years of age. He is very mischievous and his father has given him a lot of hard spankings. Of late whenever I speak to him he starts to cry as if he were very much hurt. Do you suppose this is nervousness?

"He will not go out to play like other children and seems to be afraid of the cold. As a consequence he has no appetite. What do you suppose would be the cause of all this?"

YOU MUST CHANGE YOUR ATTITUDE

There seem to be two answers to it. The child is obviously being made cowardly and unhappy through fear. The outdoor world seems full of new and strange dangers, and so he refuses to go out and meet them. He is probably quite unaware of the reasons for his being beaten and so he fears almost everything.

There is the physical side, too. He may be anemic (whether the lack of appetite causes that or the anemia causes the lack of appetite is a question,) and he would really suffer from the cold. If you give him toys with which he can play actively outdoors, bundle him up in leggings, overshoes, a warm sweater and cap and coat, he should be comfortable outdoors. If you go out with him for a while or talk to him frequently from the doorway he will be happier out there alone and will be more inclined to repeat the experience the next day.

To call a child mischievous is to put an interpretation on his acts which is probably purely in your own mind. A child acts in all kinds of ways and as his surroundings are a natural part of his life he uses them in every way conceivable, not from meanness or a desire to be annoying, but because it is possible they are the only materials he has with which to "do" things. Just to have toys may not mean that the child has the right kind of toys or the raw materials for doing things, so he uses the household furnishings and his parents call him mischievous.

We have a leaflet, "An Analysis of Obedience and Punishment," which any reader may obtain by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with each request. This would be helpful for you and your husband to read together, especially the portion dealing with whippings and the reasons why they are ineffective, or else effective in the way they are with your boy by turning him into a timid, unhappy, nervous child. Children can't exist under those conditions and it is you who must change before you will see any improvement in the boy.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Space and Comfort

Do not feel that every available space in a room must have a piece of furniture adorning it. A room is lots more comfortable if a person has space to move around without having to be on the lookout for obstacles.

Cleaning Matting

Sweeping or vacuuming will clean efficiently without resorting to water on it. Alkalis or soaps tend to discolor matting and the less water on it, the better. Spots may be removed by rubbing with a cloth wrung out of hot water.

NATURAL 100% BRAN FAVORED BY DOCTORS

93% of Group of Physicians Express Preference

Every man or woman who suffers from atonic constipation will find really helpful advice in the words of this group of physicians.

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question. "Do you believe that raw, natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes."

Here is expert opinion. Do you suffer from bowel irregularity resulting from intestinal sluggishness? Are you troubled with headaches, lassitude, sleeplessness, nervousness, sallowness, loss of vitality, and the increased susceptibility to serious disease which result from constipation? You need natural 100% bran. Your grocer has it—Pillsbury's Bran, natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away.

Pillsbury's Bran supplies the roughage which is so necessary nowadays. Primitive man had roughage in his ordinary diet, and had no constipation. Modern man should add roughage to his soft food—should add it every day.

Pillsbury's Bran is roughage in a most effective form. You can use it to prepare many delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you use Pillsbury's Bran, you may be sure you are getting the right kind of bran—natural 100% bran, recommended by this overwhelming majority of physicians.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

A BLACK GHOST

Sometimes there is a state of mind
That to the truth makes people blind.
—Blacky the Crow.

Two days had passed since Chatterer the Red Squirrel had discovered the black feathers beneath a tree in the Green Forest and up in that tree had seen Hooty the Owl and Mrs. Hooty. He had at once jumped to the conclusion that Blacky the Crow had been killed and eaten. The news had spread all through the Green Forest and the Old Orchard and over the Green Meadows. It had spread up through the Old Pasture. Almost every one had believed it. Reddy Fox hadn't. When Reddy first heard the news he had grinned. "What is that black-coated rascal up to now?" he muttered. "I don't believe he is dead any more than I am. When Hooty the Owl catches Blacky the Crow it will be when he is so old that he is too feeble to fly."

But almost everybody else believed the news. And when after two days had passed with no sign or sound of Blacky, even Reddy's doubt was a little shaken. He even went over to the Green Forest and saw the black feathers around the foot of the tree in which Blacky's old nest was. He heard Hooty snapping his bill at him from up above.

"Did you kill Blacky the Crow?" demanded Reddy.

"What business is it of yours?" retorted Hooty. "Do I ask you who you have caught?"

"It is reported everywhere that you killed and ate Blacky," said Reddy. "Personally, I don't believe it. I don't believe you are smart enough."

"How about those feathers down there?" retorted Hooty.

"A few black feathers are no proof," declared Reddy. "Blacky isn't the only Crow. It will take some one smarter than you to catch Blacky."

With this Reddy trotted on. However, he wasn't so sure as he pretended to be that Blacky hadn't been caught. Those black feathers around the foot of the tree where Blacky's nest was made it look very much as if it might be that Blacky really was no more.

Over in the Old Orchard Blacky's disappearance was still the chief subject of gossip. It was the third day and no one had seen or heard

"Did you kill Blacky the Crow?" demanded Reddy

Blacky. "That proves that it is true," declared Happy Jack Squirrel. "Can any of you remember three days without hearing or seeing Blacky the Crow?"

All shook their heads. None of them could. Strangely enough, it didn't pop into one of those little heads that in all those three days they had neither seen nor heard any other Crow. You see, their thoughts were just of Blacky. But it was a fact that not a Crow had been seen or heard for three days.

"Caw, caw, caw!" said a harsh voice.

You should have seen those little people scamper! Happy Jack the Gray Squirrel dodged around the trunk of a tree. Yank-Yank the Nuthatch did the same. Tommy Tit the Chickadee popped into a bird house which happened to be near. Peter Rabbit, who had come up from the dear Old Briar Patch, dodged down between the stones of the old stone wall. If that voice had been the hunting call of Hooty the Owl himself, there couldn't have been a greater fright. You see, every one recognized that voice as the voice of Blacky the Crow.

With frightened eyes they all peeped up in the top of an apple tree. There sat Blacky the Crow. He was just as black as ever. His voice was just as harsh as ever. His eyes were just as bright as ever. But it couldn't be Blacky, because Blacky was dead. It must be Blacky's ghost. Any way, that is what the little people of the Old Orchard thought.

SPICES AND FLAVORINGS

There is much romance connected with the history of spices and flavorings. As we go into the stories of cinnamon, cloves and ginger we find tales of ships of long ago taking voyages of years to bring back a hold full of these rarities. In imagination we can speed away to foreign lands and watch the different traders battling by fair means or foul to get their hands on the source of supply. One can read strange tales, such as the ones the Arabs told to Herodotus about winged serpents guarding cinnamon.

One can sail here and there with daring explorers, eager to taste of the new delights and bring them home. One can sit at the table with kings as they sample their latest delicacies unloaded from groaning holds. In fancy, one can smell the tang of ginger, cloves and nutmegs, mixed and wafted by the breezes, even as they were first enjoyed by kings and wealthy classes of ancient times.

The clove helped to fill the coffers of many an old Dutch or Portuguese trader who sailed away to the Moluccas for his shipload. The clove tree is a very strikingly beautiful shrub from which the nutmeg is also produced. The green leaves are shiny and oval-shaped and the crimson clusters of the flower present a brilliant contrast. The cloves are the dried flower buds. The nutmeg is the matured fruit. They are grown principally in Brazil, Celon and the West Indies.

Cinnamon is derived from an oil extracted from cinnamon bark. It is produced principally in Sumatra, Java, and the warmer parts of Asia. The Arabs for many centuries maintained control of the cinnamon market and kept secret its source from the outside world. The Arabs invented tales to keep away inquisitive traders, among which was the story of the cinnamon being guarded by ferocious winged serpents.

Vanilla is the most popular of all flavorings, since at least three times as much is served as of any other extract. The vanilla is interesting in that it is the fruit of an orchid —a type of plant which grows by attaching itself to the bark of a tree. The vanilla bean, although having a pod about eight inches long, is in no way related to the ordinary bean.

Most of the vanilla beans are cultivated in Mexico, Tahiti, Java, West Indies, Fiji and Central America. It was probably first used by the Aztecs, who used vanilla in flavoring chocolate.

The mature pods are put through a curing process to bring out their flavor. This is done by a process of fermenting and sweating by placing the beans in the sun and wrapping them in a blanket covering. The pods may then be covered with small white crystals of vanillin. The ordinary vanilla content of the bean is from 1 to 3 per cent. To withdraw the extract, the beans are cut into small pieces and put into a mixture of sugar, alcohol and water.

Some vanilla may be allowed to those who are in good health for the flavoring of various foods. Since the vanilla loses its flavor with heat, if used in anything that is heated on the stove, add the vanilla last, after removing from the fire.

Pistachio is a flavor frequently used in the preparations of ice creams and candy, and is made from a small, reddish nut with a green meat, with a delicate, subtle flavor. The natural color of the nut is very light green and in most food prepared with the pistachio the color is deepened with an aniline green. A very good imitation of pistachio can be made by mixing extract of almond, vanilla and neroli oil.

KEYES OPENS NEW BATTLE

Convicted ex-District Attorney Asks Rehearing; Appellate Court Informed Ruling Erroneous

Renewing his fight in the District Court of Appeal against a sentence of one to fourteen years' imprisonment in San Quentin for bribery, Asa Keyes, former District Attorney, yesterday pinned his faith on asserted errors of the court.

In a lengthy petition, for rehearing on an Appellate Court decision handed down January 31 affirming the conviction of the Superior Court, Keyes charged that "the decision has established propositions of law and precedent which are in conflict with and entirely contrary to the fundamentals of law."

ROSENBERG TRAILS

E. H. Rosenberg, convicted with Keyes, appealed on the same grounds in general as the former prosecutor.

Attorney Schenck, representing Keyes, setting forth that the Appellate Court decision is erroneous, commented upon twenty-seven excerpts from the decision.

"A great injustice has been done," said the attorney in emphasizing his plea for a rehearing. He also asserted that the court was laboring under a "misconception."

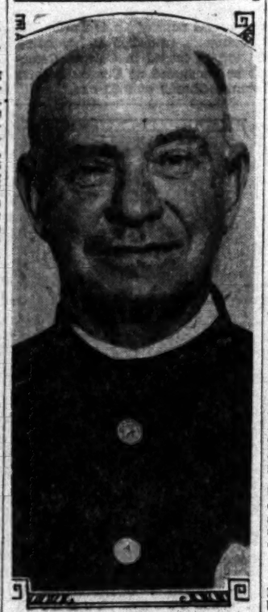
The Appellate Court in handing down its decision on January 31 dismissed objections to Dist.-Atty. Fitts's closing address with the statement that "some of the language employed by him (the District Attorney) was intemperate, there is no question, but we doubt whether it was sufficiently strong to be characterized as misconduct."

The Attorney-General's office has three days to answer the defense petition. Within two days after the final briefs have been filed the court will hand down its decision, Justice Lewis R. Works is presiding.

ONE SHOT LEFT

The defense will have then exhausted its possibilities in the District Court of Appeal and if it decides to continue the fight, as is the announced plan of Keyes in the event his petition is denied, it must then appeal to the Supreme Court.

Council Quits to Honor Its Riot-Queller



George Daniels

The City Council yesterday adjourned its session in honor of Officer George Daniels, who yesterday completed twenty-one years of service as sergeant-at-arms of the Council. Daniels, who is 59 years of age, joined the force in May, 1902, and first appeared on the Council floor February, 10, 1909. He now wears Sergeant's Badge No. 1. For twenty-six years he carried Patrolman's Badge No. 2.

The resolution, prepared by Deputy City Attorney Neal, is as follows:

Whereas Officer George Daniels has this day obtained his majority as sergeant-at-arms of the City Council, having served in the capacity of preserving order, quelling riots and disturbances for twenty-one years.

Whereas the Council is desirous of expressing its appreciation of the long and efficient service of Officer Daniels of the city of Los Angeles.

Therefore, Be It Resolved that this Council do now adjourn in honor of Officer Daniels.

Junior College Site Purchased

Acceptance of the deed to the property by the Board of Education last night completed the purchase of five acres of the old campus of the University of California at Los Angeles, which now is the site of the Los Angeles Junior College. The price paid is $538,000.

The portion of the site purchased by the Board of Education comprises about a fifth of the entire campus and includes the main buildings now being used by the junior college. The Board of Education holds a lease on the remainder of the campus, with an option to purchase, which still has more than four years to run.

Detective Burke Hearing Delayed

Congestion of cases in Superior Judge Hardy's department yesterday caused the trial of Charles W. Burke, private detective charged with grand theft, to be deferred until today.

Burke is accused of misappropriating $2000 given him by a client to settle a legal dispute.

VALENTINE DISHES WILL BE PREPARED

Women who are interested in preparing unusual and appropriate dishes for a Valentine's Day menu should go to the Los Angeles Times' cooking school at 2 p.m. today. Chef Wyman will make Valentine lilies; a cherry cream pie; asparagus Bavarian salad and pineapple fish, a semi-Japanese dish. The free cooking classes are held in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PADRE HITS GASOLINE TRUCK

Passengers on Espee Train in Panic When Flames Envelop Crash Scene in Ventura

VENTURA, Feb. 10. (Exclusive)—Passengers on the Padre, Southern Pacific limited, were thrown into a state of panic at 5:55 a.m. today when the Los Angeles-bound train crashed into a truck and trailer loaded with gasoline at Front and Ash streets.

P. Everly, engineer of the train, and W. H. Geottake, fireman, were slightly burned in the blaze and explosion that followed instantly.

James G. Stephens, driver of the G. M. Duntley truck, which was going east on Front street at the time, said he started to jump when the crash occurred, but was thrown from the cab of the truck by the force of the explosion. He was not injured.

NOTABLES ENDANGERED

The entire street was aflame with the escaping gasoline and those in the greatest danger were members of the U.S.C. basketball team and of a party which had been visiting William Randolph Hearst on his San Simeon ranch. Prominent among members of the party were Arthur Brisbane and Marion Davies, film actress.

Their special cars stopped directly opposite the gasoline storage tanks of the Union Oil Company on one side and the People's Lumber Company yards on the other, where lumber was ignited by the burning gasoline.

Marco Hellman, Los Angeles banker, and his daughter were in one of the rear cars of the train, and while disturbed by the crash and the fire, their lives were not endangered.

MAIL DELAYED

All of the through San Francisco-Los Angeles mail was held in the baggage car on the siding at the station and it was not until 9:52 that Postmaster W. W. Bernhardt could send the mail on to Los Angeles by a freight train.

C. M. Duntley came to Ventura this morning to look over the wreck, and he estimated the damage done to his truck to be $4000. The damage on the trailer amounts to $3000.

The Associated Oil Company's foamite trucks were rushed to the scene, the foamite being used to extinguish the gasoline blaze.

The remaining flames were put out by the Ventura fire department and lumber company employees in a fight that lasted an hour.

JACK DELAFIELD TRIAL FOR THEFT POSTPONED

Superior Judge Wood yesterday again continued the trial of Jack Delafield, charged with stealing $61,000 in bonds from Mrs. Mary Hoffman of San Francisco, at the request of defense attorneys. The defendant was ordered to be in court next Monday at 10 a.m.

ROAD RIDERS SEEN IN LATE NEWS REEL

State's Highway Patrol and Cavalrymen Feature "Times"-Universal Film

California's new highway patrol motorcyclists are shown in action in the latest issue of The Times-Universal Newsreel to be released at many important Southern California theaters. Rivaling our newest riders is shown the United States Cavalry of Fort Ethan Allen charging over icy, snow-covered slopes of the Green Mountains.

Other thrills offered in this issue of The Times-Universal Newsreel include army aeronauts in a blimp, battling winds over Washington to drop a wreath on the Lincoln Memorial, a typhoon in Haiti, scientists risking their lives exploring the crater of Vesuvius, and an English aviatrice landing in a garage.

Graham McNamee, radio announcer turned newscaster as talking reporter of The Times-Universal Newsreel, describes these events in a vivid manner.

BIOGRAPHER OF POE TO ADDRESS FORUM

CONCLAVE OPENED BY LOAN MEN

Governor and Mayor on List of Speakers at West Coast Convention

More than 500 executives of the building-loan associations from the ten western States gathered here yesterday to attend their ninth annual convention. The conclave held at the Biltmore was officially opened by Gov. Young and included among its speakers Mayor Porter, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, Peter Hanson, Dr. Gordon S. Watkins and C. A. Dykstra, economist of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Pertinent questions covered by the principal speakers at the opening session included: "Land Valuation," "Codification of Building-Loan Laws," "Participation by Women." The convention will conclude tonight with the annual banquet, at which Dr. Herman Von Schlessinger will be the principal speaker, William E. Bouton, president of the conference, presiding.

Gov. Young welcomed the building-loan officials to the conference following the invocation by Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin. The Governor, himself an officer of a building and loan association, declared these savings institutions are becoming an important financial bulwark of the West.

Mrs. Orville L. Routt, who is prominently identified with the building-loan movement in Los Angeles, pointed out that women have assumed a dominant position in the financial picture of the nation. She stated that 41 per cent of the wealth of the United States is in the hands of women; 70 per cent of the men leave their estates to women; 64 per cent of the women leave their estates to other women. Of the $95,000,000,000 of life insurance in force 80 per cent of the beneficiaries are women. Of the 475,000 investors in California building-loan associations 45 per cent are women, according to Mrs. Routt.

WATER DEVELOPERS' BANQUET ATTRACTIVE

With reservations still coming in, places have already been reserved for more than 300 persons at the Los Angeles 1930 Water Development Congress and dinner tomorrow night at the Biltmore under the auspices of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles, it is announced. Latest developments in solving the water problems of Los Angeles including flood control, drainage and conservation, will be discussed by experts.

SCHOOLS BAN HOME STUDY

Los Angeles Students in First Six Grades Will be Governed by Radical Change Starting Today

Home study will no longer be required of pupils in the first six grades of the Los Angeles public school system, it was announced by Supt. Bouelle at a meeting of the Board of Education last night. This radical departure in educational practice will be put into effect today, he added.

The decision to eliminate home study from the curriculum of the lower elementary grades was reached by him, Supt. Bouelle said on the basis of a recommendation to that effect by a committee of officials of the school system, which includes principals and vice-principals, members of the school health division and a representative of the psychology and educational-research division. The committee, which is headed by Katherine L. Carey, assistant superintendent, based its recommendation on the report of a subcommittee of elementary-school principals, of which the members are Earl E. Hitchcock, Helene M. Stull and Grace B. Colestock.

MAY GO FURTHER

The committee has not ended its labors but now is considering the problem of home study in the higher grades. It may eventually make some recommendations as to changes in the system of home study in the higher grades or even recommend the lessening of the amount required, but there is little likelihood, according to Supt. Bouelle, of the elimination of home study for pupils above the sixth grade.

The recommendations of the committee, as accepted by the superintendent and as they are to be promulgated in all elementary schools today, are:

(a) All regular school assignments in the first six grades are to be completed in the classroom.

(b) Home study may be suggested to parents when the following conditions exist:

(2.) Absence of pupils from schools.

(3.) Pupils who cannot concentrate when in a group.

AS TO PHYSICALLY WEAK

(c) Each pupil must bring a not from his parents requesting an assignment for home study before such an assignment may be given.

(d) The child who is not physically strong should be urged to take more time to complete his work in the elementary school.

(e) Some research and activity work may often be done at home, but only as a voluntary contribution and may not be counted as part of the required work prescribed by the course of study.

One of the most important of the above recommendations, in the opinion of Supt. Bouelle, is that with regard to children who are physically weak. He believes, he said, that parents should be brought to realize that it is for the best interests of such children to have them devote another half-year or year to their elementary schooling rather than to permit them to endanger their health by attempting to keep up with the progress of healthier children. He said a particular effort will be made to convince the parents of weak children of the dangers to them of intensive home study and thus prevent the parents from requesting that extra-curricular work be assigned their children to enable them to keep up with their classes.

Attempt to Influence State Witness in Boltares Sanity Hearing Indicated

Investigation into reports that attempts have been made to influence prosecution witnesses in the sanity trial of Armando Boltares, accused of slaying five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family, was ordered last night by Capt. William J. Bright, chief of the Sheriff's homicide detail, after a witness complained that he was approached after court adjourned for the day.

Boltares, who pleaded not guilty to the charge by reason of insanity, is on trial in Superior Judge McComb's court. He is accused of slaying Luciano and Helena Garcia, and Carlos and Carmelita Alvarez and Elisa Garcia in Bootleggers' Canyon, near San Fernando, during a fit of murderous rage. Lola Dolores Guichapa, Boltares's asserted sweetheart, is accused of being an accomplice in the slayings, but her trial has been deferred until Boltares's sanity status has been established.

Inasmuch as the law presumes the defendant to be sane, the defense, represented by Public Defender G. A. Benedict, was the first to call its witnesses.

Mrs. Isabel Avila De Galloway of 911 Watson street, Wilmington, testified that Boltares roomed in her house and said he was unlike other roomers in that he would not drink and would not lend money to the other roomers.

"But if I came to him and asked him to let me lend it to them for him he would give it to me," she testified.

Dr. Victor Parkin, expert witness for the defense, testified that Boltares had not responded normally to reflex tests, but said the defendant knows the difference between right and wrong.

SUPERIOR COURT CASES IN PERIL

Thousand Face Dismissal as Beyond Jurisdiction

All Involving Any Sum Less Than $1000 Included

Municipal Bench Supposed to Handle Them Now

As a result of a ruling made yesterday by Superior Judge Holizer calling attention tb the increased jurisdiction of the Municipal Court, more than 1000 civil cases filed in the Superior Court—cases involving less than $1000—may be dismissed.

The ruling came when the court dismissed two separate actions brought by L. M. Woodward against J. L. Ziegler and Roger De Maggio for $500 for asserted services rendered.

Judge Hollzer held that jurisdiction in suits under $1000 was given the Municipal Court by the amended constitution, November 6, 1928 and that the Superior Court no longer has jurisdiction. In August, 1929, the Legislature again amended the act relative to court jurisdiction increasing that of the Municipal Court to cases up to $2000.

Judge Hollzer declares:

"It may not be amiss in passing to call attention to the fact that this change in jurisdiction of the Superior Courts has been overlooked to a considerable degree. As pointed out in a recent announcement made by the Judicial Council of California, during the last calendar year, as disclosed by the County Clerk, more than 1000 civil suits over which the Superior Court has no jurisdiction were nevertheless filed in Los Angeles county. The serious consequences which may result from this oversight are too obvious to require comment."

SHOW LIGHTS TO BE BRIGHT

High-powered incandescent lamps used in production of colored motion pictures yesterday were selected by illumination engineers as the best means of lighting the Shrine Auditorium for the seventeenth annual automobile show of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association, scheduled to open there on the 22nd inst. They were chosen after a series of tests, according to Burt Roberts, general manager of the show.

"Bright colors will predominate this year," said Roberts, "and will require four times the usual volume of light."

More than 300 passenger cars, Roberts stated, will be on display in the banquet hall, ballroom, balcony and on the stage of the auditorium. The banquet hall also will accommodate more than fifty exhibits of commercial vehicles and accessories. An added feature will be a group of old-time cars.

VON KLEINSMID GOES EAST

Scheduled to be the principal speaker at the last day of the annual convention of the American College of Physicians Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, departed last night on the Union Pacific Los Angeles Limited for Minneapolis. The convention opened yesterday. Dr. Von KleinSmid will return immediately.

PIONEER'S RITES ARRANGED

Mrs. Sentous, Widow of Packer, Will be Given Burial Tomorrow Morning at Calvary Cemetery

Mrs. Bernadette Sentous, 77 years of age, widow of Louis Sentous, Southern California's pioneer meat packer, and aunt of Louis Sentous II, formerly French consular agent in Los Angeles, who died at her home, 2143 South Hobart Boulevard Sunday, will be buried in Calvary Cemetery tomorrow morning. Services will be conducted at Pierce Brothers mortuary at 9:15 a.m. and at St. Vincent's Church at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Sentous had been in ill health since 1927 and for a number of months was bedridden. Tragedy entered her life on December 5, 1911, when her husband and son, John, 40, died within a few hours of each other. Mrs. Sentous's grave will be beside those of her husband and son. Mrs. Sentous, who was born in France, came to California under romantic circumstances in 1871, as a bride.

ESTABLISH COMPANY

Louis Sentous, with his older brother John, came to Southern California in 1855 by way of Cape Horn. They began raising stock, ignoring the various gold rushes throughout the State. In the course of five years they were known as the largest stock raisers in this part of the West. As Los Angeles emerged from the adobe town classification the brothers established the Sentous Packing Company, which grew to large proportions. They took part in civic enterprises and were recognized as among the foremost citizens.

But back in France there remained for Louis an attraction greater than his business. His interest there was centered in a French girl he had left behind when he sailed for California, and in 1871 he returned and claimed her as his bride.

ACTIVE IN CHURCH

Mrs. Sentous always took an active interest in the affairs of her husband and was an active church worker as long as her health remained good. During the sixty years she lived here, Mrs. Sentous and the members of her family became prominent and their business interests grew with the city.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Mary Louise Canet and Mrs. Narcise S. Garnier; six grand-daughters, Mrs. Leon Garnier, Mrs. Slazko Vorkapich, Miss Germaine Sentous, Misses Audette and Yvonne Garnier, all of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Alfando Pezzi, of Italy. Besides the grand-daughters she leaves also five great-grandchildren.

BILLBOARD LAW UPHELD

Superior Court Appellate Department Rules City Regulatory Ordinance Constitutional

Provisions of the billboard ordinance of the city of Los Angeles are upheld in a decision handed down yesterday by Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop, sitting in the appellate department of the Superior Court, which affirms a judgment rendered in the Municipal Court against Thomas J. Horton and Walter Horton.

Complaint was filed against the Hortons in the Municipal Court accusing them of erecting within a residential district a billboard of an area of more than twelve feet square, contrary to the city's billboard ordinance. The offending board was constructed on their own property on the west side of Pasadena avenue, between Avenues 34 and 35. They were adjudged guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $25 or spend five days in jail.

Attorney John J. Craig filed an appeal in their behalf on the grounds that the billboard ordinance is unconstitutional, in that it seeks to deprive the defendants of their private property without due process of law and that the ordinance places an unreasonable restriction upon the use of private property and that the ordinance is not within the police powers of the city of Los Angeles.

The appeal court's opinion in part says:

"In our opinion, a city ordinance is a valid exercise of the police power, whereby billboards of more than twelve feet in area are prohibited in residence districts, for the reason that such a measure bears a real and substantial relation to the public health, morals, safety and general welfare.

"Appellants also contend that the evidence shows that the immediate district in the vicinity of their property was trending away from residential into business uses, and will continue to do so, and that for such reasons the ordinance is unreasonable and discriminatory as to the appellants. We have examined the evidence and find no merit in this contention. True there are both business and vacant properties in the vicinity of the appellants' property, but where an official body, in its administrative capacity has acted upon a matter properly before it, the courts will not reverse except where there is a manifest and flagrant abuse of discretion. Where the City Council, after a consideration of all the facts, concludes that the public welfare would be promoted by constituting the area a residence district, it is the settled rule that court will not substitute its judgment for that of the legislative body charged with the primary duty and responsibility of determining the question.

"Finally, the appellants contend that the billboard ordinance was in effect appealed by a later zoning ordinance which omitted appellants' property from the strictly residential zone. We see no merit in this contention since the later ordinance does not purport to regulate the erection and maintenance of billboards. The judgment and orders are affirmed."

FLOP MADE OF MOVE TO GET JAILED

Halfway Hold-up Suspect Released Despite Effort to Land Behind Bars

"Call a cop and take me to jail," Thomas A. Gibbard of 922 West Seventh Place told the man he had just handed a hold-up note, after refusing to accept the contents of the till, according to evidence presented to Municipal Judge Russill yesterday. Gibbard was charged with attempted robbery and with burglary.

Spencer W. Liddell, proprietor of a lunch stand at 729 South Figueroa street, declared that after Gibbard told him to call an officer he refused to do so, whereupon the latter waited until Policeman C. C. Rath appeared and surrendered to him. "I want to go to jail," Rath said he declared.

"I'm sorry I can't accommodate you in your desire to go to jail," Judge Russill told Gibbard at the conclusion of the hearing, "but the testimony presented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Broker shows no crime has been committed. The case is dismissed.

Gibbard, however, got part of his wish, as he spent the time between his arrest on January 27, last, and his hearing yesterday in jail.

Mrs. Andrade's Trial Ordered in Gun Affair

Denying a motion to set aside the complaint charging Mrs. Helen Lois Andrade with two counts of assault with a deadly weapon and overruling a demurrer to the complaint, Superior Judge Walton Wood yesterday ordered the woman to return to his court on March 6, next, for trial.

The complaint charges that Mrs. Andrade emptied a revolver at A. F. Andrade, in front of his home at 206 North Palm Drive, Beverly Hills, on December 12, 1929. Andrade asserts that the bullets narrowly missed his head as he fled into a neighbor's home.

Later, Mrs. Andrade filed a $100,000 damage suit against Judith Lavender Andrade, second wife of the complaining witness, asserting that she alienated and stole his affections.

EAGLE BAFFLED IN QUEST OF WINDS ON RIDGE ROUTE

Further glider flights of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh probably will be made at San Diego, the colonel stated last night on his arrival at the home of J. L. Maddux with Mrs. Lindbergh and Mrs. Maddux, following a brief rest at the Maddux Lake Arrowhead mountain retreat.

"We plan to carry on at San Diego, but general wind conditions have not changed and I have no definite plans as to when another flight can be made," Col. Lindbergh pointed out.

He has given up the Lebec site on the Ridge Route. Prevailing gentle winds there make gliding from hilltops possible, but are not strong enough to allow the colonel to maintain his original altitude in soaring—his present desire for future experiments.

Further improvement of his and Mrs. Lindbergh's new Lockheed Sirius monoplane was indicated by the colonel last night.

"In ordering a low-winged plane I have had in mind eventually fitting it with retractable landing-gear," he stated. "This is a feature that can easily be included in a low-winged ship and we are working out plans for the change."

Whether landing-gear to retract into the wing of the plane in flight can be fitted before he and Mrs. Lindbergh return east Col. Lindbergh could not say. He indicated, however, that he and Jerry Vultee, chief engineer of Lockheed, will round out their plans as soon as possible.

Folding landing-gear would cut down wind resistance of the plane considerably and should add to its present top speed of 180 miles an hour.

Motorcycle Repairer Shot by Neighbor

Investigation was started yesterday by the Sheriff's office into the shooting last Sunday morning of Henry Cukiersti of 905 East Fifty-seventh street, said to have been wounded by H. S. Touchfarber of 1149 East Fifty-ninth Place. Cukiersti was treated at the Receiving Hospital, where his wound was said not to be serious.

Touchfarber told deputy sheriffs he fired a small-caliber weapon five times at three boys to frighten them after having been annoyed by their repairing a motorcycle on his lawn. Deputies Penprase and Gray of the homicide detail, who investigated declined to file felony charges against Touchfarber.

SCHOOL HEADS GO TO PARLEY

Sheffield Case Arguments Set

Arguments for a new trial in the case of M. B. Sheffield, Los Angeles negro detective convicted of accepting a bribe, will be heard on the 17th inst., Superior Judge Wilson ruled yesterday after the detective's attorney, Thomas P. White, set forth a score of asserted judicial errors in his motion for a new trial.

Sheffield was to have been sentenced yesterday but the motion for a new trial must be disposed of before definite action can be taken.

ARMY VS. IRISH FOOTBALL GAME MOVED TO CHICAGO

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Army-Notre Dame football game for 1930 will be played at Soldier Field, Chicago, it was announced today. Agreement to transfer the game from New York to Chicago was reached today at a conference between Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, Notre Dame president, and representatives of the United States Military Academy.

Father O'Donnell said the 1931 and 1932 contracts called for the annual games to be played in New York. The change for this year was made at Notre Dame's request. Under the original schedule Notre Dame would have played the Army in New York November 29 and Southern California at Los Angeles December 6.

DODGERS BUY FINN, SLADE

Keystone Combination Sold by Mission for Cash and Players; Five Reds Now Gone

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Sale of Gordon Slade, shortstop, and Neal (Mickey) Finn, second baseman, to the Brooklyn Nationals was announced today by Wade (Red) Killefer, president and manager of the San Francisco Missions.

Under the terms of the deal, the Pacific Coast League club will receive players and cash. Names of players Brooklyn will send out were withheld, due to the fact that waivers now are being asked on them. The money involved also was not announced.

Killefer's terms were accepted late today by Frank B. York, president of the major league club. Slade and Finn will join the Brooklyn squad this spring training.

Slade, 24, and Finn, 27, have played together for several seasons, and last year were regarded as one of the best keystone combinations in the Coast circuit. Slade set an all-time Coast League record last season with a fielding average of .974 for 197 games. He had 423 putouts, 689 assists and 30 errors, and hit for an average of .302. Finn turned in a fielding average of .968 for 176 games; had 299 putouts, 579 assists, 32 errors and hit .347.

The pair formerly played with the old Vernon team and came to San Francisco when the franchise was brought to this city. To date, Killefer has sold five players of his 1929 team which finished second in the pennant chase. Others disposed of include Wilbur Hubbell, Merton Nelson and Walter (Dutch) Ruether, all pitchers. Hubbell went to Chattanooga, Nelson to the Detroit Americans and Ruether to Seattle of the Coast League.

BILL LAIRD BREAKS ANKLE IN SLIDE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 10. (AP)—With its opening league game with Santa Clara only five days away, Stanford's hopes for a baseball victory were dealt a staggering blow today when Capt. Bill Laird, varsity third sacker, broke his ankle sliding into second base during practice. Laird, who is a senior registered from Los Angeles, will be out of the game the rest of the season, doctors said.

BRUIN FIVE HOPES FOR UPSET WIN

Works Drills Westwooders for Tilt Saturday Night With Trojan Team

Preparing for the second game of the series with the University of Southern California Trojans, Coach Caddy Works, basketball mentor of the University of California at Los Angeles, sent his cagers through a stiff workout last night in the University High gymnasium.

Despite two disheartening defeats incurred by the Bruins from California last Friday and Saturday nights, the Westwooders are planning to upset the sons of Troy in their race toward the championship of the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference. Saturday night's game will be played on the U.C.L.A. home court, the Olympic Auditorium floor, starting at 8 o'clock, with a preliminary game between the freshman quintets of the two local universities starting at 7 o'clock.

LOS ANGELES WOMEN ANNEX

Make Clean Sweep of Match With Lakeside

Increase Point Lead Over California Club

Mrs. C. W. Fellows Turns in Score of 82

BY THE GOLPHER

Taking all 9 points from Lakeside in yesterday's interclub matchat Hillcrest, the women's team of the Los Angeles Country Club added materially to its lead over California in club standings.

While the Los Angeles women were blanking Lakeside, fair golfers of California secured a 7-to-2 victory over Riviera. Despite their triumph, California dropped back 2 points on Los Angeles in the race for the championship.

Standings of the clubs are as follows:

Los Angeles, 54; California, 49½; Riviera, 41; Flintridge, 33; Wilshire, 36½; Hillcrest, 29; Brentwood, 28; Lakeside, 22; San Gabriel, 21; Hollywood, 20½; Rancho, 20; Oakmont, 18½.

The Los Angeles women have held the league lead since the start of the season.

Brentwood scored a lopsided victory over San Gabriel, blanking their rivals largely because neither Mrs. Leona Pressler nor Mrs. Mark Steele appeared on the course.

California, 7; Liviera, 2.
Los Angeles, 9; Lakeside, 0.
Oakmont, 4 1-2; Hollywood, 4 1-2.
Hillcrest, 6 1-2; Rancho, 2 1-2.
Wilshire, 5; Flintridge, 4.
Brentwood, 9; San Gabriel, 0.

Mrs. C. W. Fellows turned in a brilliant 82 and won single honors by beating Mrs. W. R. Penniston and Mrs. H. Van Dyke 4 up on the first nine. Mrs. Fellows had to play alone as her partner did not show

JOE GUERRERO DROPS VERDICT

Torrid Bout Punctuated by Toe-to-Toe Milling

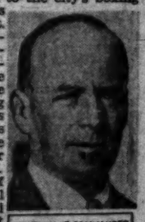
BY PAUL LOWRY

To the fanfare of music, bright lights and political speeches the newest addition to the city's boxing arenas made its bow last night. And in presenting Joe Guerrero and Ritchie King in the main event the Eastside boxing auditorium, as the new spot is known, gave the fight bugs their money's worth.



It was one of those typical head-to-head conflicts that have become famous in fiction as bar-room brawls. Guerrero and King threw everything at each other but the ring posts. Guerrero wound up with a bad cut over his right eye and King had a bloody bruise over his forehead.

But King finished an eyelash to the good. He was awarded Referee Duke Kenworthy's decision at the end of ten rounds of fierce and rapid fighting.

HOT SESSION

The seventh was the hottest round of the bout. King rocked Guerrero with a right to the head. Guerrero dropped King momentarily with a right to the same spot. And just before the bell Guerrero sent King to the canvas again with a right to the whiskers.

It was in this round that both boys received cuts over eye and forehead, respectively.

Adding to the general festivities, Promoter Leo Newman trotted up a large part of the State's political pillars at Sacramento and had them make speeches in the ring before the main event started.

Batting for Gov. Young was Pete Carlin, as a personal representative. He was flanked by Charles Johnson, State Treasurer; Frank Jordan, Secretary of State; George Stout, State Controller, and State Senator George Rochester. The boys all

JIMMY SLATTERY WINS TITLE GO

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Beaten once by Tommy Loughran, the retired champion, in a title test, the dancing Irishman came into his own as a crowd of 11,000 in the Buffalo Auditorium cheered him out of the valley of almost certain defeat in the thirteenth round and on to a victory that was clean and decisive. Although one judge voted the match a draw, Referee Jim Crowley and the second judge gave Slattery a decisive margin. In the opinion of newspaper men, Slattery won nine rounds, Scozza five and one was even.

The battered Scozza, a strong, awkward Italian youth whose fame is mostly local, gave a splendid display of courage in the thirteenth session. With one eye completely closed, the other badly cut and blood dripping from a wound in his forehead, Scozza suddenly changed his tactics, leaped frantically upon Slattery with wild overhand swings and in a twinkling changed the aspect of the battle entirely.

One right thudded on the startled Slattery's cheek and a left flashed clean to his chin. Jimmy's eyes closed and he reeled backward on the ropes, his arms helpless at his sides. Scozza tore into him with both arms flailing and Slattery toppled toward the floor.

As Jimmy went down, one arm slipped over the middle rope and his body fell over the strand. He hung there like a dummy tossed over a fence, while the referee tried to keep Scozza from him and the timekeeper tried to count. Jimmy came back at the count of four, but was in bad shape.

With the utmost difficulty, Slattery managed to clinch and wobble through the remainder of the round. It appeared as if the youthful Scozza, wild and overanxious, could have finished the slender veteran with one solid punch, but Lou re-

LIEB ORDERS FANCY GRID SUITS FOR LION ELEVEN

Tom Lieb's new position as head coach of Loyola University for a period of three years has already caused a great amount of improvement on the Del Rey campus. Before the new mentor left for Notre Dame last Sunday he ordered a complete set of new material, which will include the famous Rockne "airplane linen" pants. Also plans are already made for a new fully equipped gymnasium and a dormitory for the students who come from distant cities.

Lieb attached his signature to the contract last Saturday night after coming all the way from Chicago to satisfy himself as to conditions which exist at the local institution. Although his salary has not been officially announced it is reported that Rockne's former assistant will receive $10,000 a year, with an increase coming at the termination of his present contract.

Lieb comes to Los Angeles with a high recommendation from the famous Irish mentor, Knute Rockne, whose position he took during this year when Rockne was sick. He will employ the Rockne system at Loyola and will start spring practice the second week in March.

The members of the Loyola football team are quite jubilant over their new coach and are already forecasting what they will do next year. The Lions meet some strong teams next season, among whom will be Santa Clara, St. Ignatius, College of the Pacific and Arizona University.

This new mentor will be the fourth football coach that Loyola has had in as many years. But judging from the spirit with which the students welcomed Lieb he will solve their difficulties for many years. Bill Hess, Mike Pecarovich and Bill Driver have all tried their

DOZEN PLAYERS HOLD OUT

New York Ball Clubs Have Most of Applicants Lined Up for Coming Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Just one dozen of the seventy-five players on the rosters of the two New York baseball clubs, remained unsigned to 1930 contracts.

E. G. Barrow, the sphinx-like secretary of the Yankees, today broke a long silence to say that "all but four" of the Yankees are in the baseball fold. The identity of two of the recalcitrants remains in mystery. Babe Ruth, the well-known outfielder, is on record with his refusal to sign and Ken Williams, recently acquired from the Boston Red Sox, has not yet had time to receive his contract in far-away Grants Pass, Or., and return it to New York.

"Guess" was Secretary Barrow's parry to questions as to the other two players, apparently dissatisfied with terms offered.

HOLLYWOODERS NAB PUCK TILT

Millionaires Best Richfields as Lefty Comber Stars

It was "Lefty" Comber night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace last evening. "Lefty" the game hockey star, who had his neck broken last year, put on a brilliant exhibition to lead the Hollywood Millionaires to a 4-to-1 victory over the Richfield Oilers. Comber scored all of the four goals registered by the winning team.

Comber, as all hockey fans know, was on the shelf with that bad crack in his neck last year, but he has come back in great form this season to be one of the sensations of the local game.

Comber tallied twice in the second period and twice in the third for the Hollywood skaters. Birge Irving was the only man who was able to score for the Richfield team. He did that in the second period.

Both teams were penalized in the second session for fouling and at one time each squad had two men apiece off the ice. Moose Johnson, a big Swedish gentleman, was a big help to the Millionaires on the defense. He was recently purchased by the Film City outfit.

Dutra Breaks Golf Record at Brentwood

Testing out the new greens and the championship-length tees, Olin Dutra, Brentwood professional, toured his home course in 65, 6 under par, for a new course record yesterday afternoon. Dutra, who tied for first in the recent Long Beach open, had 12 pars and six birdies on the sensational round. Brentwood never was in better shape, Freddie Tongue, caddy master, declared, and Dutra's performance was all the more sensational because of the newness of the greens.

THE official American League baseball averages, published a month or so ago, show that Dale Alexander, slugging first-baseman of the Detroit Tigers, made a remarkable record in his first season in the majors. Compared to the first season's work of many great

It's the local premiere for Santiago. He startled the featherweight world a year ago by knocking out Joey Sangor in Chicago. He has fought around 127 pounds until recently.

Townsend came to the surface as a topnotcher much the same way Leo Lomski, also of the Northwest, did. Lomski knocked out Bert Colima at Seattle.

The Canadian bowled over Wildcat Carter in the Northwest just when Carter was being ballyhoed here as high-tension goods. To be exact Townsend knocked Carter out just a week before the little negre was to box Goldie Hess here.

The California commission ordered Carter to go through with the Hess fight here if he wasn't hurt, which he did after flying to Los Angeles by plane.

For nine rounds Carter fairly dazzled Hess with his boxing. But in the ninth Hess connected and had the negro out on his feet when the match was stopped.

SLAUGHTERED WILDCAT

There was a demand to see Townsend here after this and he was brought on for the Carter rematch. Carter went down the first punch and in the two rounds the fight lasted was on the floor eleven times.

Townsend was hot copy for a fight with anybody then, but nobody wanted to fight him. Frank Churchill sensed a great punching fight for Santiago and brought him west. The Cuban was hustled from the train to Soper's ranch, where he has done all his training.

Churchill did not bring the Cuban back to blinking lights of the city even yesterday. They are driving in from the ranch this morning to be present at the 2 o'clock weigh-in.

Santiago has been knocking down topnotch fighters in the East for the last year. He dropped Al Foreman three times, Honeyboy Finnegan twice, Tony Canzoneri twice and Benny Bass three times.

That is a record nobody ever came close to setting. He lost to Canzoneri and Bass after the knockdowns, claiming that making 127 pounds hurt him.

At 135 pounds the Cuban retains all his strength and can step on the buzzer harder in proportion. Santiago is also a very fair boxer with a long left. He knocks them down with either glove.

FAVOR SANTIAGO

The best bet tonight is that the fight will see both men on the floor until one of them weakens. Santiago is a slight favorite.

Townsend is seconded by his own father. Churchill will be back of Santiago. The weight is 135 pounds.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams offers an eight-round semi-wind-up between the highly touted Jimmy Hanna of Pocatello and Eddie Burnbrook, seasoned middleweight.

Hanna fights both as a lightheavy and a middleweight. The weight for Burnbrook is 165 pounds. Jim Jeffries is now interested in Burnbrook and has the veteran in top condition. It is claimed for Hanna that he hasn't been defeated in sixty-five fights. He is a good puncher and plenty rough.

Sid Torres, Filipino, and Sammy Seaman, flashy boxer, meet in the six-round special. Seaman is improving. Torres throws a lot of gloves in true Filipino style besides being a hitter.

The other two bouts are Frankie Mitchell vs. Eddie Low and Johnny Albin vs. Joe Townsend.

LOYOLA COLLEGE INSURES LIEB FOR $50,000

It was a long struggle to get a major league football coach and now that it has finally landed Tom Lieb, Loyola University is taking no chances of losing the man who last year pinch-hit so effectively for Knute Rockne at Notre Dame. In fact, Si Masters yesterday announced that Loyola had insured Lieb for $50,000 with the Mountain State Life Insurance Company of Hollywood.

It was also announced that the Lions are now negotiating for a backfield coach. No names have been given out, but it is presumed that Lieb's assistant will be another Notre Dame graduate.

Lieb will not return to Los Angeles until March and he plans to start spring football practice for the Lions on the Del Rey gridiron during the second week of next month.

Lieb in company with Nibs Price, California mentor, and Bill Spaulding, who guides the grid destinies of U.C.L.A.'s Bruins, visited the new Loyola field and pronounced it excellent shape.

TWO LITTLE BROWN MEN

And it isn't a case of a "horse on" Speedy Dado, the potential Filipino flyweight king, either. Speedy is riding his stablemate, Armand Santiago, the Cuban—sort of an introduction for the newcomer to local rings. Santiago fights Billy Townsend, the Seattle knockout king, at the Olympic tonight.

F. M. FERGUSON LEADS LETTUCE GOLFERS

Scoring a 75-78 for 153 F. M. Ferguson led yesterday's qualifiers in the lettuce and cantaloupe growers' and shipers' tournament yesterday day at Brawley. The next best score of the play was registered by E. H. Ferguson. He had an 85-84 for 169. Both Fergusons are from Holtville.

Ole Olson, last year's champion, played his first eighteen holes in 74. He was tied by Elmer Sears, a leading contender. Both Olson and Sears will play their second eighteen today.

O. R. Hensler of El Centro scored 82-89—171; Harold Harp of Brawley, 90-84—174; Neil Gordon of Calexico, 85-89—184; Roscoe Jones of Brawley, 86-89—187; W. C. Fitch of the Southern Pacific, 110-105—215.

Weller Noble, entered in the guest flight, played on sand greens for the first time in twenty years and shot a practice round of 70, even par.

Frank E. Scott, general manager of the Southern Pacific, shot a 96 in the special flight for railroad executives.

Match play begins Thursday in all flights, while on Friday and Saturday there will be a tourney for wives of visiting golfers and women players of Imperial Valley.

Elder Makes Clean Sweep

NEWARK (N. J.) Feb. 10. (AP)—Jack Elder, Notre Dame football star, made a clean sweep of the sprint series at the Seton Hall College track and field meet here tonight.

Elder won the forty, fifty and sixty-yard events with Bill Bruder, Newark A.C., second; Jimmy Pappas, former Princeton star, third, and Bob Weise, New York A.C., fourth in each instance.

Elder won the forty in 4 4-5s. and the fifty in 5 2-5s., leading all the way. In the sixty, however, he was forced to come from behind to overhaul Bruder in 6 2-5s.

EIGHT TIGER TRACKMEN OUT

Faculty Ax Knocks Track Chances in Head

The famous faculty ax again! This time it swung on eight potential track luminaries at Occidental College, and, incidentally, added a dozen more gray hairs to Joe Pipal's already sparsely covered head. Prospects for another cinderpath championship fell with the blow of the faculty ax as though they had been listed on the exchange in the recent stock market crash.

Heading the list of grief to the Tiger coach is Forrest Hayworth, a letter man in the pole vault. Four weight men, Elshoff, Collier, Chappell and Hensley, were on the ineligible crew. Pipal regarded Dale Hensley as the best prospect he has ever had in the hammer throw.

The other three losses were on the track, where Oxy's strength is most lacking, and includes Bill Bogen in the sprints, Southard in the half-mile, and Parkill in the two-mile jaunt.

The eligible Occidental trackmen went through limbering-up exercises yesterday afternoon, and have heavy workouts scheduled for this afternoon and tomorrow in preparation for the meet with the Los Angeles Athletic Club's track-and-field aggregation next Saturday afternoon on Patterson Field.

The L.A.A.C. stars are expected to practically sweep the track events, with the exception of the 440, mile, and high hurdles. Capt. Freddie Appleton, Wendall Smith and Rudd Crawford were the only Oxy runners to win firsts on the cinderpath against two junior college teams last Saturday, and they are certain to make strong bids in their favorite events.

Pipal hopes to snare quite a few points in the field events with Wendall Smith and Harold Webb both heaving the shot around 44ft. and the discus better than 135ft. The latter is completing registration and will be eligible to compete Saturday though his efforts did not count last Saturday. If Ernie Jensen can clear 13ft., he may tally well in the pole vault. Ed. Carrey has been tossing the javelin 175ft. in practice and has a good chance to score against the Mercury stars also.

stars it is astounding. Very few performers have ever broken into the big show more auspiciously. Bucky Harris's mastodonic first-baseman not only played in every game of the season and hit the ball for a fine .343 average, but he made 110 runs and 215 hits. Ty Cobb played four seasons, three of them as a regular, before he scored 100 runs and made 200 hits in the same year, and Ruth has only done that three times in his career.

Besides that, Dale Alexander socked twenty-five home runs in his first major league season. Only Ruth, Gehrig, Simmons and Foxx bettered that figure in the American League. Babe Ruth played four seasons before he hit twenty-five or more homers (he hit twenty-nine in 1918,) and many critics who know a ball player when they see one, predict that Dale Alexander will be the future home run king of baseball.

He's plenty big enough to give a baseball a long ride, that's a cinch. Dale reminds some observers of Jess Willard at the time he gave Jack Johnson a trimming. Alexander takes such a terrific cut at the ball and puts so much beef behind his swing that no man except Ruth hits a baseball any harder.

You may have read before last season that Harry Heilmann, veteran of many campaigns, would play first base for the Tigers because his legs were slowing up. But Harry couldn't beat out this rookie from Toronto, so he played the outfield again until waived out of the league. Alexander was born in Tennessee in April, 1903, and, like Alexander the Great, seems destined to conquer the baseball world.

by the scores to 29 to 32 and 30 to 32.

Coach Sam Barry's Trojans also started workouts yesterday after returning from a successful trip to Palo Alto. The Southern California quintet won the game and the series from Stanford Saturday night by a score of 30 to 24, when the Cardinals missed seventeen free throws. Big Jess Mortensen was the hero of the Troy victory.

EXAMINER AND HERALD GOLFERS TRIM RIVALS

Sports staff golfers of the Examiner and Herald got off to a flying start in the newspaper men's team matches played at the Annandale Club yesterday. Led by Neil McDonald and Chesterfield Koeppell the Examiner links stars won 16 points out of a possible 18 in their alleged battle with representatives of The Times.

The Herald and Express staged a great fight, Jack James and his partner, Edward (Sour) Krauch, copping a flock of points from Bill Barnett and Sidney Ziff to take the match, 9½ to 8½.

Mill Smith of the Express burned up the Annandale course with a 79, the first time he had ever been under 80.

Following are the results:

EXAMINER VS. TIMES

RABBIT PUNCHES

POLO STEPS OUT

IT IS quite apparent that the time is nigh when the polo boosters of Southern California must take stock of accommodations for the plain or garden variety of cash customers. Particular reference in this case is made to the gentlemen of Midwick, who over a long period of years have been the real leaders in polo development in the Southland.

A few years ago there was a great hue and cry for press propaganda in order to win the support of the masses—a determined effort to eradicate the general idea that polo was a game only for the high-hatters.

The effort was successful. The press did its part, and the result was seen at Midwick the other day when Argentine battled the Midwick four for the Pacific Coast high goal championship.

There was a record crowd on hand for the title contest. But whatever the chroniclers said the crowd was in point of numbers it wasn't. It is true extra chairs were placed at one end of the field to take care of the overflow and that the grounds were gorged with machines.

But the main grand stand holds less than 3000 persons and the bleachers on the north side of the field less than 2000. So when you read of 15,000 crowds at Midwick divide by two and you'll come closer to the truth.

But the point is those stands at Midwick were more than adequate three years ago. Polo has outgrown them in the past two seasons. It is high time to triple or quadruple the capacity. Particularly if the Midwick gentlemen persist in feeding us major-league polo as they have the past two years.

Not even a Chinaman could have come away from that game Sunday with the memory of the rolling spill by Andrada lingering in his mind—also those of Harrington and of Pedley—and the thrilling ride-offs and say polo is a game only for the tea drinkers.

It might have been once, but it is past that stage.

It is about the best substitute for football in the sport curriculum.

THE BEST TEAM

REGARDLESS of the score at Midwick the other day the superb teamwork of the men from the land of the pampas stood out above everything else. Midwick might have won the game, but in that case it could have been said truthfully that the best team did not win.

Elmer Boeseke performed some marvelous individual feats in scoring the majority of Midwick's points, but at no time did the local four click together like the visitors.

When they got the ball in the clear they invariably had two men on it to Midwick's one and passed it back and forth until the goal shot was in sight.

They had better hitting power on free goal shots—and truer aim.

They played up to the capacity of their handicap rating while at least one of Midwick's four, Eric Pedley, was far below the form that gave him an eight-goal rating.

THE WALLOP IS KING

TWO knockout artists—Armand Santiago and Billy Townsend. One of them is bound to go when they collide at the Olympic tonight.

Santiago is the Cuban flash. Townsend is the Seattle pride.

Santiago has never fought here before. Townsend appeared once and stopped Wildcat Carter in the second round after having him on the floor eleven times in the first round.

Santiago hopes to make Townsend a stepping stone to future conquests in local rings. He has fought some of the best of them in the East—Joey Sangor, Benny Bass, Tony Canzoneri—and had them all on the canvas. He first gained recognition when he knocked out Sangor.

Santiago has been training out of doors at Soper's ranch. Townsend has been working at the Manhattan. His father, "Snoopy" Townsend, who went up to Soper's last week to get a peek at the Cuban in action, is his manager.

The father has no fears for his son, he says. Townsend has been knocked out only twice—both times early in his professional career.

Johnny Forbes, who trained Mickey Walker for his championship battle with Ace Hudkins, has been conditioning Santiago at Soper's, and claims the Cuban will be in as fine shape as Walker was the night he chewed the Wildcat to pieces.

A ROCKNE CRACK

JACK ELDER of Notre Dame pulled a good line on the radio the other night when he spoke on football and track over the national hookup system.

"I went back to South Bend after my 98-yard run for the only touchdown of the Army game feeling quite pleased.

"Knute Rockne was grateful, but not overenthusiastic. He never is.

"There was only one thing wrong with that run," he said.

"What was it?" I asked.

"There wasn't any encore."

Speed is Hope of Sullivan

Charley Sullivan is working every afternoon at the Manhattan gymnasium trying to speed up his work so he will be able to step around Fidel La Barba when they meet in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night. Sullivan's admirers believe that his one chance of beating Fidel is to outbox him and keep away from infighting, La Barba's strong asset.

The La Barba-Sullivan fight is another shot where a youngster goes against a veteran ringman, but many a kid has jumped into prominence by upsetting the dope. Mushy Callahan did it when he beat Dode Bercot after Dode had twice beaten Bobby Barrett. Ace Hudkins was just another fighter when he started at Hollywood Stadium and La Barba had many a close contest at the stadium before he became flyweight champion of the world.

Don Burchard and Leo Lomelli are rematched for the semi-wind-up. They fought a few weeks back and got the bonus money for the best preliminary. Tom Gallery also boosted them on the card for the good fight they made. Tommy Hoffman replaces Bandit Romero on the card in the special. Romero fights the main event at San Diego Friday night, so Hoffman has been matched with Leonard Allen.

PASADENA PROPOSES FLYWEIGHT TOURNEY

With such material as Young Sport and Ernie Hood who meet Thursday in the ten-round main event, Morrie Cohan, Pasadena Arena promoter, is planning a local flyweight elimination tourney. Sammy Rothstein and Young Manila who tangle in the semi-wind-up, are two more contenders.

Johnny Zalazar and Paul Drake, slugging middleweights, will meet in the six-round special event. Four-round preliminaries will be Art Yarnell vs. Tex Stinnett, 145 pounds; Glen (Hum) Dinger vs. Holt Porter, 150 pounds.

Hunter Hero as Fire Hits Basket Team

Southern California's league-leading basketball team almost dropped right out of first place yesterday morning, when the Lark, on which they were returning from San Francisco, following their victory over Stanford, cracked into an oil truck in Ventura. The basketeers were in the Pullman immediately behind the baggage car, which, along with the engine, was badly burned. The athletes failed to awaken at the first alarm, and were only rescued after much yelling by the porter. Bill Hunter, director of athletics, distinguished himself by remaining in the perilled car until all of the players were safely out and ensconced behind a near-by brick wall.

Cardinal Golf Factors Told

BY SOL METZGER

There are but three things of real concern to the golfer playing a shot—his hands, the head of his club and the ball. All these matters of stance, grip, pivot, timing and balance are secondary. The average player, bent upon improving, must concentrate upon these three points, rather than upon others that are of secondary interest and that automatically care for themselves or are cared for before the swing starts.

After all, the golf stroke is a swing with the hands. They direct the clubhead and apply the power. The object, of course, is to drive the ball along a certain selected line a certain distance. So, one must necessarily concern himself chiefly with the three factors that make for the desired results.

When attention is paid to them the matter of pressing, which causes loss of balance and results in all manner of faults, can be disposed of.

Golf is a form game. Correct your pivot and you will add yardage to your shots. Sol Metzger has prepared a free illustrated leaflet on "The Pivot." Send for it in care of The Times and inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Cantonwine to Meet Marshall in Mat Battle

Promoter Lou Daro yesterday signed Everett Marshall, the new sensation of the heavyweight division, to meet Howard Cantonwine, the giant Iowan, in the next Olympic mat bout, a week hence.

EVERETT MARSHALL

This match between the two former University of Iowa athletes, will be for the best two out of three falls to a finish, Daro stated, and it will precede the finish battle between Nick Lutze, 198-pound star, and "Gorilla" Gene La Doux, French-Canadian mat king.

Daro signed Marshall when the airplane-spin exponent, wired in from La Junta, Colo., that he would return to Los Angeles late this week, and that he would be ready to meet any topnotcher selected to face him. The promoter already had Cantonwine signed and was seeking an opponent for him from the Northwest when Marshall's wire arrived here.

Frank Hunter Enters Finals

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Frank Hunter, newly crowned national indoor tennis singles champion, advanced to the final round of the Heights Casino invitation tournament today, defeating J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., in the semifinal round, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3. Hunter will clash in the finals with the winner of the Fritz Mercur-Harry Brunie match scheduled for tomorrow. The finals will be held Wednesday.

Only one match was played in doubles today, Perrine Rockafellow and Merritt Cutler of New York, national indoor champions, eliminating Ned Herndon and Watson Washburn in the third round, 6-1, 6-4.

Pick Powers for National A.A.U. Event

Joe Powers, ranking No. 1 L.A.A.C. handball player, was chosen yesterday as the Mercury Club representative in the senior National A.A.U. handball tournament, which opens next Monday at St. Louis. Powers plans to leave Los Angeles tomorrow for the East.

The tournament will open Monday and will run for the remainder of the week. It will be played on the courts of the St. Louis Young Men's Hebrew Association. The courts are small, being only 20x40 feet, but Powers has been training of late on similar size courts in Southern California and his Mercury club supporters believe he will go far in the national tournament.

Powers will again be forced to meet Al Banuet, sensational San Francisco player, who is the defending national champion.

Signals Easy for Tap Play

BY SOL METZGER

Signals in all sports are simple. Otherwise they would not be understood by the team using them, and as a result, teamwork would be impossible. In basketball the best teams have a forward, or the center, tip off the center tap play if the signal is a sign. These players are the only ones in view of all members of the five.

Some years ago a winning Pennsylvania five used the set of signals shown in the accompanying sketch. One of the forwards gave them. The position of his hands as he took his stance for the tip-off called the play to be used.

When verbal center tap signals are given any member of the five may give them. They usually consist of a short sentence containing a certain word which designates the play. Often the work is the nickname of the player who is to get the tap. That is generally unknown to opponents.

Smith Elected Club Captain

Lyman Smith, veteran southpaw outfielder, was yesterday elected captain of the Los Angeles Athletic Club baseball team for the 1930 season. Coach Hollis Leake and Commissioner Rolla Norton have called for a Mercury workout at the Union Pacific Athletic Field for next Saturday afternoon.

Vernon Blenkiron, former L.A.A.C. sprinter and holder of the national A.A.U. junior mark of 9 4-5 seconds, has joined the ball club and is now holding down an outfield job.

At the present time the team is made up of the following men: Catchers, Tyrrell and Hall; pitchers, Caddy Works, Payne and O'Brien; infielders, Bates, Ritter, Hugh Norton and Shields; outfielders, Capt. Smith, Kuhns, Winterton and Blenkiron.

Last season the Mercury team went undefeated in thirteen straight games and another good season is predicted for 1930 by Commissioner Rolla Norton. The season opens March 1, next, at Occidental.

HUSKIES RALLY TO WIN

PULLMAN (Wash.) Feb. 10. (AP)—Trailing after the first few minutes of play, the University of Washington basketball team spurted near the end and defeated Washington State held a 17-to-15 lead a few breaking Pacific Coast Conference game here tonight. Washington State held a 17-to15 lead a few minutes before the end.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club basketball team will be called upon to defend its lead in the Southern Pacific A.A.U. race tonight, when the Mercuries tackle the Elks' Club cagers at the downtown club gymnasium. The game will be called at 8:15 o'clock.

Coach Wally Stockton's Elks gave the Mercuries their toughest first-round game a month ago, the clubmen five winning out, 41 to 40, in an overtime period. Since that game the Antlered herd has lost to both Hollywood A.C. and the Pacific Coast Club, but came back strong last Saturday to hand San Diego a 54-to-27 drubbing at San Diego.

Stockton has a strong starting line-up composed of Schrader and Shimmel, forwards; Bergner, center, and Johnson and Rogers, guards.

Coach Twogood of the Mercuries will use his regular line-up composed of Nip McHose and Curly Rariden, forward; Capt. (Rags) Wilcox, center, and Jimmy De Mers and Bob Hayden, guards. The line-up is undefeated in A.A.U. competition this season and is favored to again win the Southern championship. The clubmen reached their best form of the season two weeks ago when they turned in a dazzling 56-to-36 victory over Hollywood A.C. The Mercuries defeated the Pacific Coast Club, 35 to 22, last Friday to win the first-round A.A.U. title.

Another good A.A.U. game is on tap for Long Beach tonight when Hollywood A.C. meets the Coast Club for Second-place honors.

SLATTERY WINS RING LAURELS

fused to hold his fire long enough to take a careful aim. Instead he poured leather on tottering Jimmy, and not only missed the vulnerable spot, but also his sole chance of winning the championship.

Slattery had a difficult time of it in the fourteenth session until the cowmbs left in his brain by the beating of the previous round cleared. Once Jimmy regained a grip on himself, however, he took every advantage of Scozza's wildness, shooting punches through wide openings and tying up the Italian youngster in frequent clinches.

Until the wild scramble of the thirteenth round, there was none too much action and excitement. Slattery, the dancing wraith of the ring, flitted about the inexperienced Scozza, shooting long lefts in a steady stream to Lou's head. In close, where Scozza likes best to battle, Jimmy managed to block most of Lou's shots, but did take enough punches to leave his left side a huge crimson blot.

The decision was popular with the crowd that paid $65,000 to see the milling. Slattery weighed 166 3-4, Scozza 169 1-2.

BELANGER WHIPS JOE SEKYRA

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10. (AP)—Charley Belanger, Canadian lightheavyweight, punched out a ten-round victory tonight over Joe Sekyra of Dayton, O., in the main event at the arena. Belanger scaled 175, Sekyra 178.

After taking a lacing for three rounds Sekyra found a way to reach the Canadian with his own right, and in the fourth and fifth he carried off the honors. His right hand shots brought blood from Belanger's nose and frequently set him back on his heels.

The action was slow in the sixth and seventh, but beginning with the eighth Belanger speeded up and dealt out punishment with both hands. The last round was disastrous for Sekyra, Belanger rocking him with heavy punches to the head and body.

TED SANDWINA STOPS HANSEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Ted Sandwina, a two-handed heavyweight puncher from Sioux City, stopped Knute Hansen's New York comeback tonight with a sensational one-round knockout at the St. Nicholas Arena. It was Hansen's first appearance in a New York ring since his one-round knockout of Phil Scott nearly a year ago.

Hansen hit the floor six times for varied counts before he finally took the count in 1m. 46s. The Racine (Wis.) heavyweight, who has been frequently mentioned as a worthy opponent for Primo Carnera, was on the floor just thirty-five seconds of the time he spent trying to evade Sandwina's hard-swinging rights and powerful left hooks.

The first count of six sent Hansen through the ropes but he arose and vainly sought to get going. Hansen weighed 208 pounds and Sandwina 194 1-4.

OKUN WINNER OVER WINE

For the first three rounds Wine plastered Okun's body with a sweeping left hook, but after that the New Yorker opened up a two-fisted attack that gave him a wide margin at the end of the bout.

SECURITY SALESMEN

Here's the "Wakem" up "Shakem" up deal of 1930

Why keep gumshoeing around looking at every racket in town when this hot deal stares you right square in the face?

Map selling is conversation and printed facts.—You can sell our deal because we have a thousand facts.

THIS IS A NEW

Harbor Deal

Uncle Sam has already bet over a million on it and twelve millionaires right here in L. A. are betting their dough on it and backing the deal to the limit.

PLENTY LEADS
PLENTY EVERYTHING

Great Big Commission
Pay Off Every Day
This Deal Is Fresh—
Just Starting

And not played out, or talked out.

Clip this ad. You will call here eventually. My office is the melting pot for all the master salesmen in the West.

Open every night till 10:00 p. m., including Sunday.

Always on a HOT deal
"Known from Coast to Coast"

6613 Sunset Blvd.

P. S. We show a remarkable two-reel picture of our deal every night at our office at 7:30 sharp. Come over and see a ball packed with prospects.

Why Kid Yourself
CHASING RAINBOWS
Come down & see me and I'll introduce you to the Sweetheart of Them All
CAMBRIA PINES

This development is in the hands of a group of Hollywood capitalists who are known successes. They have the courage and vision to lay their money on the line to build a city—and they are doing it. Immense a deal being advertised four hours a day over a number of radio stations.

Radio time costs real money. If you don't think so, inquire around for prices.

We have what we believe to be the most beautiful property in the State — we are telling the world about it—the world is answering—inquiring for additional information.

THE PROPERTY SELLS FROM $100 TO $3000

The terms are ridiculously low and the commission is high.

If you are sincere in your desire to make MONEY, and I mean REAL MONEY, come and call me. If not—don't bother me—I'm too busy passing out commission checks to honest-to-goodness, hard-hitting salespeople.

THIS AD

Ran last Sunday. Thirty-two salesmen qualified. Have taken our training and are now building themselves a permanent income, and we again direct this to a few more salesmen, who are interested in building a permanent and profitable clientele and making money right now.

Most of you have met with disappointment, due to the fact that what you have been selling has not proven out in accordance with the original intentions and promises. For this reason you have lost your customers. You cannot sell them again and your time and energy has all been wasted.

No salesman can ever be successful financially unless he can get an income in future years on the efforts that he is putting forth now.

This Company has a proven record over a period of years. Our customers are satisfied customers. Our salesmen are happy in their connections and making money at well as building for the future.

If you want a steady position in pleasant and profitable work, call for an interview Monday or Tuesday from 9:30 to 12 noon and from 2 to 4:30 p.m. To those who qualify and are selected by us, we will thoroughly train and pay them while in training. 409 South Spring Street, 2nd floor.

INCOME PROPERTY—For Sale

THE OWNERS
... will SELL the Sing... unique eating place of the summit of Whittier-Puente Hills on Turnbull Canyon Road, to responsible parties on reasonable terms. This place was built beautifully, landscaped, and has been operated as a high-class eating place in order to attract a particular clientele to the scenic homesite locations which the owners of the properties surrounding this Tea-Room development were subdividing and selling. The owners feel that they are no longer any necessity for their continuing the operation of this place, and feel quite certain that experienced people in the operation of this kind of a business can easily develop even a more extensive trade at this location than has already been built up by the owners in their limited operations with a minimum of advertising and publicity. The property is now equipped and has a going business, but with a small outlay of funds in expansion of some facilities could undoubtedly attract much larger patronage. We will be pleased to furnish interested parties the details of this property on request. EDWIN G. HART, INC., 724 S. Spring. Los Angeles. Phone Trinity 4531.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

NEW TRACK AT VALLEY FAIR

Date for Imperial Midwinter Event Announced

Grand Stand Numbered Among Improvements

Agricultural Display to be Under Great Tent

IMPERIAL, Feb. 10.—More than $100,000 is being invested in permanent improvements preparatory to the opening of the first Imperial Valley midwinter fair under county auspices, according to the statement of Secretary James Coyle here today.

The fairgrounds site is located on the south Imperial highway just west of this city. A few weeks ago it was a barren tract of eighty acres. Improvements which are now coming on or in progress, according to Coyle, include a one-mile dirt race track, a grand stand and concrete grand stand capacity for 2000 persons, administration building to be maintained as a permanent exhibition hall for valley products, and housing for live-stock and poultry exhibits.

Agricultural exhibits are to be housed this year in 60,000 square feet of floor space under canvas and permanent buildings for the regular show are to be erected later, it was stated.

The midwinter fair is scheduled to open on 25th inst. and continue for a week. Imperial Valley midwinter expositions were first started nearly nine years ago, but in recent years were discontinued by that city two years ago, their county organization, it is said, to hold the fair annually thereafter.

State College Has Collection of Rare Books

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10.—Following years of work on the part of William Wyles, 103 West Victoria street, the most complete private library west of the Rocky Mountains is to be found in Santa Barbara State College and it is to be open all day Wednesday, Lincoln's birthday anniversary, to the public. Wyles has practically dedicated his life to the task of collecting books on the Great Emancipator and there are plans being made to the effect at the time. When first he began the collection there were about 1000 volumes, but it grew to where there are almost 5000 at present. Although Wyles will form the major portion of the library, has in no sense been completed to the point where it is already a most complete collection, taking in the period of the Civil War and the Reconstruction following. Books dealing with all phases of the war period as well as those dealing with the emotions of that time.

Ships Fail to Save Vessel

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10.—All hope of saving the stranded San Diego ferryboat Old Success, which went on the south end of Coronado beach last night, was abandoned today.

BIDS ON VALLEY PAVING

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10. Paul F. Peck Company, Los Angeles, submitted the low bid at $66,- for the installation of sewers and storm drains in connection with the improvement of streets in the Vineland-Calvert-street Improvement district. The project is an important one in this section of the San Fernando Valley. The work is expected will last through the next two months.

PURSE CONTAINS WEIGHT

Book Comes Back to Owner Better Filled Than When Lost

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10. It's one thing to lose a pocketbook and get it back, and another much more pleasant and profitable experience to lose a pocketbook and get it back with $10 more in it than when it was lost. This is what is running through the mind of one of the money-order clerks in the local postoffice. The clerk was waiting on a customer when he spied a pocketbook lying on the central counter. He asked the customer to get it for him. The customer had asked for a $10 money order and had given the clerk a $10 bill. He also turned the pocketbook over to the clerk, who opened it to ascertain to whom it belonged. Just then a woman dashed up to the window and claimed the pocketbook. The clerk put back what things he had taken out of the purse to determine the owner, and in addition put the customer's $10 bill in, too.

OFFICERS ARRIVE BY AIRPLANE

Ohio Officials Fly Here to Claim Prisoner Held on Nonsupport Charge

GLENDALE, Feb. 10.—Two Ohio officers, arriving here last night to effect the extradition of Cleon Benson, 1137 Western avenue, held on a charge of nonsupport on a warrant from Columbus, O., made the trip westward in a T.A.T. plane that was specially chartered for the trip. Raymond A. Phelan of the criminal division of the District Attorney's office left by airplane this morning for Sacramento to obtain extradition papers, while his companion, Howard Lanley, county detective, flew to Calexico to take over another prisoner held there for the Ohio authorities. The Ohio officers also plan to make the return trip by plane, following the hearing on the fugitive warrant for Benson on the 17th inst. Benson was arrested here by Detective Lieutenant C. P. Blake and Detective Drew on telegraphic request of the Ohio authorities.

Two Pioneers Answer Call

GLENDALE, Feb. 10.—Two pioneer residents of Glendale, Mrs. Mary G. Anderson, 74 years of age, of 347 North Orange avenue, and Mrs. Betsy Jane Lund, 84, of 1263-A South Brand Boulevard, who died within a few hours of one another, will be buried tomorrow in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mrs. Anderson, who had lived in Glendale for nineteen years, died last night and Mrs. Lund, a resident of Glendale for twenty years, passed away early this morning at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Davenport.

Mrs. Anderson leaves her husband, Harry T. Anderson, with whom she celebrated her golden wedding last November; two sons, Frank Anderson of Yorba Linda and Herbert Anderson of Fullerton; two daughters, Mrs. C. G. Slate, Glendale, and Mrs. V. F. Humphreys of Hemet; fourteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Lund is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Davenport, and two grandchildren, Mrs. J. M. Tallman and A. G. Davenport.

TOURISTS FINANCE TRIP WITH CHECKS

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10.—Attempting to beat their way by passing fictitious checks, a mother and three children and a young man are in the City Jail here facing charges of forgery. They were arrested on information from San Luis Obispo police and on suspicion of attempting to pass checks here.

They are Sula Brady, 46 years of age; Agnes and Helen, aged 13 and 7 years, respectively, and Francis, 10, a son, and Ivan Preston, 18. They all say they came from Sacramento. According to the story told by Mrs. Brady, her husband, Harris, is ill in a Sacramento hospital. They are without funds and are attempting to get back to Hillsboro, Tex., her former home.

Information from San Luis authorities is that they cashed a $17.75 check in a store. Lieutenant of Police H. S. Coit said the youth had confessed to attempting to pass two checks, one for $18.50 and another for $15.75, here last night. He said he borrowed the blank checks from a drug store and made out the checks in a railroad depot. They are being held for San Luis authorities.

NOVEL ORCHESTRA AT ALHAMBRA

Band Composed Entirely of Saxophones Organized

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 10.—Proving to a skeptical public that saxophones are not as terrible as the joke writers would have us believe, and that if properly manipulated the instrument has certain musical possibilities, A. Tenny McFate, young Alhambra musician, presented his saxophone orchestra in its first public appearance at a concert last night in the Church of the Latter Day Saints Auditorium.

Today there were no reports on the police blotter of mysterious slayings nor of peace disturbances of any sort. The concert was allowed to proceed in an orderly manner, the audience apparently enjoyed it and none of the neighbors complained.

McFate has had an orchestra of six saxophone players for some time. Recently he has been recruiting members and for the concert had a cast of fifteen. The program last night, entirely of saxophone numbers, was made up of solos, duets, quartets and ensembles.

BUILDING PLANS ORDERED

Despite Spirited Opposition Pasadena City Directors Decide to Go Forward With New City Jail

PASADENA, Feb. 10.—Despite the spirited opposition of Director N. J. Shupe, the City Board this afternoon commissioned Joseph Blick, local architect, to prepare final plans for this city's $200,000 police, jail and emergency hospital building to be erected north of Holley street, between Broadway and Marengo avenue.

Maj. Shupe and Director Carl G. Wopschall consistently have opposed the erection of the building, contending that the method of financing the project with municipal light plant funds is unjust and that the old City Hall could be remodeled for $100,000 less than it will cost to construct a new building.

Calling attention to the fact that the present plan provides for "selling" the old City Hall to the light department for $125,000, which sum will be applied to the erection of the new police headquarters, Shupe asserted that real estate experts have appraised the old building at $60,000.

"There is a $30,000 mortgage on the old building, so it looks as though the light department was paying a pretty big price," he declared. Shupe stated that the light department will need $4,000,000 for new equipment within six years, and that the use of an unlimited amount of the department's funds for city building projects is poor business.

Talking against the new jail project for more than twenty minutes at the board's special meeting late this afternoon, Shupe upbraided his fellow-Directors for failing to consult City Manager R. V. Orbison regarding the project.

"We are supposed to have a city manager form of government, and here is one of the most important problems and you haven't even asked Orbison for an opinion," he exclaimed.

The board's decision to erect a modern building to house police activities followed condemnation of the present jail, located in the old City Hall, by the county grand jury, and passage of resolutions by women's organizations favoring a new structure.

Truck Jars Ventura Store

VENTURA, Feb. 10.—Another earthquake was the first thought that entered the minds of clerks and customers of the Great Eastern Company this morning when the building suddenly jarred and shook.

But it wasn't. It was just a little truck tackling a job too big for itself.

The building that wouldn't fall down is on the southeast corner of Main and Oak streets. The truck that failed was driven by Charles Kilmer, groceryman. It struck the corner of the building when Kilmer swung from Main street across Oak street and up on the sidewalk, frightening pedestrians, in order to avoid a collision with a coupe driven by F. H. Wilbur, Shell Oil Company employee.

Damage to truck and building were slight.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF VENERABLE COUPLE

EL CAJON, Feb. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foster, pioneer residents of El Cajon and San Diego county, today embarked on the fifty-first year of their voyage in the sea of matrimony. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday, a deluge of flowers, gifts and scores of callers featuring the occasion.

For twenty years "Uncle Joe" Foster was a member of the County Board of Supervisors and he made countless friends throughout Southern California, many of whom called yesterday to pay their respects. Members of the family who attended an anniversary dinner included two children, Arthur Foster and Mrs. Duncan MacDonald and a grandchild, Gordon McKenzie.

Among the gifts were a set of gold plates, vases, an Odd Fellow's charm and flowers that turned the Foster home into a conservatory. Almost every caller brought some remembrance and various organizations with which the elderly couple have been affiliated also gave expression to their love and respect.

SCHOOL SITE IMPROVED

BELL, Feb. 10.—The Board of Education has recently appropriated $3750 to provide for fencing the entire high school site and work is now under way on the athletic field and in the laying out of additional grounds. New lights have been installed in the auditorium, in the lobby and just outside the main entrance to the school building at a cost of approximately $1800.

Suspect Uses Blackjack on His Captors

GLENDALE, Feb. 10.—Halted in the street while driving a car that he is asserted to have stolen, William E. Whitley, according to police, drew a blackjack and struck at Charles C. Buckley, of 341 Oak street, the owner of the car, and continued on his way.

Buckley had notified the police of the theft of his car less than an hour previously, and when Whitley wielded the blackjack Buckley again called the officers.

Detectives Merrell and Johnson overtook Whitley at Pacific avenue and Oak street and placed him under arrest, but not before he had again brought the blackjack into play in an effort to stall off capture.

Whitley was finally subdued and charged with suspicion of grand theft. When discovered by Buckley Whitley is said to have been driving the former's car and towing another machine in which another man was seated at the wheel. In the confusion that attended the battle with the police the assisted accomplice fled.

LINCOLN'S BODY GUARD DIES AT CROWN CITY

PASADENA, Feb. 10. — Funeral services for William Robert Boyd, member of Abraham Lincoln's body guard, who died last night at his home, 640 Ford Place, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. in the chapel of Reynolds & Salisbury Company. Mr. Boyd, a former president of the Boyd Lumber Company at South Bend, Ind., was 88 years of age and had resided here for the last twelve years.

A native of Maryland, Boyd enlisted in the first District of Columbia company, at Abraham Lincoln's call to arms.

He was a Mason and a member of the Godfrey Post, G.A.R., and the Lincoln Society.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mae Boyd, he leaves one son, R. E. Boyd; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

BETTING GOLFER VISITS PASADENA

PASADENA, Feb. 10. — Frederick H. Bartlett, Chicago realty operator who became famous a few years ago when he wagered and won $36,000 on a golf match, arrived here today with Mrs. Bartlett and a party of friends in his private car over the Southern Pacific. The party is at the Hotel Huntington.

The Chicagoan's $35,000 golf match was with Archie M. Andrews. They were unable to agree on a business deal and decided to settle the issue with golf clubs.

By winning the game, Bartlett won his business argument and the $25,000 side bet.

Burglars Find Safe Unlocked

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 10.—Safe-crackers gained entrance to the office room in the Huitquist Building, occupied by William C. Payne, building contractor, and E. B. Lowe, real estate dealer, some time during the night. They found the doors of both safes in the room unlocked. Opening them, they secured $130 from the Payne safe, but nothing of value to the burglars in the Lowe safe, as the drawers in this safe contained papers of value only to Mr. Lowe.

The burglars also visited the offices of Howard Seybold, head of the Triangle Indurance Company, located in the same building, and with a chisel removed the dial from one of the safe doors. Experts have been working on the doors of this safe to open them. It is believed by police that the safe-crackers failed to open these doors. Stamps left on a table were taken from this office.

Entrance to each of the offices was made by breaking the transoms over the hallway office doors.

TRAFFIC POLICEMAN DIES FROM INJURIES

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10.—The great ambition of Jose Marron, 30 years of age, Tia Juana traffic officer, fatally injured when hit by an automobile yesterday was thwarted today by death. Marron's widow is confined in a hospital expecting the birth of their first child. The officer was preparing to hurry to his wife's bedside only an hour before he was injured fatally yesterday, reports from Tia Juana said.

Marron was struck by a car driven by H. E. Nelson of Los Angeles. Tia Juana police are holding Nelson, pending an investigation of the accident. The injured officer was hurried to the Quintard Hospital here, where he died early this morning. The body is in the Benbough funeral establishment pending an inquest, according to Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly.

ANTELOPE VALLEY GETS NEW SCHOOLS

LANCASTER, Feb. 10.—Three new rural schools, costing $78,900, were opened in Antelope Valley last week. They are the Elizabeth Lake school, Keppel Union school, at Littlerock, and the Del Sur district school, replacing one destroyed by fire. There are now twenty-one elementary schools in the valley, most of which are modern buildings erected within recent years.

RECORD-BREAKING CROP

Orange County Fruit Exchange Received $11,919,830.87 for Shipments During Year

ORANGE, Feb. 10.—Smashing all prior records both for volume of shipments and for net returns to the growers by running nearly a third greater than the previous record year, 1927, the Orange County Fruit Exchange made 1929 a banner season, it was shown here today in the annual report of Manager L. D. Palmer, which revealed receipt of $11,919,830.87 net, from 3,457,598 boxes of citrus fruit.

Palmer's report forecasts a much lighter volume for 1930, but a better quality of fruit and probably higher prices.

A total of 7684 cars of oranges, lemons and grapefruit journeyed out of Southern California's greatest citrus center during 1929, the report shows. The exchange covers the southern portion of Orange county. Shipments for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1929, amounted to 9,240,906 boxes, which netted $11,049,967.70, an increase of 27.8 per cent over the 1927 record, or 901,613 boxes, and $766,353.25 gain. In addition, there were 216,692 boxes of Valencias of the 1929 crop shipped after October 31, making the crop year totals already stated.

Valencia oranges, as usual, constituted most of the crop, amounting to 6698 cars, with 824 cars of lemons, 137 cars of navels and twenty-five cars of grapefruit and miscellaneous fruits.

ALL AGREE ON ROUTE FOR ROAD

Expected Opposition Does Not Develop in Proposed Building of Highway

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 10.—Removing the controversy which has been considered one of the probable cardinal obstacles to selection of the route of the $500,000 mountain-to-desert down the east slope of the San Jacinto Mountains, the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce today filed with the Board of Supervisors a resolution indorsing the Pinyon Flats and Dead Indian Canyon way in preference to the route down Palm Canyon.

Action by the Palm Springs chamber places all interests of the Coachella Valley solidly behind the Pinyon Flats route and, barring a too great discrepancy in the cost of the possible two routes, is believed to forecast eventual selection by the Supervisors of the course through the flats country. The resolution, which was forwarded to Secretary J. B. Reimer of the Board of Supervisors, by Margaret Seburn, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was adopted at a meeting on the 3rd inst.

Since the board last year definitely decided to construct the mountain-to-desert road with prison labor, a controversy over which of the two routes would be chosen by the Supervisors apparently has been brewing. Coachella Valley went on record solidly behind the Pinyon Flats route in petitions, bearing the names of approximately 1000 residents and signatures of practically all the valley organizations, and while Palm Springs had taken no definite action, it was believed organizations there would advocate construction of the road down the scenic, world-famous canyon with its unique natural planting of palms.

It is understood the Palm Springs decision favoring the Pinyon Flats route was prompted by a desire to keep the Palm Canyon in its present primitive state. A road down through the huge gulch, it was pointed out by persons earlier, would jeopardize the palms and perhaps disfigure the natural wonder spot, lessening its present world-wide drawing power.

ACCIDENT PREVENTS AUTOMOBILE TRAGEDY

UPLAND, Feb. 10.—While scores of men and women bent on a week-end outing in San Antonio Canyon looked on aghast an automobile bearing two youths roared down the canyon road and headed for the sharp curve and cliff over which an uncontrolled car leaped last week and carried five boys to death.

Edward C. Tyler, 1123 North Avenue 56, Los Angeles, was driver of the car, according to canyon officials.

Brakes on the car burned out as the auto dashed wildly down the road. The driver sought to stop it by throwing it into reverse, but this mechanism was torn out by the onrush of the car.

In swinging around the death curve one wheel on the car snapped off and caused the automobile to skid eighty feet to the brink of the precipice, where it stopped. The boys in the car were said to be 16 years of age.

JUDGES AT WORK AT SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10.—Harold C. Chamber of Los Angeles, president of the Southern California chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and Charles H. Cheney of Palos Verdes, architect and city planner, who has served on many architectural juries, Saturday made a survey of the city with Philip H. Staats of the Connecticut chapter of the institute and John M. Gamble, local artist.

The four are the judges who will make the awards in the survey to determine the best examples in civic and commercial architecture erected here in 1928 and 1929. The awards will be announced within the next ten days. The visiting architects were entertained at a luncheon in El Paso yesterday at noon by members of the planning committee of the Community Arts Association. They left for home last evening.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CHINO NURSERYMAN

CHINO, Feb. 10.—Funeral services were held here today for Benjamin F. Hoag, 72 years of age, who for the past thirty years had been engaged in the nursery business in Chino Valley. Mr. Hoag came to California from the East forty-nine years ago. He was known throughout the district as "Uncle Ben." Surviving Mr. Hoag are his widow, Hannah Hoag; two sons, Ira of Ontario and Harry F. of Los Angeles; one brother, Elisha W. Hoag of Chino, and three sisters, Mrs. L. C. Noble and Miss Eleanor Hoag of Chicago and Mrs. August Ehlers of Pama, Ill.

DAMAGE AWARD TO BE USED IN BUSINESS

REDLANDS, Feb. 10.—Rush P. Mott, proprietor of a cyclery store on East Citrus avenue, plans to use the damage award he was given by a jury in the Superior Court Saturday to enlarge his business. Mott was awarded $27,430 for the loss of a left leg in an automobile accident in San Bernardino in May, 1929. The defendants were Smart & Final Company of San Bernardino.

AIR SIGN FOR ARCADIA

ARCADIA, Feb. 10. — To clearly designate Arcadia to travelers in the air, the City Council has appropriated $50 for the painting of a large white sign on the roof of the hangars in Ross Field, according to City Clerk Meade.

The Arcadia sign will be electrically illuminated, Meade said.

HEADS NEW MILITIA UNIT

Capt. Jack Harris

MONROVIA, Feb. 10.—With fifty-two men already recruited, complete organization of Rifle Company, One Hundred and Eighty-fifth Infantry of National Guard, will be made final tomorrow night, according to Capt. Jack Harris, where the last meeting for enlistment will be held and the company will be organized with a personnel of sixty-two men and three officers with headquarters in Pasadena. Maj. William Jackson of Pasadena, has been appointed Battalion commander, and the appointment to form a rifle company here was indorsed by Gen. Walter P. Story, commander of National Guards of the Ninth Corps Area.

The area of the newly formed company includes in addition to Monrovia, Sierra Madre, Azusa, Arcadia and El Monte.

Capt. Harris, who was commander of Monrovia Post, No. 44, American Legion, in 1928, received the honorary appointment as captain of the company due to his exceptional record in the army. He joined the army in 1909 and first served on the Mexican border and later in the Hawaiian Islands. He was a commissioned officer in 1918, when he received his rank of captain of the Seventh Calvary, and was released from active service in 1923.

Lincoln Day to be Observed

GARDENA, Feb. 10.—Lincoln Day exercises have been arranged by President A. C. Stevens of the Spanish-American Institute here to take place at the institute in an all-day service on Wednesday. Observation of Lincoln Day is an annual event at the school and will this year be marked by a much more elaborate program. A tent seating 500 persons has been erected on the grounds and speakers will include Mayor Porter of Los Angeles, Dr. A. Ray Moore, president of the board of directors; Dr. E. E. Merrill, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Long Beach, and Dr. Merle N. Smith of the First M. E. Church of Pasadena. Others scheduled to be present include Jose Quinones, Mexican Vice-Consul; Judge Raymond I. Turney and Dr. V. M. Combs, superintendent of Mexican missions.

Work of the institute, which is conducted by the Methodist Church, will be on display to visitors and a luncheon will be served at noon. Civic organizations and service clubs of the district are co-operating with President Stevens in presenting the entertainment and exercises.

LUCKEY NEW HEAD OF AZUSA CHAMBER

AZUSA, Feb. 10.—R. B. Luckey, prominent business man, is the newly elected president of the Azusa Chamber of Commerce, according to announcement made by S. E. Skidmore, who was again appointed as secretary of the organization.

Judge J. O. Durrell was elected as vice-president; E. H. Philso, local banker, treasurer, and the following new directors: Morgan J. Pierce, O. M. Campbell, Floyd Arnold, Roger Dalton, Morris Jones, J. P. Hurley and Frank Chinn.

Luckey succeeds City Attorney P. J. Tscharner. A complete outline of activities for the coming year will be made by the chamber at a "get-together" banquet and session to be held in March.

LOS ANGELES DIDN'T COUNT

Old Atlas on Display at Santa Barbara is of Much Interest

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10. In 1829 there were only three cities on the California coast, according to an old school atlas just received by Louis P. Thatcher at his old book store with a consignment. The atlas, apparently published in New York for Connecticut State schools in 1829, shows on the California coast Santa Barbara, San Diego and Port San Francisco, and that is all. Los Angeles is not in sight.

Another map in the old atlas fails to show any city or port on the Pacific Coast of what was then Mexico, but shows Santa Cruz and Santa Rosa islands, omitting Anacapa and San Miguel islands, and placing Catalina right close to the south end of Santa Cruz.

NEGRO KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Five Hurt in Sunday Traffic in Bay District

Autoist Arrested Following Crash Near Beach

Officers Charge Driver of Car Was Intoxicated

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 10.—One fatality was included in the week-end list of traffic accidents in the Santa Monica Bay district, according to police reports. Jim Stewart, 32 years of age, negro janitor of the Santa Monica Outlook, died late last night after he had been thrown from the driver's seat into the rear of his car at Fourth street and the Pacific Electric Airline tracks. In attempting to avoid another machine he threw his own car into a skid, hurling it on to its side. He was extricated from the wreckage by passing motorists and rushed to the Santa Monica Hospital, where he died later. He leaves his widow, Martha Stewart; a son, Freeman, 9; his parents in Fulton, Ark., and a brother, S. E. Stewart of Fort Wayne, Ind. An inquest will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at the Todd & Leslie mortuary.

Elsa Swanson, 12239 Folkirk Lane, and Louis Ramirez of 1665 Eleventh street, sustained severe bruises when their cars collided last night on Wilshire Boulevard and Twentieth street, police here reported. Eduardo Ruelas of 1665 Ninth street, a passenger in Ramirez's car, received a cut head.

L. C. Carroll, 1328 Eighteenth street, was knocked down when he assertedly walked into the path of a car driven by Robert E. Goldsworthy, 423 Hill street, on Pier Avenue. Carroll was taken to St. Catherine's Hospital with a badly cut head. Jesus Bautesta was struck at Euclid and Pico after the car in which he was riding struck another machine and turned over, according to another report. He was charged with intoxication. A companion was reported to have escaped with a bottle tucked beneath his coat.

Illness Fatal to Altadena Man

ALTADENA, Feb. 10.—Funeral services will be announced tomorrow for John Jacob Mansar, wealthy retired flour exporter who died last night at the Pasadena Hospital following a short illness.

For the last twenty-seven years, Mr. Mansar had resided at 312 Mariposa street. He was vice-president and one of the organizers of the Rubio Land and Water Company, and served a term as president of the Altadena Improvement Association.

Born in Mannheim, Germany, seventy-three years ago, he was a descendant of the French Huguenots. He came to the United States in 1880 and secured employment with the firm of Peterson Brothers, Chicago flour exporters, and eventually became senior partner in the firm.

In 1903 Mr. Mansar retired and settled in this community, where he took an active part in developing the local water supply.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Helen W. Mansar, and two daughters, Mrs. Louise Mansar Parsons and Miss Constance Mansar.

AMBASSADOR BLISS HOME FROM ARGENTINA

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10.—Roberts Woods Bliss, United States Ambassador to Argentina, said on his arrival yesterday that "South America now holds the most friendly relationship in history with the United States." Ambassador Bliss came to Santa Barbara with Mrs. Bliss to visit his father, William H. Bliss. They disembarked at San Diego and motored here. A long drought in Argentina, the Ambassador reported, especially in the linseed-growing belt, has cut production considerably. Otherwise, he said, the country is prospering.

Butler Hallahan, an attache of the United States Embassy at Buenos Aires, arrived in San Diego with the Ambassador. The Ambassador will be here for two weeks. From here he will proceed to Washington for conferences before returning to his post.

HORSEBACK TOUR OF MEXICO PLANNED

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 10.—Having planned a horseback tour of Mexico, Clair L. Barton of this city and Charles H. Davis of Pasadena are leaving Wednesday for Nogales, Sonora, Mex., both to make this trip to that city by train. There they will purchase their pack horses and camping outfits and will then follow the western coast of Mexico in the beginning of their journey and expect to reach Mexico City in about three months. The young men will carry credentials from city officials of Huntington Park and Pasadena and also from the Otis Art Institute of Los Angeles, of which they are students.

DENSE FOG FORCES AVIATOR DOWN

ONTARIO, Feb. 10.—Running into an impenetrable bank of fog just west of Ontario early today the Salt Lake-to-Los Angeles mail plane "sat down" on the Ontario Airport and transferred its cargo of mail to a truck that swished it into the Los Angeles postoffice.

The ship was piloted by Fred Kelly for Western Air Express. Another plane was compelled to rest at the Ontario Airport while the fog belt at the Los Angeles county line west of here raised. The ship was piloted by Pilot Byron Erkenbrecher, Jr., of Los Angeles, returning to Los Angeles from Palm Springs.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE [illegible] OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

More was in the letter—words that made Meriem's heart beat faster and a happy flush mount her cheeks. But when next evening she arrived at the trysting place she was astonished to find not Baynes but two other riders. She drew back startled as she saw one was Hanson. "Mr. Baynes had an accident. His horse fell on him, so he sent me to meet you and bring you to camp." In the darkness Meriem could not see the fellow's gloating triumphant expression.

Troubled by this unexpected turn of events, Meriem followed Hanson. All night they rode. The girl did not know where the camp lay. Hanson had brought well-filled saddle bags. They halted for breakfast and again rode on. Meriem finally became suspicious. Gradually the attitude of this fellow was changing. Often she surprised him devouring her with his eyes. Steadily an idea urged itself on her—somewhere, sometime before she had known this man.

At last they broke out of the jungle and upon the opposite river bank Meriem saw a camp. "Here we are," said Hanson. He fired his revolver and native boys came to paddle them across. When she asked for Baynes, Hanson pointed toward the single tent standing in the center of the inclosure. "He's in there," he said and held back the flap for Meriem to enter. As she did so she saw the tent was empty.

"Where is Mr. Baynes?" she demanded. "He ain't here," replied Hanson, grinning. "But I'm here and I'm a better man than he is. You don't need him no more. You got me." He laughed as he reached for her. Meriem struggled to free herself. As she fought there came a sudden recollection of a similar scene and with it full recognition of her assailant. He was Malbihn the Swede! But today there would be no Bwana to rescue her.
